AMERICAN CITIZEN IS KILLED ON DIVER PREY

Dutch Steamer Batavier V Blown Up on Way to London and Four Are Believed to Be Dead

AUSTRIANS CHARGE FRENCH WITH CRIME

Note to Neutral Powers Asserts Dubrovnik Sunk Unwarned With Loss of Passengers

LONDON, May 17.—The American embassy was informed today that Luigi Martini Mancini, an American citizen, was drowned when the steamship Batavier V was blown up.

Two other American citizens who were on board the steamship were saved.

Mancini, a wireless expert, was from Rosewell, N. M.

The Dutch steamer Batavier V was blown up on Tuesday while en route to London from Rotterdam. Four are understood to be dead.

ROSEWELL, N. M., May 17.—Luigi Martini Mancini, who was drowned when the steamer Batavier V was sunk, for many years was an instructor at the New Mexicon Military Institute here. He went to London and Naples in 1912 in the employ of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. He was the younger son of a titled Italian family and was naturalized here.

THIRTY MISSING.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The Norwegian steamship Falkland from London, reported today that on May 2 she picked up four men from the French barkentine Bernadotte. The barkentine had been sunk on May 1 by gunfire from a German submarine. Thirty other members of the crew are missing. The Bernardotte is believed to have been sunk near the French coast.

BERLIN, May 17.—According to the Austro-Hungarian note sent to neutral powers regarding the sinking of the Austrian steamer Dubrovnik and other Austrian vessels, the Dubrovnik had nineteen passengers on board, including several women and children. Three bodies of women were recovered and four members of the crew and four passengers are missing.

GOVERNMENT NOTE.

The Overseas News Agency in its summary of the Austrian note says: "A despatch from Vienna states that the Austro-Hungarian government has delivered a note to the representatives of neutral powers stating that on May 9 the Austro-Hungarian passenger steamer Dubrovnik was destroyed in the Adriatic by two torpedoes fired without warning by an enemy submarine. The first torpedo hit the starboard side and the ship immediately began sinking.

"All on board rushed to the life boats. Then a second torpedo struck the ship, crushing the starboard lifeboat with those in it. It was possible to rescue sixteen passengers in a second boat. Two additional persons were picked up from the water and some were rescued by boats from the shore.

"On board the ship were nineteen passengers, among whom were two clergymen and several women and children. Up to this time three bodies of women have been recovered. Four sailors and four passengers are missing.

HAD NO MUNITIONS.

"The Steffani Agency on May 10 stated that a French submarine torpedoed the Dubrovnik, which was a transport and carried ammunition. This statement is a flat invention. The capacity of the Dubrovnik was 480 tons and she therefore was not able to carry troops nor ammunition. Besides this, the distance of the submerged submarine from her was so great that it was impossible for it to discount the class of persons carried by the steamer.

"The Austro-Hungarian government states that the firing of the second torpedo against the sinking steamer and the life-boats which were afloat must be qualified 'as international murder.' The Austro-Hungarian government holds the Italian government equally responsible with the French government since the French submarine was operating with the Italian forces."

SEA FIGHT WAGED.

LONDON, May17.—British destroyers and monitors engaged German destroyers in a short, fight off the Belgian coast yesterday, the Admiralty announced today. The Germans withdrew. There were no British losses.

PARIS, May 17.—German attempts to drive forward their lines northwest of Verdun, near Deadman's Hill, by a grenade assault, failed, the official communique said today.

Art Smith Has Withdrawn Suit

Aviator Would Amend Complaint

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The sensational divorce suit, filed by Art Smith, the aviator, against his wife, Aimee Smith, just before he left for Japan, was withdrawn today by Smith's attorneys. Harry Schaeffer, one of his lawyers, some time ago declared that the complaint was irregular, and on this ground, it was intimated, the suit was withdrawn. According to the attorneys it does not mean a reconciliation, but probably an amended complaint alleging an affinity.

First Venire Gives Orpet Three Jurors

WAUKEGAN, Ills., May 17.—Selection of a jury in the trial of Will Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, Lake Forest High School girl, continued today. Three tentative jurors have been selected from the first venire of 135 and a new venire was called today.

The most important developments in the case since it went to trial occurred yesterday when Orpet's attorneys announced their client would testify in his own behalf. Orpet was the only witness to the death of the girl, all other evidence to be considered being circumstantial. His story is considered as one of the greatest importance to the defense.

State's attorney, R. M. Dady, announced yesterday that Miss Celeste Yonker, the school teacher to whom Orpet said he was engaged, will appear as a state's witness.

French Nation May Honor Jules Cambon

PARIS, April 17.—Elections to fill vacancies in the French Academy have been adjourned until after the war, names are being discussed for the empty seats. Conspicuous among them is that of Jules Cambon, former Ambassador to Washington who was Ambassador to Berlin when war broke out, and is now aide to M. Briand at the Foreign Office. He is mentioned for the seat of the late Francis Charmes, who was director of the Revue des deu mondes.

Joseph Reinach, who was prominently identified with the campaign in favor of the revision of the Dreyfuss case, is proposed for the seat of the late Paul Hervieu. Other probable candidates are Arthur Chuquet of the Institute, for the seat of the late Alfred Mezieres and Maitre Charles Chenu, former head of the order of avocats and counsel for the Caimette heirs in the Caillaux case, for the seat of Jules Lemaitre.

Central Powers Do Not Lack Medical Supplies

VIENNA, May 17.—Surgeon General Hochenegg, commenting in the Neue Freie Presse on the report of ex-President Taft's effort to secure permission for the export from the United States of medical supplies to the central powers, says that thus far there is no lack of such supplies, nor can there be talk of a threatened shortage. He declares that there are even special supplies on hand.

"An effective protest against hindering American exports," he adds, "could be of value only in view of the possible long duration of the war. From this point of view, we are interested in the success of Mr. Taft's humanitarian endeavors."

Villa Commander Arrested as Vagrant

EL PASO, Tex., May 17.—Juan N. Medina, former mayor of Juarez and later Villa commander at Torreon, was arrested here late last night on the technical charge of vagrancy. Medina admits having recently returned from Japan, but denies his mission there was to solicit aid for the Villa cause. He says he withdrew from the Villa army after the battle of Agua Prieta last December. According to the police, Medina will be released and sent away from the border.

Rockefeller May Talk as Baptist Delegate

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 17. — John D. Rockefeller was expected to be among the 3000 delegates for the International Baptist convention, which opened an eight-day session here today. Dr. Schaller Mathews, Chicago, and Dr. W. C. Bitting, St. Louis, officers of the convention, were early arrivals.

Possible consolidation of the publication society and the home mission society of the church loomed up today as a possibility. This subject was discussed at Los Angeles.

Austrian Aircraft Bombard Venice

VENICE, May 17.—Austrian aeroplanes raided Venice and Mestre last night, but the Italian batteries shelled them so hotly that they were forced to keep at a great height, and the bombs they dropped had little effect. There were no casualties in Venice, but two persons were killed and several injured in Mestre. The material damage was slight.

Baum Suspends "Rowdy" Elliott

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Harold ("Rowdy") Elliott, manager of the Oakland Pacific Coast League team, was notified today that he was suspended indefinitely for an attack on Umpire Jack Doyle in the ninth inning of the game with Vernon yesterday. The suspension came in a message from A. T. Baum of San Francisco, president of the League.

LONDON, May 17.—The coalition government won a sweeping victory in a bye-election today, W. F. Hicks Beach, a Unionist, who was supported by the Liberals was elected from Tewkesbury by a majority of 5639 over William Boosey, independent.

GERTRUDE LAMSON TO DISAPPEAR

To Lead New Life Under New Name; Plans Secret

Slaughter Immediately to Start Serving Sentence

CHICO, May 17.—Rev. Madison Slaughter's case having closed, Gertrude Lamson, 16, the girl whose story sent the minister to prison for fifteen years, is to disappear. Her identity will be lost, according to her friends today, and she will grow to womanhood under another name, with her character unsullied.

The Chico Elks will not adopt her, as was stated several weeks ago. Scores of letters have been received from all over the state from reputable and wealthy women asking to adopt the girl. Officers plan to keep her final home a close secret.

Rev. Madison Slaughter will ask the court to dismiss the writ of probable cause for appeal filed by Defense Counsel Schooler, so he may start serving his fifteen-year sentence immediately, according to Sheriff Riddle this afternoon. Riddle asserted that Slaughter wishes to go to San Quentin at once, where he must serve his term for attacking Gertrude Lamson, 15.

WILL APPEAL.

The writ of probable cause must be dismissed before the minister can begin serving his sentence.

This does not mean that Slaughter will not appeal the case and fight for a new trial. On the contrary, Attorney Schooler is busy at present preparing his papers and getting ready to argue the case in the Appellate Court. This dismissal of the writ is merely a technical step.

Having advised Rev. Madison Slaughter to begin serving his fifteen-year sentence for attacking Gertrude Lamson, 15, Defense Counsel W. H. Schooler today began preparing data upon which he will base his demand for a new trial. The next fight will be staged in the Court of Appeals.

"The dismissal of the writ of probable cause for appeal which Slaughter has requested does not mean that we will not continue to seek another trial," declared Schooler. "That is a technical step. Slaughter intended to go to San Quentin next week, but he may go earlier, as he will be serving his time every moment he is in the penitentiary, but time spent in the county jail does not count."

CLAIM JUDICIAL ERROR.

The new trial demand will be based on allegations of judicial error and on the claim that the newspaper and public opinion was so strong against Slaughter that he could not get a fair trial.

"I don't see how the judge could have given him anything less," said Gertrude Lamson, the girl on whose word the pastor was convicted, when she heard of the sentence.

A new pastor for Slaughter's church will probably be found soon. Gertrude Lamson is still in charge of the county, although several women have offered her a home. It is possible that she may return to the home of her parents, although they have said that she is a liar and that her story against Slaughter is false.

Burke Sanitarium Stock Sale Stopped

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—Pending a readjustment of the affairs of the Burke corporation, which is operating a sanitarium near Santa Rosa, the corporation commissioner today revoked a permit for the sale of the company's stock.

Dr. W. P. Burke, who was mainly interested in the corporation, was only recently pardoned from state prison, and while he was serving his sentence the affairs of the company became muddled.

One of the reasons given by the corporation commissioner for revoking the permit is that the value of the property was misrepresented to the commissioner, having been "padded."

Austrian Attack Wins New Success

BERLIN, May 17.—The new offensive move of the Austrians on the Italian front is continuing successfully and a number of other positions have been captured an official statement from Vienna says. More than six thousand men, fourteen cannon and seventeen machine guns have been taken.

ARREST HERE MAY BREAK COIN RING

Police Raid Shop of E. C. Stein; Claim to Have Evidence

Oakland Man Faces a Charge of Being Counterfeiter

The arrest of Charles Edwards, alias E. C. Stein, Oakland motorcycle repair expert, as a counterfeiter, following a raid on his place of business in this city, where molds and counterfeiting paraphernalia were found, may lead, according to the police, to the uncovering of a ring engaged in wholesale counterfeiting operations. Shortly after the Stein shop at 2064 Broadway had been raided by the police and federal authorities, Nick Gromow, alias Bob Berner, was arrested in San Francisco. The secret service agents found, they say, molds, $52 in bogus coin and other apparatus in his possession.

The Oakland plant was discovered by Secret Service Operative Harry Moffitt at 2064 Broadway. Moffitt sought the aid of the local police in making the arrest and Inspector George Powers and Sergeant Jack Sherry were detailed to assist him.

CLAIMS EVIDENCE.

Moffitt found Stein working over his moulds when he broke into the room occupied by the alleged counterfeiter. He had 24 counterfeit dollars in his possession.

Stein is more than 50 years of age, and has gray hair. He appeared to be a man who had spent many years of hardship. He had a small but complete laboratory in his room. The apparatus was neatly arranged, and could be quickly packed into his trunk, which was kept in the room.

TAKE APPARATUS.

The counterfeiting paraphernalia was taken by Moffitt to San Francisco, where it will be kept as evidence until the case comes before the federal courts.

Stein, according to the police, had served a sentence from Los Angeles and was also arrested once in Denver. The man arrested in San Francisco was also arrested before in Los Angeles. Stein has been taken to San Francisco, where he will be held pending an investigation, and an effort is being made at the present time to ascertain through which agencies, if any, he passed his coins.

Schmitz Threatened With Loss of Home

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Former Mayor Eugene Schmitz, head of the recent recall movement and mayoralty opponent of James Rolph Jr., in the last campaign is today threatened [illegible] home at 2501 Vallejo street unless he is able to raise $18,000 by tomorrow noon.

The $30,000 Vallejo street mansion will be sold tomorrow in front of the city hall to satisfy the claims of W. B. Waldron, a creditor of Schmitz and the German Savings and Loan Society who hold a note for $12,000.

In 1906 following the fire, Schmitz erected the Vallejo street residence. Five years later he took out a loan with the German Savings and Loan Society, subsequently realizing $4000 from a deed of trust executed with Waldron. During the past year he has failed to pay interest which has accumulated to $2000.

Schmitz was offered in the last campaign $20,000 for his home. If the creditors realize over the $18,000 due on the notes, another claim will be interposed by the estate of Charles Fairall, the attorney who died in Los Angeles while defending David Caplan, for $4000 attorneys fees.

2000 Carranzistas Reach Chihuahua City

EL PASO, May 17.—Two thousand Carranzista troops have arrived at Chihuahua City as part of the Mexican detachment promised General Hugh Scott by General Alvaro Obregon for use in the hunt for bandits on the southern side of the international border, it was learned here today.

General Gavira said that a total of 15,000 de facto government troops were en route.

U. C. Graduates Say Farewell

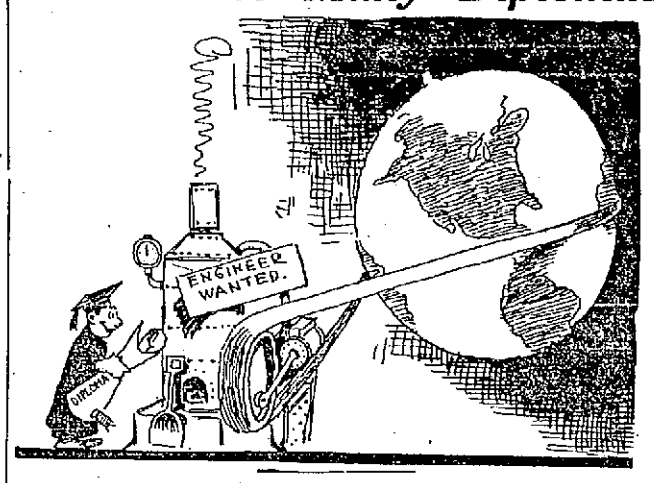
State Gives Many Diplomas



BERKELEY, May 17.—Upon one thousand and eighty students the University of California this morning conferred degrees at the fifty-third commencement exercises in the Greek theater. Nine thousand people attended the exercises. They differed from any previous program in several details, chief among which was the emphasis laid in the majority of the addresses upon the need for national preparedness for war. A woman, Miss Kathleen Harnett of Long Beach, once more proved the ability of her sex by winning the university medal, the highest award of the regents, for undergraduate scholarship. Miss Harnett is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Kappa Alpha honor societies. The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred by the university upon Professor James Ford Rhodes of Boston, Mass., one of the leading American historians, and upon John Maxson Stillman, professor of chemistry and vice-president of Stanford University.

PREPAREDNESS NOTE.

The arguments in favor of preparedness reached a pitch in the address of Lieutenant Hugh Samuel Johnson, U. S. A.

"We have not had a new idea for our army since 1789," he declared. "It is not the expense that condemns our system, but the stupid waste. European nations rely upon their citizen armies as we suppose that we do. But their citizen armies are realities and ours is only a myth.

Governor Hiram Johnson, in conferring the military commissions upon officers of the University Cadets continued this theme. He said:

"I congratulate you upon your preparedness not only for California but also for your country. In your training none of you have lost any of his manhood, any of his love for democracy, or any worthiness for the duties of life."

President Wheeler took occasion to devote a large portion of his commencement address to a eulogy of the late John M. Eshleman. In sincere tones he referred the members of the graduating class to Eshleman's life for inspiration and example. In part he said:

"I want to warn you against the nonsense of having your relatives choose your future. There have been enough silly aunts who have sent their beloved nephews into the Christian ministry. Your training has been broad and varied. You should have derived from student affairs much education and culture. The separateness of fraternities is rather odious, but you should have found a social value in that in learning to live together. When you go out to your jobs, do a little bit more than your contract calls for. Cling to optimism. Leave no place in the world for the cynic, the puncturer of happiness. Remember that God is in His world. Remember that human beings respond to sympathy. Most of what I have told you I have drawn from my memory of the life of John Eshleman. I send you to that life for further and fuller explanation. He was a man not afraid to cling to the highest ideals."

PROCESSION.

SMITH CONFERS WITH DAVIE ON WHARF LEASE

The proposal of F. M. Smith to lease 385 acres of city land fronting on the Key Route basin for ninety-nine years and to expend $5,000,000 within the next six years in docks, wharves, dredging, filling and warehouse structures was the subject of a conference between the commissioners and Smith in Mayor Davie's chambers this afternoon.

Immediately following the conference Mayor Davie and Commissioner H. S. Anderson took Captain J. H. Thompson of Belfast on a tour of the waterfront. Thompson announced that he represented Irish and British capital ready to invest $5,000,000 in the construction of a big shipyard to construct ocean liners and merchantmen.

The famous "white meat" between the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific moles was shown Captain Thompson as the finest ship-building site on the Pacific Coast. It is located practically on deep water, with opportunity for the erection of shipways, drydocks and other shipbuilding facilities. This is recognized as the choicest section of the Oakland waterfront for such a purpose.

Captain Thompson told Mayor Davie that he has been engaged for several weeks in an inspection of ship-building sites in cities from Vancouver to San Francisco. He declared that he was most favorably impressed with the opportunities offered in Oakland.

CONFERENCE WITH MAYOR.

The conference in the mayor's chambers was held to decide whether it would be desirable for the council to advocate the amendment to the city charter by which the twenty-five-year limitation on waterfront leases can be extended to ninety-nine years. The commissioners also asked Smith whether he would consider a fifty-year lease in place of the ninety-nine year lease for which he is asking.

It was learned today that with Smith is associated Rufus P. Jennings of the California Development Company and a well known promoter of large business enterprises.

The proposal of Smith, the borax magnate, and Jennings, the promoter, concerning the leasing of the Key Route basin lands was more definitely explained to the city commissioners today.

The promoters propose to lease this intervening tideland, fill it in for factory sites, make streets, erect warehouses, and sub-lease and rent the warehouses and lands.

VISIT UNANNOUNCED.

The visit of Captain Thompson was unannounced, and the Belfast shipbuilder made his presence known by an unostentatious visit to Mayor Davie. He was accompanied by a friend.

SIR ROGER IS COMMITTED TO HIGH COURT

LONDON, May 17.—Sir Roger Casement and Daniel Bailey, a soldier, were today committed for trial on charges of high treason at the conclusion of their preliminary hearings in Bow street police court.

Casement and Bailey will go to trial before the high court of justice. If convicted, they probably will be sentenced to death. The Casement defense is still a mystery, as it did not develop during his preliminary hearing. Bailey will attempt to show that he knew nothing of the character of the German expedition to Ireland.

Maps found in possession of Sir Roger Casement support the British contention that plans for the Irish rebellion originated in the German war office, Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon of the British war intelligence department testified in Casement's hearing today.

Sir Roger appeared more calm today. Gordon testified that the maps which were taken were made by Germans. They were not printed in England.

It is generally believed the prisoners will reserve their defense for the higher court, although their lawyers have consistently refused to make any statement as to their intentions.

Zeppelins Useless, Believe Hungarians

ZURICH, Switzerland, May 17—Hungarians disapprove of Germany's Zeppelin campaign. They object to it both on the grounds of humanity and for what they consider its uselessness.

Newspapers received here from the most important cities in Hungary are almost unanimous in deprecating such methods. They do not express themselves as freely as if there were no censorship, but they leave no doubt that the Hungarian people oppose this sort of warfare.

"By striking terror into the people of England," says the Hirlap, commenting on Zeppelin activities, "it is thought the government will suffer, but, as we can now see clearly, the raids do not serve the purpose they were intended for, and only result in the annihilation of civilians."

The Pester Lloyd and the AzUjsag are exceptions. Both are strongly pro-German and express themselves concerning air raiding much as does the Berlin press.

Vienna and Budapest publications speak also of the existence in Hungary of what are known in England as "conscientious objectors" to military service.

They are said to be almost without exception of a religious sect called the Nazarenes. While some English "conscientious objectors" have got off altogether, however, and others have been mustered into "non-combatant corps," most of the Nazarenes are said to be serving terms of twelve years' imprisonment for refusing to join the colors.

SOLDIERS SLAY AND CAPTURE BANDITS

J. Deemer and Monroe Payne Taken Prisoners on Glenn Springs Raid Safe, Says Report

CAPITOL RELIEVED BY DEVELOPMENTS

Mexico City Advices Say Obregon Has Given a Statement Expressing Satisfaction at Status

MARATHON, Tex., May 17.—A truck driver arriving here today from Boquillas said that it was reported on the border that Major Langhorne and two troops of cavalry had surrounded the Big Bend bandit raiders about 125 miles from the border, killing six and capturing seventy-five. Army officers here have made no announcement regarding such an engagement.

MERCEDES, Tex., May 17.—Mexican bandits raided the stock farm of John P. Zwell, south of Mercedes last night, taking, it was reported, several head of stock and a number of saddles. Mexican cowboys on guard at the farm said the men came from south of the Rio Grande.

Military authorities are looking for the raiders. Military telephone lines between here and Donna have been cut several times since Sunday.

MARATHON, Tex., May 17.—United States soldiers have rescued J. Deemer, American storekeeper, captured by Mexican raiders on Glenn Springs and Boquillas, Texas, according to a man named Terry who arrived this morning.

He said the soldiers entered a village 125 miles in Mexico and the bandits rushed out, leaving Deemer and a captive negro named Monroe Payne. Payne and Deemer are being brought back to the United States Terry said.

Their rescue alive was due, it is said, to the refusal of the residents of the village where they had been left to carry out the orders of the bandits to kill them if the American troops attempted their rescue.

The report came from Colonel Frederick Sibley, who received his information from Major Langhorne, now about 100 miles south of the border. A detachment of Major Langhorne's force found the Americans at El Pino, ninety miles south of Boquillas yesterday. The Americans had been left by their captors in charge of the residents there.

Major Langhorne reported to Colonel Sibley that he was pushing forward and hoped to overtake the bandits today. He added that no federal troops had been encountered and the attitude of the residents in the territory through which he had passed appeared friendly.

A scarcity of forage was reported and Colonel Sibley said he was preparing to send forward as rapidly as possible hay and grain for the horses and mules. Colonel Sibley was about forty miles south of the border.

Minister and Chief Discuss Conference

MEXICO CITY, May 17.—General Alvaro Obregon conferred today with Provisional President Carranza and his cabinet, talking over the results of his El Paso conferences with the American military representatives. He also issued a statement to the newspapermen, saying he was satisfied that President Wilson did not contemplate making war on Mexico. Obregon expressed himself as being satisfied that the United States forces would withdraw as soon as the bandit raids stopped.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Mexico and the United States are playing a waiting game today. The working agreement resulting from the conferences between General Scott and General Obregon, covering the task of hunting bandits in Mexico, is believed to obviate the necessity for diplomatic exchanges, unless Carranza is driven by domestic discord to seek a withdrawal of the American forces.

"On both banks of the Meuse artillery activity on each side increased at times to great liveliness. An attack made by the French against the southern slope of Hill 304 broke down under our curtain of fire.

"The aviators on both sides showed great activity. First Lieutenant Immelman brought down his fifteenth enemy airship west of Douai. An English airship met with defeat in a battle near Fournes. Its occupants, two English officers, were captured uninjured.

LONDON, May 17.—Three hundred thousand Germans have been killed and wounded in the fighting around Verdun to date, according to the Paris correspondent of the London Chronicle today. He claimed that these losses precluded all possibility of a serious Teuton offensive against Riga. Only a curtain of Germans, he asserted, was left on the Russian front.

"They have long evaded the destiny which the Germans feel closing in on them," he declared.

LONDON, May 17.—Twenty thousand Turks have been withdrawn from the British front east of Kut-El-Amara today, apparently to meet the Russian advance upon Bagdad. In their haste to stem the new offensive, the Turks are recruiting all native tribesmen. Diplomats believe that Russia, expecting a speedy end to the war, is trying to capture all possible Turkish territory, placing the czar in a position to demand vast areas of territory when peace is made.

Charge Automobile Theft to Captive

George Davis, who was captured in possession of a stolen automobile last night after an exciting chase through the streets, in which a automobile and a motorcycle took part, is being held for investigation by the police. It is believed that Davis may be able to throw light upon the recent theft of a number of automobiles.

Davis was captured in an automobile belonging to Harold W. Rose, a hardware salesman of 3433 Thirty-fifth avenue. Rose had left his machine standing in front of a barber shop to get a shave. He was seated in the barber chair when he saw a man step into his automobile, and drive away.

Collarless and hatless, he rushed into the street. Building Inspector Joseph Lloyd, passing in an automobile saw his plight and took him into the machine. Mervin Dufton, son of Police Inspector Dufton, and Hamilton MacBride, on a motorcycle, also took up the pursuit.

Davis was run down at Nineteenth and Franklin and placed under arrest by Patrolman Seyden. Davis had in his possession a key for an automobile self-starter, an automobile license plate, a loaded revolver and some auto tools.

Canadian Ship Sunk; 3 Americans Aboard

WASHINGTON, May 17. — The American consul at La Rochelle, France, reported today to the State Department that three American citizens were aboard Canadian steamship Eretria which was sunk on Friday, presumably by a mine.

A dispatch from Consul General Skinner at London yesterday said that Lloyd's reports declared the steamer had been torpedoed. Both dispatches agree that the crew was uninjured.

War Shirkers Sent to Jail in England

LONDON, May 17.—"Conscientious objectors" whose objections to military service have been overruled by the military tribunals are having a hard time of it. A score of them left Rhyl, Wales, today for different prisons to undergo varying degrees of punishment, as a result of their courts martial on charges of refusing to obey military orders. Several were sentenced to two years at hard labor.

Hindu Troops in Egypt Reported in Mutiny

BERLIN, May 17.—A mutiny of Hindu troops in Egypt is reported by the Neu Zuricher Zeitung, as quoted by the Overseas News Agency. It is said that during the recent fighting near the Suez canal the Hindus in many cases refused to obey orders, and that fighting took place between the soldiers and Australian officers, causing a large number of casualties.

Tallest Mule in State at Lodi

Harve King Owner of Big Animal

LODI, May 17. — Harve King, Dry Creek rancher living north of this place, has, he thinks, the tallest mule in the State.

The animal measures 19 hands, 2½ inches, or six feet six and three-quarters inches in height.

King secured measurements from the livestock department of the University of California and states his mule was considerably taller than the team that took first prize at the State Fair, although not so heavy.

"This is a sample of an opportunity the city might lose if it allowed any ninety-nine year leases to be made.

"Captain Thompson told me he was not satisfied with Vancouver because there was not sufficient back country and population, and not as good rail facilities. He likes the climate here, making possible work throughout the year.

"Two big ocean liners and a merchantman or two would be the capacity of the ship-building plant which Captain Thompson proposes."

LAD THROWN FROM CART, NEAR DEATH

BROOKS, Yolo Co., May 17. — As the result of injuries sustained yesterday in a runaway, Walter Williams, 12-year-old son of Harry Williams, renter of the Fall ranch, near here, is in a critical condition and may die.

The lad and his brother, Arthur Williams, were thrown from a cart in which they were driving while looking after their father's bees in the hills on the ranch. Arthur was unhurt, but when Walter was picked up, he was bleeding from the nose, both ears and was vomiting blood.

He remained unconscious and Dr. Thornton Craig of Capay, after an examination, declared his skull was fractured, his spine injured, and that internal injuries had also resulted, probably. It was planned to remove him to a hospital, but little hopes were held for his recovery.

The Williams family has been rather unfortunate of late. Arthur, a brother, recently left a hospital after he had been confined there ten weeks with a crushed foot, and Charles, a third brother, had a leg amputated, following an accident.

GRAPE BUYERS IN VALLEY ACTIVE

Napa Men Make Contracts in Lodi; Damage Causes Demand.

LODI, May 17. — Wine grape buyers from Napa Valley are in Lodi making contracts for wine grapes. The recent frost almost entirely destroyed the crop in that section of the State, especially the grapes grown in the low lands.

Last year several shipments of wine grapes were made from this place to Napa, and it is claimed a blended wine made from the Napa and Lodi grapes has proved a winner and is bringing a higher price than the straight Napa wines.

E. Layton was the first buyer to come here from Napa, and he stated other buyers would be here this week to contract for wine grapes. The Napa grape has always sold around $20 to $23 per ton, on account of its extra high percentage of sugar, which reduces the expense of fortifying sweet wines.

GUNS FROM FLEET SHAKE BUILDINGS

(By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.)

FLUSHING, Holland, May 16.—From the deck of the Dutch boat Welhelmina on the North Sea I heard the attack of British naval forces on the German submarine and air base on Zeebrugge.

From various fronts I have heard, at close range, the roars of many guns of all sizes; at the second battle of Ypres, a year ago, it seemed that the clamor of the cannon was the greatest noise that human being could ever produce. But the tumult of the British naval guns which I heard shook air, water and earth.

We were approaching the Dutch coast when the uproar began. The firing was perhaps twenty miles distant. Once or twice when the wind came right we could hear the shriek of shells. It is difficult to put into words how intense the concussions really were, but it seemed to the passengers—and sailors who had been near enough to other noisy sea engagements, told us our belief was correct—that the smoke from the stacks of our boat staggered, hesitated and then vibrated curiously with the air waves which the great guns had sent out.

BUILDINGS SHAKE.

Meanwhile, though we could see none of the fighting from our low deck, there was a group of North Sea pilots in the port of Flushing, which we were approaching who, standing on a high building in that town, saw a flock of British ships near Zeebrugge. The buildings in Flushing were being shaken by vibrations and the windows were broken. These men saw three German boats put out from Zeebrugge, flanking the British boats.

Within a few minutes they saw a high puff of black smoke where the German boats had been, and when the smoke cleared away, there were only two German boats left and they had turned back to Zeebrugge.

When we arrived at Flushing in the late afternoon we saw, along the high shores, crowds of Flushingites, many with telescopes, looking the twenty or more miles across the mouth of the Scheldt toward the engagement, but a haze had settled down; moreover, the sound of firing had ceased. The engagement was over for the day.

AGAIN ROAR.

At 4 o'clock in the morning an earthquake seemed to shake Flushing. The great guns were again going. San Franciscans, on the morning of the quake, couldn't have awakened more suddenly than the residents of Flushing. Picture a terrific thunder storm with yourself up in the clouds in the very heart of the thunder and you have an idea of the impression of the sound of the guns. It was not sound alone that created the effect; it was the concussion of the air which not only shook one's ear drums, but also reached into one's vitals and seemed to shake them. By 8 o'clock in the morning the day's work of the British gunners seemed to be over.

Young Rancher Is Victim of Collision

ROSEVILLE, May 17.—Chester Hines, 23 years of age, who is employed on a ranch near this city, lost four toes as the result of a collision late Saturday night.

Hines was riding a motorcycle on his way to Sacramento. Two miles the other side of the "Twelve-mile House" he ran into an automobile that displayed but one headlight. He was dragged thirty feet.

His feet were caught in the footboard of the motorcycle and the toes, including both big toes, were severed. The occupant of the automobile did not stop to render aid. The number of the machine has been obtained. The motorcycle was wrecked.

Austro-German Prisoners Exchanged

Swedish Red Cross Undertaking Work

Wounded and Maimed Like Stoics

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 17.—Clad in great coats of West Point gray, the first of the hopelessly wounded German and Austrian prisoners of war to come out of Russia this year, passed through Sweden a few days ago in exchange for the helpless and hapless Russians who had been sent home from the German hospital camps. The Austrians and Germans were a more cheerful lot than the stolid, silent Russians and seemed to have a more definite idea of their future life.

"It is nothing," said one young Austrian with his right leg gone and two fearful scars on his face; "I am a jeweler by trade and my hands are as good as ever."

The exchange of wounded prisoners undertaken by the Swedish Red Cross is a gigantic affair. Effective May 16 three trains running weekly in each direction from the Finnish frontier to the southern reaches of the Baltic can handle but comparatively few of the men so hopelessly used up that the warring nations are glad to be rid of them. Some statistician claiming to have knowledge of the situation has declared that with trains running daily all the year round it would take ten years to complete the transport of the human wastrel of war now held in Russia and Germany.

"Oh," he replied, "there must be a million of them."

This prisoner said he had been "all over Russia" and that few war prisoners, either wounded or whole of skin and limb, were permitted to remain in one camp more than a month or two. He was wounded in August last and said he must have been in every hospital camp from Vladivostok to Petrograd.

PLEADS FOR LEG.

There was one young soldier from Prague, Bohemia, who had had a terrible experience. He was in the cavalry and was riding in a charge when a shrapnel shell burst just beneath him. The horse was killed and the rider was wounded twenty-one times. Seven times he was placed on the operating table. He emerged with one leg gone and the other so broken, bent and twisted that, it but little resembled human form.

And yet the man had pleaded with the doctors for that remnant of a limb.

"They wanted to cut it off, too, as well as my right hand, but I heard them talking and I said: 'Please, good Mr. Doctor, don't cut off my other leg and my hand. At last they let me go,' he said.

The hand was scarred in many places but seemed otherwise to be perfectly useful. But in time of war amputation is such an effective and expeditious treatment.

Each man of the 217 on board the train from Russia had his own thrilling story to tell. Each one had tasted the utmost of the bitterness of war and some seemed so badly maimed and mangled that even Death had refused to accept them.

There was one poor fellow moving about the train with sheepskin pads on his knees and both feet gone.

"Me no good any more," he smiled in broken English when he learned that the Associated Press correspondent on board the hospital train was an American.

"And boom, boom, boom, no good, either," he added mimicking the roar of battle. This man had lain wounded for days with his feet in a half frozen stream. When found he was more dead than alive. Up to the time he lost consciousness he said he must have been lying out of doors for six or seven days. All this time he heard the screech and roar of shells passing above his head and occasionally exploding about him. Anyone of them, he said, would have been a welcome end to his agony. But now he was smiling and cheerful on his way "home." He did not know what he could do when he got there, for he had been a horseshoer by trade and a horseshoer without feet is not of much account.

COMPLAIN OF TREATMENT.

Some of the prisoners complained bitterly of their treatment at the hands of the Russians, but the more intelligent of the wounded soldiers declared that while their lots had been hard, they realized the Russians had done all they possibly could under the circumstances. There were the days of exposure on the battlefields which could not be helped, the poor field accommodations for the wounded, who had to be cared for in far greater numbers than anyone had ever anticipated, and the hours of neglect due to the fact that the doctors had more work than they could possibly handle.

One prisoner said he lay on the floor of a house or stable for two days and the only soft thing about him was his own blood. His uniform had been entirely shot away by the explosive which had cost him a leg. Some of the soldiers said they had been robbed by Cossacks as they lay wounded in the field, money and little trinkets of jewelry being ruthlessly snatched from them. It became a custom, the Austrians said, for the wounded to turn their pockets inside out as they lay upon the frozen ground to show they had nothing and thus escape a bayonet prod.

The Swedish doctors in charge of the hospital trains listen to these stories with indulgent smiles. They say undoubtedly there have been cases of great hardship, but the wounded soldier as a rule is very keen for sympathy and talks accordingly.

There were two pitiful cases of tuberculosis on the train. The sands of life were fast running out of the glass for one of these, but he seemed to grow a bit stronger as the train neared Trelleborg, where the prisoners were to be transferred to a German hospital transport.

"It will be so good to get home," he sighed.

"But the poor devil will never get there," said the doctor, for the prisoners coming from Russia are kept outside of Hamburg for a month as a rule to guard against the importation of any infectious disease. They are not taken to Berlin, for it is said here the Germans do not wish wounded men on the streets of the capital.

STAUNCH AND LOYAL.

The other prisoner far along in the relentless grip of consumption had also suffered the loss of a leg. He said he had a wife and three children at home and he did not know how he could provide for them.

The invalid transport trains passing through Sweden do not come to Stockholm and the Swedish people as a whole see very little of the wounded men. The nearest approach to Stockholm is Halsberg, where the men detrain for dinner. As the first train from Russia came into Halsberg the military attache of the Austrian legation in Stockholm was at the station. The train platforms were crowded with soldiers on crutches and with arms torn away. It was pitiful to see the poor cripples straighten up and salute with such hands as they had left when they caught sight of the officer in full uniform.

The attaches and representatives of the German legation distributed cigarettes, cigars, newspapers and German weeklies to the men on the train.

And to each an envelope was handed with especial ceremony. These envelopes were found to contain picture postcards of Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

After dinner there were songs of the Fatherland, sung with lusty German voices. When the singing first began the maimed soldiers came hopping to the song circle as fast as crutches and heavy canes could help them. They gave cheers for the emperors and stood with heads uncovered as they chorused "The Watch on the Rhine."

The Swedish Red Cross has splendidly organized the arduous work of transporting the prisoners between Russia and Germany, and every prisoner who has made the journey across has been warm in his praise of the comforts provided for him. Each train is in charge of the surgeon of the Swedish army and there are especial nurses and orderlies. Each train is provided with an operating room and whenever a serious operation is deemed necessary the train is stopped while it is performed. The governments of Russia and Germany pay for the expense of the transport of the prisoners, the Red Cross handling all the accounts. The journey is a long one and the work of exchange is expensive. It is not so expensive, however, as continuing to care for the helpless prisoners.

Another little baby is to enter this world without clothes in preparation for it. The expectant mother is very poor and has been unable to get the little clothes that every mother loves to prepare for the little stranger. It seems too bad that babies have to come into this world in such extreme poverty, and it is a blessing that they do not realize the existing conditions. For the mother's sake as well as the baby's, lets try and make things as easy for her as possible, and we know that if there is any by which we can do it, it will be in providing her with baby clothes.

The little Fruitvale home is still waiting for a carpenter and his wife to take up the proposition of living there for seven or eight months, free rent and all of the fresh fruit they may use, in return for carpentering work to be done on the house. It certainly is a good proposition to the right parties, and we shall be glad to tell all that we know concerning the place to anyone who may be interested.

What little child about 5 or 6 years old has some outgrown underclothing? We know of a little boy going on six years who needs some badly, and he has no prospects of getting any for a good long while, for his mother has been sick for the last two months, and has not been able to work. His outside clothes are in fairly good condition, but the underclothes are just about gone, so if any of you mothers who have children who have outgrown such articles of apparel, we would be very glad to see that it is given to this little boy.

We know some little girl is happy today, and she has very good reason to be, too, and we think you will agree with us when we tell you the reason.

Yesterday a box was sent to this office marked "for a little girl." In this box was a complete dollie's outfit. There was a tiny little pin cushion full of pins, some needles, a little, tiny pair of scissors, some lace, pieces of silks, and all kinds of scraps of pretty goods and ribbons, and last, but not least, the little dollie itself.

We gave it to a little girl 8 years old who never has known the pleasure of such an outfit, and she was so pleased with it. The needles, scissors and pins are probably being put to good use today, and the little doll which was without a wardrobe yesterday, is no doubt the best dressed doll in the neighborhood today.

Chico Citizens to Plan New High School

CHICO, May 17.—A suggestion of Allison Ware, president of the Chico State Normal School, that the Boards of Education appoint a committee of fifteen representative citizens to investigate and advise the Board of Education with reference to the needs of a new high school, may be acted upon by the trustees at their meeting this evening.

The proposed $50,000 bond election was not called at the meeting of the trustees Saturday evening. City Superintendent of Schools Charles H. Camper read a long statement to the board embodying his recommendations concerning a new school.

There is considerable sentiment for a $100,000 bond issue.

Oakland Man Named to Office by Order

SAN BERNARDINO, May 17.—Joseph C. Brown of Cottonwood was chosen by a unanimous vote here yesterday as grand chancellor of the California Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, by delegates attending the annual conclave of that body. Robert G. Loucks was elected grand vice-chancellor; James R. Sloan, Oakland, master of exchequer; Cornelius Vermuson, Perris, inner guard; George B. Dixson, San Francisco, outer guard.

Candidates were nominated by the members for other offices for which there are contests and the election of these will be held tomorrow. The Pythian Sisters also are expected to select officers.

Representatives of Redding are the only contenders thus far for the 1917 conclave of the grand lodge. Ventura opened the campaign for the meeting in 1918.

NEW ANGLE IS GIVEN TO SCHOOL ROW

Hill and Valley Club Supports President's Stand

Public Meeting Will Be Held by Hayward Voters

HAYWARD, May 17.—Bitter controversy existing between the faction supporting Principal E. N. Mabrey and that upholding School Trustee F. J. Russell in the latter's effort to force Mabrey's resignation was given a new angle when the Hill and Valley Club yesterday repudiated assertions that it had been "taken advantage of" by Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg, its president and a member of the school-board, over the school rumpus.

It had been stated that Mrs. Rosenberg had used her influence in getting the club to adopt a resolution against the criticism of the way in which the grammar school was administered because she wanted Mabrey cleared of allegations against his conduct of affairs.

Not only did the club members exonerate Mrs. Rosenberg of the charge of taking advantage of them this week, but to show their appreciation of her services made her a gift.

DENIES STATEMENT.

"Trustee Russell gave no indication that he wanted to get on the board in order to fight Mr. Mabrey until after his election," declared Mrs. Rosenberg. "His platform before the election was the building of new schools and introduction of manual training and domestic science. To say that his election indicates public feeling against Mr. Mabrey is therefore incorrect. Besides I believe that if Mr. Boam, the defeated candidate, had worked harder in his candidacy he would have been elected over Trustee Russell."

"Mr. Lemos and myself have always thought Mr. Mabrey's management of the school was correct. I believe he fully earns his present salary although Mr. Russell evidently considers it too high. That the principal tried to control the school board is not true, at least during my term of office," continued Mrs. Rosenberg.

Discussing the bond election May 27 to raise $20,000 for an addition to the grammar school Mrs. Rosenberg said there was no truth in the statement given out that the school board opposed the Chamber of Commerce as to what should be done to relieve congestion at the school.

"While the investigating committee of the Chamber of Commerce recommended new ward schools instead of an annex to the school, the Chamber of Commerce so far as I am aware did not pass a resolution favoring the committee's finding, but merely ordered it placed on file. Crosby, one of the members of this committee wanted his name withdrawn. I believe the Chamber of Commerce sustains the school trustees in voting the election."

In connection with the forthcoming school election a public meeting will be held in the grammar school auditorium this evening when prominent educationalists will speak in favor of the bonds.

50 Firemen Are Victims of Fumes

Overcome in Tacoma Drugstore

SPOKANE, May 17.—With one-third of its members lying either at the emergency hospital or at their homes recovering from the effects of acid fumes and smoke, the rest of the fire department worked nearly all night trying to drown out the drugstore basement fire in the seven-story Payton building that during the night caused the collapse of fifty firemen, including Chief A. L. Weeks and half a dozen subordinates.

Twenty lines of hose poured tons of water into the basement and the efforts of the firemen also were directed to preventing unnecessary damage by flooding in other basements in the heart of the business district.

The loss to the Murgittroyd Drug Co. is estimated at $100,000, while the damage to the building is placed at $25,000.

Ten Chinese Killed for Aiding Americans

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 17.—Stories of the slaughter of ten Chinese merchants at San Antonio, Mexico, by persons believed to have been followers of Villa were brought to the border today by returning truck men. According to the stories, the Chinese had been selling supplies to the Americans and were killed immediately after the withdrawal of the American troops.

Mexicans in the district occupied by the Americans have been warned time and again that they would be killed if they dealt with the Americans, and it is believed here that the slaughter was intended as a warning to the native population.

Chicago Stations Put Under Police Guard

CHICAGO, May 17.—Railroad stations and the depots of eight express companies, whose 700 wagon drivers are on a strike, were guarded today by police to prevent another outbreak of violence.

One man was probably fatally injured yesterday and several arrests were made, when the drivers picketed the streets surrounding the depots and express stations and attempted to stop all express deliveries.

THWART JUSTICE, SAYS PROSECUTOR

Caplan Case Miscarriage of Law, Declares Woolwine.

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—David Caplan, whose prosecution for murder in the Los Angeles Times explosion case resulted in a mistrial yesterday, was completing his fifteenth month in custody.

The case was put on the calendar for June 15, immediately after the jury was discharged by Judge Frank R. Willis in the Superior court, and announcement was made that it would be set for speedy trial at that time. The defense predicted the second trial never would be called.

The discharge of the jury yesterday follow seventy-six hours of deliberation with the jurors voting steadily seven to five. The seven were for conviction, according to court officials.

The jury was out, it was said, longer than in any other criminal case in Los Angeles courts. Judge Willis explained his two previous refusals to discharge the jury Monday as due to the desirability of obtaining a verdict if possible because of the expense of the case. The Caplan trial cost the county more than $40,000.

A total of about $309,600 has been spent prosecuting those indicted for the alleged dynamiting of the Times building October 1, 1910, when twenty men were killed, authorities said. The trial of Mathew A. Schmidt, convicted last December, cost $90,000 and that of James B. and John J. McNamara about $179,000.

Y. M. C. A. Solicitors Gathering Funds

Reports brought in at the campaign headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. this morning show the campaign funds in steady growth. Captain Harry L. Kemp's team headed the list this morning, when the figures stood as follows:

Team T, Captain H. L. Kemp, $1110.

Team C, Captain A. E. Carter, $1085.

Team A, Captain R. Robertson, $690.

The campaigners are reminding the people of Oakland of the admirable adaptability of the Y. M. C. A. They explain to those whom they solicit that the Association first recognizes the natural desire of boys and young men for companionship, recreation and play. It then supplies various attractive ways of meeting this natural desire under a healthy moral environment.

Just now the Association has its hands full, encouraging and uplifting young men who are going through deep waters of discouragement and unemployment. Let the community rally to its support as never before.

Followed by Strikers, Ship Returns to Port

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17.—The fishing schooner Liberty, Captain Jacob Engdal, which left Port for the halibut banks, returned several hours later and reported that a launch carrying eleven striking members of the North Pacific Halibut Fishermen's Union, was following the Liberty. Captain Engdal said he feared the strikers would attempt to board his craft because it was manned by non-union men. The men aboard the launch, which moored alongside the Liberty told Captain Ben Lichtenberg of the coast guard cutter Scout they had no intention of interfering with the schoner but intended to follow it to sea to learn whether any union fishermen were taken aboard at other points. Captain Engdal said he would remain in port until tomorrow when the coast guard cutter Scout will escort the Liberty to sea.

Art Smith Recovers; to Fly Again, Plan

TOKIO, May 17, 1:29 a. m.—Arthur Smith, the American aviator who was injured at Osaka several days ago in a riot caused by the people becoming angered over a delayed flight, has recovered, and left Osaka to give an exhibition at Toyama. The newspapers condemn the attack on the American and express the belief that it was due to poor management by the local authorities. They call attention to the cordiality of Smith's reception elsewhere in Japan, notably in the presentation of medals to him by the municipalities of Tokio and Kioto.

Small Girl Victim of Murderer, Declared

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, May 17. — Alice Empey, nine years old, who disappeared after leaving home for Sunday school a month ago, was murdered, according to the testimony of physicians at an inquest held yesterday. The body of the little girl was found yesterday under a heap of driftwood deposited by flood waters.

The physicians found cuts on the body which, they testified, were made by some sharp weapon and could not have been caused by contact with anything in the water. No arrests have been made in connection with the case.

At the time the girl disappeared it was suspected that she had been kidnaped in revenge for the conviction of a man who kidnaped her uncle last year and held him prisoner for ten days.

"Gladiator Night" will be held at the Shriners' club rooms at Sixteenth and Jefferson streets.

Attempts to Steal Wire; Electrocuted

POCATELLO, Idaho, May 17.—Thomas Carr, a junk peddler, was electrocuted last night near here, apparently while trying to cut high tension electric wires for the copper they contained. Campers witnessed the man's death. A hacksaw and belt were found hanging under the wires today when the body was recovered.

CARMAN TO APPEAR.

Ralph Carman, Oakland musician, will be heard in a special program at the First Congregational church of Alameda tomorrow night, when, with B. H. Howard, the church organist, and several singers, he will direct several numbers. Eugene Roland and Talmage Rice will assist in the musical offering of the evening.

Every Woman's Duty

in matters pertaining to the family table is to decide not only what is best for herself, but for the husband and children as well.

Take the table drink, for instance; the housewife may like her tea or coffee. She knows that coffee and tea are harmful to many, but she uses her favorite beverage in moderation, and thinks it doesn't harm her.

But there's John. He's irritable and nervous, perhaps his irritation and sleeplessness may be due to tea or coffee.

Again, almost everybody knows that tea and coffee are especially harmful to the little folks. The next thing, then, is "what to serve as a wholesome table beverage?"

In many families the quick and happy answer is

INSTANT POSTUM

Here is a delicious, "coffee-like" beverage, as hot and savory as high-grade Java coffee, yet pure and free from the drugs, caffeine and tannin, which often disagree with health and comfort.

This pure, delicious food-drink is made instantly by using a level teaspoonful in a cup and adding hot water, also sugar and cream to taste. Everyone can drink all they desire without the slightest chance of harm.

Instant Postum, a real American discovery, is made of prime wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, blended and roasted just like coffee. Its flavour, purity and wonderful goodness have won tremendous favor everywhere.

"There's a Reason"

Grocers everywhere sell Postum.

U. S. TO INSPECT STATE'S CAVALRY

Mexican Situation Cause of First Government Review in Actual Service.

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—In view of the possibility of the State Militia being called for action in Mexico, a federal inspection of the California National Guard four troops of cavalry is scheduled for June 11. This will mark the first government inspection of the cavalry in actual service.

The four troops will take the field fully equipped. They will march ten miles, pitch shelter tents and cook one meal. Colonel Graham will inspect troop D at Los Angeles, Lieutenant Joyce will inspect Troop A at Bakersfield, Major S. W. Kay will inspect Troop C at Salinas and Major Ryan will inspect Troop B at Sacramento.

Major Kay has just returned from a personal inspection of the cavalry. He says each troop is recruited up to good strength and all but four men of the squadron have announced their willingness to volunteer for foreign service if a call comes.

NOT TO LOSE JOBS.

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 17.—A canvass of large corporations which have contributed employes to the call of the National Guard revealed today that the men's position will be held for them until they are mustered out, no matter how long they stay on the border.

Some large mines and oil corporations are keeping the guardsmen employes on their regular payroll during their service at the border.

ENROLLMENTS LARGE.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Recruits sufficient to form five regiments of infantry at war strength have enrolled for the summer military training camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., it was announced today. Enrollment totals 8405.

Officers of the military training camps association say that applications are coming from the south, west of the Mississippi River, Alaska, Panama and Porto Rico.

Aviators and manufacturers of aeroplanes are responding promptly to the invitation of the Aero Club of America to participate in a transcontinental aeroplane trophy and cash prizes aggregating 100,000 on September 2. The club has received promises of 16 entries.

Among the professional aviators who have indicated their intention of entering the competition are Robert G. Fowler, who made the first transcontinental flight in 1911; Oscar A. Brindley of Los Angeles, who won the Marin flying trophy in 1915; Baxter Adams, an exhibition flyer of Hammondsport, N. Y., and L. Jaquith, who claims to have made 2000 flights without an accident.

RIVERSIDE, May 17.—Steps were taken in Riverside last night to form a company of home guards to act as emergency police in case the militia company is called out for service on the border. Many leading business men of the city are enrolling today.

PREPAREDNESS PARADE.

BALTIMORE, May 17.—A big preparedness parade in which employes in virtually every industry in Baltimore will march with the state militia and other uniformed organizations will take place here today. A number of financiers have signified their intention of going on foot with their clerks. "Rookies" from the Chevy Chase Woman's training camp also will be in line.

MAYOR IN CAMP.

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—Clinton G. Brown, mayor of San Antonio, enrolled today for the civilians training camp here June 12 to July 8. Mayor H. D. Lindsley of Dallas and Mayor Tyra of Fort Worth also have enrolled.

Wilson in Control of His Party in Michigan

LANSING, Mich., May 17. — The forces opposed by a faction known as "original Wilson men" were in complete control at the Democratic state convention here today. The only incident which served to make the opening session eventful was a statement from Governor Ferris that he would not be a candidate for a third term. It had been confidently expected he would head the state ticket.

Michigan Democrats Assemble at Lansing

LANSING, Mich., May 17.—With Congressman Frank E. Doremus of Detroit, presiding as temporary chairman, the Democratic state convention assembled this afternoon in Prudden auditorium here. Election of delegates-at-large to the St. Louis convention was the only important business on schedule. They are expected to be all for Wilson.

Chief of Police Healy has decided to stop traffic on the streets surrounding the Coliseum while the convention is in session. All the streets will be newly paved with noiseless material for the occasion.

WILSON REVIEWS TERM OF OFFICE

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Wilson has made public a frank and intimate review of his three years in the White House and his impressions of foreign and domestic problems, delivered confidentially Monday night before Washington correspondents assembled at the National Press Club. He spoke of the difficulties of the presidency and particularly of the motives which have guided his handling of the European situation.

"America," the president said, "is for peace because she loves peace and believes the present war has carried the nations engaged so far that they cannot be held to ordinary standards of responsibility."

"But," he added, "the United States has grown to be one of the great nations of the world and therefore must act more or less from the point of view of the rest of the world."

"If I cannot retain my moral influence over a man except by occasionally knocking him down, if that is the only basis on which he will respect me, then for the sake of his soul I have got to occasionally knock him down."

The president declared he had been kept awake nights considering the European situation because there might come a time when the United States would have to do what I did not desire to do," and "the great burden on my spirits has been that it has been up to me to choose when that time came." He added that he did not conceive that he had been elected president to do as he pleased. "If I were it would have been very much more interesting," he said.

Would Allow Larger Campaign Expenses

WASHINGTON, May 17. — The Owen bill to amend the corrupt practices act was reported today by the Senate elections committee with amendments increasing the disbursements permitted in presidential elections from $250,000 for all political parties to $400,000 for any party, and restricting the total disbursement to $50,000 for any candidate for President and $25,000 for a candidate for vice-president. The bill puts a $5000 limit on expenditures for a candidate for the Senate and $2500 on a candidate for the House.

Individual responsibility would be placed on a candidate by a provision that no money shall be disbursed by any committee except by his consent. Another amendment would make the provisions of the bill apply to individual contributors as well as committees.

The bill would require statement of receipts and disbursements to be filed ten days before and ten days after primary or election. No disbursements would be lawful except those for traveling expenses, subsistence, fees, for placing a candidate's name on the ballot, clerk hire and telephone and telegraph tolls, printing, rent of offices advertising and rent of halls for meetings.

Women to Parade Before Delegates

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—When Democratic delegates leave the Coliseum here after the first day of the national convention, thousands of women with white dresses, yellow parasols and yellow sashes will greet them. The women have timed their preparedness parade for that hour to impress the delegates that women demand preparedness and suffrage planks in the Democratic platform.

According to present prospects there will be no hotel jam during the convention. The California delegation has reserved twenty-six rooms at the American hotel and sixty at the Plaza. Early next week it is expected that the vanguard of the delegations will begin arriving.

Bill Calls for Probe of State Naval Bases

WASHINGTON, May 17. — Congressman Elston has received assurances that the naval appropriation soon to be reported to the House will contain a provision for the appointment of a commission to examine into the matter of a naval base in California. Congressman Elston has a bill pending before the committee for a commission to examine San Francisco bay. It is understood that Congressman Stephens of Los Angeles, a member of the committee on naval affairs, will include Los Angeles harbor in the sites to be investigated. Members of the California delegation feel certain that some point on San Francisco bay will be selected.

Mail Seizures Note for England Finished

WASHINGTON, May 17. — President Wilson's note to Great Britain with regard to seizures of American mail virtually is completed and probably will be sent officially this week. It was stated today. The President is understood to be most anxious to have the communication forwarded before next week and he so advised the State Department.

LODGE DENOUNCES U. S. UNDEFENSE

Southern Attack on Nitrate Plant Delays Conference Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Attacks on the provision for a government nitrate plant, incorporated in the army bill delayed adoption of the conferees' report today in the Senate. Senator Hardwick of Georgia led in the attack, characterizing the provision as dangerous, socialistic and paternal.

The debate was broadened out by Senator Lodge denouncing the reduction in the Senate provision for the size of the regular army.

"With not an American soldier on the Atlantic coast from Maine to Fortress Monroe, today they are taking the coast artillery—and the Pacific coast in the same condition—all to take care of the little trouble in Mexico," said Senator Lodge. "It seems to me actually incredible that either branch of Congress should be willing to put $20,000,000 into a nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals or other place and not be willing to give the country soldiers enough for its immediate defense against troubles so trivial as confront us on the border. I do not believe our conferees could have gotten more. I am thankful for what they did get, but I don't want Senators here to be under the delusion that they have gotten what they should have for their country."

Senator Newlands suggested the advisability for refusing to accept the conference report.

"I am not willing to run the risk of losing what little we have gained in this bill," responded Senator Lodge. "I think it was the original plan of those in the House to do absolutely nothing."

Senator Smith of Michigan declared a report that the War Department had advance information of the raid at Columbus, N. M., and had not taken proper steps to prevent it, should be investigated. Senator Fall agreed that the War Department should be interrogated and said he intended to address the Senate on the subject.

VERMONT GIVES 2 TO 1 FOR HUGHES

MONTPELIER, Vt., May 17.—Justice Hughes had a lead of two to one over Colonel Roosevelt in the early returns today from the state presidential preference primary. Elihu Root and Governor McCall of Massachusetts polled only a scattering vote.

A very active primary campaign was conducted by the supporters of both Justice Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt. Thousands of stickers were printed for each of these two candidates and distributed to the voters for use in inserting their names on the ballot. The great strength polled by Hughes did not surprise his admirers who were conducting the campaign in his behalf, but the Hughes backers expected Colonel Roosevelt to poll a larger vote than he did.

Mexican Mine Decree Is to Be Changed

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Modifications of the Mexican mining decree are under consideration by the Carranza government, according to advices today to the state department. It is not known what form the modification will take. The decree went into effect May 1 and has been the cause of representations by the state department to the de facto government. American mining interests have made objection in many respects.

Will File Recall Paper Tomorrow

Dr. Mabel Anthony will file the necessary supplementary petition for the recall of Commissioner F. F. Jackson tomorrow, according to her statement to City Clerk L. W. Cummings today.

Dr. Anthony made a formal demand upon City Clerk Cummings today to accept some of the certificates which he had rejected on account of irregularities. She asked particularly that the certificates obtained by Rasmus Albertson, who gave his address as a vacant lot and who had been in Agnews asylum, should be accepted.

Cummings refused to revise his list of rejections. He consulted the city attorney and was informed that he had been justified in throwing out the Albertson certificates.

STOWAWAYS SUCCEED.

COPENHAGEN, May 17.—Seven German reservists, including a noncommissioned officer, were stowaways aboard the steamer Atlantis, which has arrived at Aalborg with maize from the United States. The steamer was searched by the British authorities at Kirkwall, but the stowaways were not found. They will be sent to Germany.

U. S. SENATORSHIP CONCEDED TO SOUTH

Political Survey Indicates Candidates Grooming for Test.

California will this year elect a United States Senator to succeed Senator Works, who has announced that he will not seek re-election. Willis H. Booth of Los Angeles has already announced his candidacy. The office is this year generally conceded to the South. Realizing this, Southern Republicans are endeavoring to unite forces. Booth is the only candidate to make an announcement up to the present time. A despatch from Los Angeles, however, conveys the information that Phil Stanton, at present Republican national committeeman from California; but who will be succeeded by Wm. H. Crocker, is endeavoring to induce Judge Walter Bordwell to enter the contest. The former Southern California jurist is a delegate to the Republican national convention and at the recent San Francisco meeting was chosen as chairman. As Bordwell is a personal friend of Stanton his selection as chairman was believed to have been in the interest of harmony and as a compliment to Stanton. That it has not so worked out is indicated by the report that Stanton is circulating petitions to induce Bordwell to enter the senatorial contest.

In addition to a United States Senator eleven Congressmen will be chosen. California is now represented in the House by three Republicans, three Democrats, two Progressives, one Progressive Republican, one Prohibitionist and Billy Kent who is in the congressional directory this year as an Independent. All are candidates for re-election so far as known.

WEST IS OUT.

Among Republican leaders there is a feeling that prospective candidates for Congress should await the result of the Chicago convention before making announcements. An amalgamation of the Republicans and Progressives might, it is believed, materially change the situation regarding congressional contests. A number of candidates have not seen fit to await results at Chicago. T. C. West of Alameda today announced his candidacy for Congress in this district. His announcement is as follows:

"In view of the situation which exists at present in this district, I offer myself as a candidate for Congress this year on a straight Republican ticket, and if elected, will pledge myself to the following platform:

"First, faithful allegiance to the principles of the Republican party.

"Second, to fight for a re-enactment of a Republican tariff, giving protection alike to the laborer, the manufacturer, farmer and fruit growers of California.

"Third, increased appropriations for the betterment of the east bay harbors that will make them the equal of any in the world.

"Fourth, to advocate the location of the proposed American Naval Academy within the limits of the county of Alameda.

"Fifth, to strenuously urge sufficient appropriations for public buildings in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and the other cities of this district."

CROWDED TRAIN.

Applications for reservations on the special train that will carry the California Republican delegates and alternates to Chicago are exceeding the capacity of the train. From present indications all the delegates will attend the convention and probably every alternate. A number of California newspaper representatives will have reservations on the special. Many California Republicans will attend the convention and have made application for accommodations.

Bryan Brothers Not to Go as Delegates

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.—William Jennings Bryan is not going to the Democratic national convention as an alternate from Nebraska nor as a delegate from any other state, according to an announcement made by him today. Neither is Charles W. Bryan, defeated candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Nebraska, planning to run independently or as the candidate of another party. Bryan's statement was made, he explained, "to correct the deliberate and malicious misrepresentations of corporation controlled papers."

To Act on Brandeis Choice Next Week

WASHINGTON, May 17. — The nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the Supreme Court will be acted upon by the Senate judiciary committee next Wednesday. By unanimous consent the committee decided today to vote at that time.

It was determined that the committee should dispose of the nomination and there would be no further discussion. Among Senators generally the majority believe the committee will return the nomination without recommendation and let the Senate decide.

"Man Must Eat," Is Progressive "Policy"

CHICAGO, May 17.—Owing to the hotel rush, the management of the Progressive party today announced that it had arranged to serve lunches in the auditorium hall during the Bull Moose convention. Attendants at the conclave will be dressed in military uniform to emphasize the demand for preparedness planks in the platform.

Friends of Representative James R. Mann have launched his vice-presidential boom and are working hard in behalf of it.

Wilson Presses for Rublee Confirmation

WASHINGTON, May 17. — Administration influences were hard at work in the Senate today to get a reconsideration of the rejection of the nomination of George Rublee to the Federal Trade Commission. Chairman Davies of the commission conferred with Senator Hollis, who led the fight for Rublee and with some of the Democrats who voted against him. Cabinet members also are active. President Wilson is determined to get a confirmation if it is possible.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION.

"I will cheerfully say that Chamberlain's Tablets are the most satisfactory remedy for stomach troubles and constipation that I have sold in thirty-four years' drug store service," writes S. H. Murphy, druggist, Wellsburg, N. Y. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

Wilson Answers Pope's Message

Reply Expresses Strong Desire for Peace

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Wilson has replied to the message sent him recently by Pope Benedict in which the Pope expressed the earnest hope that war between the United States and Germany would not be precipitated by the submarine issue, and conveyed the impression that he hoped the United States might be of assistance ultimately in restoring peace to Europe. The reply of the President as conveyed through Monsignor Bonzano, the apostolic delegate here, who delivered the Pope's message to the White House.

The President's communication, it is learned, joined the Pope in strongly desiring that the United States should not be plunged into war and that it should maintain its neutrality to aid in a readjustment at the end of the conflict. President Wilson discussed the letter with Secretary Lansing prior to sending the reply. It is understood that the Pope urged the United States not to go into war with Germany.

White House officials refused to discuss the Pope's message or the reply of the President, but in other quarters it was indicated the exchange of messages had only remotely to do with the question of peace in Europe. Neither message will be made public.

At the White House it was said nothing was known of the mission to this country of Secretary Grew of the American embassy in Berlin, who is now on his way to the United States. It has been suggested that possibly he might be bringing a message from Emperor William to President Wilson.

PENROSE WINNER OVER BRUMBAUGH

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—Interest in the first presidential preference primary election in Pennsylvania was overshadowed by the contest for the leadership of the Republican party in the state, which United States Senator Boies Penrose apparently was victorious over Governor Brumbaugh after one of the bitterest fights in the history of the organization. The fight centered on the office of auditor general and the returns early today indicated the nomination of State Senator Charles A. Snyder, representative of the Penrose element, over Charles A. Ambler, standard-bearer of the Brumbaugh forces, by a comfortable margin.

In the fight for the election of twelve delegates at large to the Republican National Convention, the Penrose faction apparently elected the majority of its candidates. The Brumbaugh element, however, claimed the election of the governor and Mayor Smith of Philadelphia. The Brumbaugh candidates are pledged to support the popular choice of the party in the state while the Penrose delegates are uninstructed.

There were only two candidates on the presidential preferential ballots, President Wilson on the Democratic and Governor Brumbaugh on the Republican, but Henry Ford received a large number of votes by use of stickers, a million of which had been distributed by his business agents. Former President Roosevelt, Justice Hughes and others received a scattered vote.

Philander C. Knox was unopposed for the Republican nomination for United States senator to succeed Senator Oliver.

In Philadelphia the $114,400,000 loan bills for rapid transit and other municipal improvements were approved by a large majority.

MICHIGAN DEMS MEET.

LANSING, Mich., May 17.—Democrats of Michigan, solidly supporting the renomination of President Wilson, met in state convention here today. Leaders declared the gathering would be extremely harmonious but uneventful. Each of the thirteen state districts will elect two delegates and two alternates to the national convention. Four delegates-at-large and four alternates also will be named.

Lauding President Wilson as the man "who with infinite patience, quiet courage and masterly ability, and without the sacrifice of national honor, has successfully guided his country through storm and danger," Congressman Frank E. Doremus of Detroit, chairman of the Democratic national committee, as temporary chairman, addressed the convention. Referring to President Wilson's efforts to preserve peace, the speaker said:

"In a time like this the continued observance of the well-established rights of neutral nations makes for peace. Such a friend of peace is Woodrow Wilson, that for nearly two years, through the shifting winds of circumstances and the cross-currents of vituperative criticism, he has sought to keep our ship of state, with its 100,000,000 passengers, off the cruel rocks of war. True, there has been more or less mutiny on board, but much of this has come from a few passengers, who, through misfortune, were not captains themselves or members of the crew.

"It may be that we will have to intervene in Mexico, but if we do, it will be in response to a grave national duty and after every honorable means has been employed to avoid it."

Stanford Professor Will Give Reading

Professor Lee Emerson Bassett of Stanford University will give a reading of "Hamlet" tomorrow night at Hotel Oakland as the last of a series of addresses on forensics. On this occasion, however, there will be no lecture.

Though the affair is under the auspices of the Rotary Club and the Oakland Center of the California Civic League, it is open to the public for a small admission. This will be the fifth of a series that Professor Bassett has given here this spring.

EXCHANGE NAMES TEAM MANAGERS

Campaign to Double Membership Is Officially Launched by Merchants.

The team captains for the big membership campaign about to be launched by the Oakland Merchants' Exchange were named at a meeting last night and beginning today literature will be mailed to every business man in Oakland urging his membership in this organization. The team captains with the membership committee of the exchange, headed by M. B. Morrison, will meet at least once a week to discuss plans to double the membership. The captains are E. P. Muller, A. G. Taft, W. V. Harrington, L. G. Ronzagni, B. Ronaldson, Grant D. Miller, William Ellis, W. A. Knowles, E. A. Young, E. L. Vander Naillen, E. Wohrg, W. G. Logan, A. H. Schlueter, Harry G. Williams, E. Meyael, Theodore Cler, P. N. Hanrahan, T. Dorgan and J. W. Mowbray. A committee composed of Harry Williams, A. H. Schlueter and W. P. Hook will meet with Morrison and Secretary Wilber Walker Friday afternoon to complete campaign details.

The Merchants' Exchange was established 21 years ago and has worked consistently during that long period for the advancement of the interests of the business men of the city. The plans for the present year call for many activities and the larger membership is wanted to accomplish them.

A committee consisting of Wilber Walker, A. H. Schlueter, A. G. Taft, E. L. Vander Naillen and L. H. Davison was appointed to meet with the city council Monday morning to discuss changes in the present building laws. The exchange last night endorsed the Pet Stock Show which will be given at the Oakland Auditorium June 15, 16 and 17. The exchange also plans to give a cup for the best dog entered.

Appomattox Post No. 50, G. A. R., wrote the exchange thanking them for donating $150 for Memorial Day exercises, after the city council had refused to appropriate the money.

Mohonk Conference Talks World Court

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., May 17.—The Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration opened today with a discussion of international courts and the theory of conciliation and arbitration. This was outlined by Daniel Smiley, who with his brother, the late Alfred Smiley, founded the conference and entertained its members here for 22 successive years.

James Brown Scott, secretary of the Carnegie Endowment for International peace, presided pending the arrival of William H. Taft, who will be the permanent presiding officer.

Edwin M. Borchard, law librarian of Congress, advocated formation of an international court to settle pecuniary claims between the different countries. The present system of adjudicating those disputes, he said, was a prolific source of international friction, since it depended upon politics and the physical strength of the nations involved.

Other speakers were Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York and John C. Rose, United States district judge of Maryland. The $1000 prize offered by Chester Dewitt Pugsley, a New York lawyer, for the best essay written by an undergraduate male college student upon international arbitration, was presented today to George R. J. T. Snyder, Steel Magnate's Son, Weds

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. — John T. Snyder, son of the vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who is employed at the Union Iron Works as a mechanic, learning the business from the ground up, is married.

With Mrs. Snyder, who was Miss Laura Ely Jenkins of New York, he is at the Fairmont. Today they start house-hunting.

"And it will not be a very luxurious house, either," laughed Snyder last night. "You know I get only small pay. So any one with expensive places need not hunt me up."

Snyder came to San Francisco about six months ago, full of ambition. He donned oily jumpers, joined the union, and waded in.

Two weeks ago he asked for leave of absence and went to New York. A quiet wedding followed, and the honeymoon trip westward began.

"I know I have a job," he remarked. "And then I am learning the business, and have the best wife in the world, and what more does a sane man want?"

Four Burglaries Reported to Police

The police are investigating four burglaries reported during the night. They were as follows:

F. C. Walker, 730 Seventeenth street, suitcase, clothing and revolver stolen.

The theft of a diamond and opal scarf pin from the dressing rooms at Idora Park Theater was reported by A. H. Zeigler, 397 Thirty-fifth street.

J. F. Reynolds Operated On for Appendicitis

J. F. Reynolds, president of the Meat and Produce Company and one of the largest beef importers in Alameda county, is confined at the Providence hospital following an operation for appendicitis by Dr. Milton Kano on Friday. Reynolds was removed from his home at Summit street and Central avenue to the Providence, where he is gradually recovering from the operation.

Assessor Horner Is Resting at Hospital

County Assessor Charles F. Horner is reported slightly better at the Alameda sanatorium. Horner has been at the sanatorium for two weeks, undergoing a second capital operation. He is still too ill to sit up and the report of his condition merely stated that "Mr. Horner is slightly better today."

French Balloonist Falls to His Death

PARIS, May 17.—Jose Garcia Calderon, a son of the former president of Peru, has been killed at the front, it was learned today. He volunteered as a balloonist with the French army. Caught in a storm, Calderon attempted to descend in a parachute but it collapsed and he was dashed to death.

BOULEVARD PLAN MEETS PROTEST

Objections of Property Owners Defeat Proposed Improvement.

The plan to pave a 24-foot strip down the center of the Foothill boulevard was defeated by a protest from the property owners today. The city council sustained the protest, as it came from a majority of the frontage.

The improvement would have cost $1.75 a foot and would have been distributed over the district.

George Jansen, president of the Melrose Business Men's Association, represented the protestants. He explained that the boulevard was used by the general public, and that the property owners in the district should not be saddled with the entire expense.

Commissioner F. F. Jackson introduced an amendment to the license ordinance regarding licenses for hotels and lodging houses to make the ordinance include the licensing of tenement houses. The recently passed tenement act defines the meaning of this term. It includes many apartment houses, houses in which four or more families live independently, but use the same hallways and other conveniences.

The law is also amended to make the minimum for houses with five to twenty rooms, $3 instead of $1.

Protest was filed by a score of residents in the neighborhood of the Piedmont Baths against the maintenance of boiler-rooms at the rear of the baths. The protestants stated that the presence of the boiler-room had increased the fire hazard and insurance rates 100 per cent and that the noise of blowing off steam had proved a nuisance. The protest was referred to Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Jackson.

Receipts from city wharves during the month of April amounted to $4701.91, according to the report of City Wharfinger W. J. Masteson to the city council.

The report follows: Arrivals, 246; tonnage, 65,272; tons, cargoes, 42,032; feet of lumber, 6,630,500; dockage, $1237.10; tolls, $3,768.31; rentals, $633; leases, $67.50. Total, $4701.91.

"Pardoned," Is Grande's Reply to Petersen

J. H. Grande, who announced himself as a candidate for the office of chief of police, following which Acting Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen announced that the man had served a prison term, today made answer to the charge. He calls attention to the fact that while he was imprisoned, he was pardoned by Lieutenant Governor Warren R. Porter, and has a copy of his pardon.

"I admit," Grande writes, "that I was in jail, but not two and a half years, as Mr. Petersen says. I want to say I had the honor of being there a short time until the Governor could investigate my case. I was tried by jury in Stockton, which disagreed, and on account of rotten politics I was incarcerated in the Stockton jail quite a long while, and I could not furnish bonds. It was arranged that I plead guilty when I was not guilty, so that I could get out of jail quicker, and I pleaded guilty with the understanding that the Governor investigate my case. He did, like a man of humanitarian spirit, and he saw a shameful miscarriage of justice, so he pardoned me."

Association Anxious About Store Leases

At a meeting of the Property Owners' Association Tuesday afternoon attention was called to the fact that many leases are now being drawn with provision for forfeiture in case either the prohibition amendments 1 or 2 on the ballot carries at the fall election.

It was pointed out that in some instances contracts including several tenants stipulated reductions of $200 or more if the state goes dry. It is claimed by the association that 500 tenants paying in excess of $600,000 a year rent, are involved. The association deems it of vital importance to property owners to give this matter careful consideration.

The secretary reported an additional enrollment of 163 members. It was voted to increase the number of directors and to form an advisory council to assist in the direction of the local campaign.

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR FEDERATION

California's delegates to the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in New York from May 23 to June 2, left this morning for the East, a special car at the Oakland pier bearing the women off for the big session. The delegates from California are making the trip under the auspices of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight of San Francisco, president of the state federation, headed the pilgrimage. Among the delegates were Mrs. Edward Gere Denniston, Mrs. B. Boynton of Corona, Mrs. D. J. MacMaster, Mrs. Nathan Frank, California Club; Mrs. Robert Bragg, Mrs. C. F. Wright, Te Kalou; Miss Jane Clark, Mills; Mrs. Laura Y. Pinney, Mrs. Sara Mayo Bunker, Pacific Coast Women's Press Association; Dr. Aurelia Reinhart, the new president of Mills College; Dr. Millicent Cosgrove, San Francisco Center; Mrs. Rose V. S. Berry, Laurel Hall Club; Mrs. David Hunter, Ebell Club, Oakland; Mrs. Lucien Langworthy, Alta Mira Club, San Leandro, Alameda district; Mrs. Fisher Clarke of Philomathean Club, Stockton; Mrs. Smith, San Leandro; Miss Anabelle Carr, Marysville; Dr. Della Barbee, Woodland; Mrs. Bradford Woodbridge, Roseville.

NEVADA WOMEN JOIN.

The California delegation will be joined by the Nevada women at Reno. The Los Angeles delegation, one hundred strong, headed by Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, nominee for the presidency of the General Federation, will join the San Francisco women at Ogden. Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska delegations will meet the California women at Omaha. This aggregation of Western women will form a solid contingency for the election of Mrs. Cowles and the suffrage movement throughout the unenfranchised States of the East.

ELECTION PREDICTIONS.

Little opposition to the election of Mrs. Cowles is anticipated by the Western clubwomen. Announcement of the withdrawal of Mrs. John Sherman of Chicago strengthens the Cowles forces. Mrs. George Sneath of Ohio will be the only opposing candidate for the office of chief executive. Headquarters for the California club women will be maintained at the Biltmore Hotel, where Mrs. Knight, the State president, has secured accommodations. Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles will be at the Astor Hotel, headquarters of the General Federation.

Funeral of Brewer Is Attended by Friends

Under the direction of Verwaerts Lodge, the German branch of the Odd Fellows, funeral services were held yesterday for John Schoenfelder, the pioneer Oakland lodge man, who passed away at his home on Telegraph avenue several days ago. German organizations from both sides of the bay were represented at the services, the Turn-Verein and Eintracht sending special delegations to do honor to the pioneer's memory.

John Schoenfelder was founder of the old Brooklyn Brewery in East Oakland and had lived in this city for the past sixty years. He was a native of Bavaria.

The services were held in Odd Fellows hall. Cremation followed.

FORD STUDENT OUSTED.

HANOVER, N. H., May 17.—The suspension from Dartmouth College of Francis Stirling Wilson of Washington, D. C., editor-in-chief of the Dartmouth "Jack-o'-Lantern," a student publication which has been outspoken against the faculty's support of preparedness measures, was announced yesterday. Wilson was a member of the Ford peace party.

CHAPLIN CONTRASTS MAKE CARMEN LAUGHING RIOT

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND EDNA PURVIANCE IN "CARMEN."

That Charlie Chaplin's ability is not confined to slap-stick comedy is demonstrated in his burlesque on Carmen. In this feature film, playing at the Oakland Photo Theater for four days, commencing this afternoon, he combines real dramatic situations with his most comic efforts, and from the contrast comes the humor of the piece. His burlesque will be appreciated by all picture patrons of the Oakland Photo, whether or not they have ever seen the opera. Edna Purviance, his leading lady, makes a delightful Carmen.

The scene where Don Jose, ruined and fugitive through the false and unscrupulous Carmen, finds her in Madrid, where she has fled with a popular toreador, is treated with just as much seriousness as in the real play. The part is carried out in perfect earnest and one is given a real dramatic thrill and is beginning to believe he is looking at tragedy, when suddenly the slain couple rise to their feet and Chaplin smilingly shows his knife is only a stage knife. The suddenness of the turn accentuates the comedy and leaves one in a gale of laughter.

Prescott Students to Stage Concert

Prescott school pupils will take part tomorrow night in a novel concert at U. F. E. C. hall, when one hundred voices, under the direction of Miss E. Jones, will be heard. Special dancing numbers will be on the program, which is planned to raise for a printing press for the school manual training department. A musical feature will be "The Anvil Chorus" by the orchestra, with a special scenic anvil effect.

The elementary schools chorus, band and orchestra will be heard Friday evening at the Auditorium theater in a special concert, and tonight the high school band and choruses are to appear in the theater. Both these concerts will be elaborately staged.

Japanese Woman Ill; Would Die

A Japanese woman kneeling in prayer and weeping as she prayed was found by Deputy Sheriff Rudolph Wreidt on the edge of the wharf at the foot of Clay street last night. He grasped her just as she was about to throw herself into the estuary.

The woman was brought to the central police station, where it was learned that she was Mrs. Hotsu Kushino, and that her physician had recently informed her that she was afflicted with a disease from which she would never recover. She determined to take her life. The woman was taken home by her husband.

STATE LEARNS TO HELP IMMIGRANT

Commission Establishes Basis of Constructive Policy, in Report.

The second annual report of the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, which has just been issued, emphasizes the necessity for and the value of a constructive immigration policy, looking toward the proper assimilation of the thousands of immigrants who are coming to California each year. California ranks fourth among all the States as to the number of immigrants arriving during the past year, and the Commission's report indicates that the State has been active in practical "Americanization" work among these new comers, while Eastern States have been indulging in abstract discussions of the problems of the "hyphenated Americans" and immigrant assimilation. The report covers a wide field and, with its tables, charts and pictures, covers 396 pages.

Experience gained the first year enabled the Commission last year to coordinate its work with that of other departments of State and local governments. As a result, according to the report, much more has been accomplished the second year at a proportionately smaller expense. The commission has brought about a general improvement in the living and working conditions of the immigrant residents which has not only tended to establish American standards among these people but which has resulted in bettering conditions for native born wage earners as well.

LABOR CAMPS.

The commission reports that there has been no change in its former policy of labor camp inspection, although the 1915 Legislature gave the commission direct power to enforce the labor camp sanitation law. It is estimated that between 1000 and 1500 labor camps are always being operated in the State, exclusive of labor forces on farms and ranches, and that the total population of these camps during all or most of the year is 75,000. The commission has inspected most of these camps and has met with ready cooperation in most cases in improving conditions in camps. Several letters from employers are quoted stating that good accommodations for employees pay in dollars and cents. Of the some 40,000 laborers in the camps inspected 51.3 per cent are now housed in good camps, against 35.5 per cent in 1915. Of the 663 camps, under the classification given in the last annual report, 46 per cent are listed as good, 35 per cent as fair and only 19 as bad. This is an increase of 15.1 per cent in the good camps and a decrease of 11 per cent in the bad.

Improved as conditions are, however, the commission still finds much to criticize. Sanitary conditions are far from ideal, due to the lack of bathing facilities, screens, garbage containers, etc., in many camps.

Immigrant education is another subject dealt with at length in the report. Cooperating with the California Federation of Women's Clubs, the commission is now making a survey of the State. "Home Education" is another innovation of the commission.

The grave need of "Americanization" is pointed out in a statement to the effect that the most accurate data available shows there were only 1786 naturalized foreign born, or 10.4 per cent of the immigrant population of the labor camps.

COMPLAINTS.

The bureau of complaints, according to the report, is in some respects the most important part of the commission's work. It is used not alone to secure justice for exploited individuals, but to learn from direct contact with the immigrants their common or general problems.

Fraudulent land sales and employment agencies are two of the chief sources of complaints.

Housing conditions in California are reported upon fully, especially in San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Fresno and Stockton. Considerable success is shown in enforcing the State tenement house act through the indirect power given the commission by the last legislature. However, the report states that every city has a housing problem and that each community must assume responsibility for enforcing the laws and improving conditions.

The closing chapter of the report points out that the problems of immigration and unemployment are inseparable since every immigrant is, by reason of the Federal contract labor law, a member of the army of the unemployed as soon as he lands in the United States. Recommendations are made looking toward the solution of the industrial problem of unemployment.

Shoe Dealers Plan Conference on Prices

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—A conference called by the National Shoe Retailers' Association to consider abnormal conditions in the shoe and leather trade that have arisen as a result of the European war will be held in this city on May 25. A. H. Geuting, secretary of the association, said today that the secretary of material was becoming acute and that further advances in shoe prices would become imperative unless something is done to relieve the situation. It is to keep these advances down to the minimum, he said, that the conference was called.

County Water Bonds No State Security

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—County water works district bonds should not be recognized by the State as security for deposits of State money. Attorney General Webb rules in an opinion to State Treasurer Richardson today. The question arose when a bank in Anaheim offered such bonds as security for a deposit of State money. Richardson, in view of present constitutional provisions, declined to allow State money to go on deposit with such security and the attorney-general's opinion sustains his stand.

The last legislature provided the way by which counties may vote bonds for water works. While there is no question as to the legality of such bonds, there is nothing in the constitution that designates them as security for State deposits in the same manner as other bonds. This oversight will be corrected by the next legislature.

Cottle Medal Won by Junior at St. Mary's

James W. Hall, a junior in St. Mary's college, was declared the winner today of the Cottle medal, donated by the Rev. J. E. Cottle, pastor of St. Bridgid's parish, San Francisco, for the encouragement of oratory among the students.

Father Cottle was a graduate of the college with the class of 1876. The first debate for the medal was that of last night when Frank Coakley, Emmett McNamara, Edward McGlade and Andrew Perovich contended for the prize.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

academic procession, which, in impressive order, moved to the theater at 9:30 o'clock. President Wheeler, Governor Johnson and other invited guests, the regents of the university and the faculty headed the procession as it passed into the stage between lines of waiting candidates. These then filed to their places before the stage, where sections were specially assigned to them according to their colleges.

The exercises opened with an invocation by Dr. Francis Greenwood Peabody, D. D., LL. D., professor of Christian morals in Harvard University and former dean of the Harvard divinity school. Addresses by four candidates for degrees attracted the interest of the audience for the succeeding three-quarters of an hour. Phillip Conley, editor of the Daily Californian for the past year, spoke on "Discipline and National Efficiency."

WOMAN'S VOICE HEARD.

Miss Lena Meta Schafer of Modesto, a graduate also in the college of letters and sciences, considered "True Democracy and the Individual." Lieutenant Hugh Samuel Johnson, U. S. A., graduate of the United States Military Academy in 1903, a bachelor here last year and today a candidate for the degree of juris doctor, made "A Comparison of Military Systems." The concluding address, on "The New Internationalism," was made by Paul Lanstrot Fussell, who recently represented the university on the Ford peace expedition.

The delivery of the military commissions as an impressive feature of the exercises. The candidates for commissions, from colonel of the cadet regiment down, formed in inspection order along the front of the stage, where they were addressed by Governor Johnson. The commissions were presented by him, assisted by Major John T. Nance, U. S. A., commandant of cadets.

The conferring of the degrees was accomplished, as in the past, as the students filed upon the stage, college by college, between the president, who spoke briefly to each group, and the audience. With the college of letters and science the group was so very large that a division had to be made. Some of the other colleges also had so many candidates for degrees that the front of the stage was well crowded before they were all in place. In the conferring of the degrees President Wheeler was assisted by Professor Leon J. Richardson of the department of Latin, who had led the academic procession.

The audience joined the members of the faculty and student groups in singing the university hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." The benediction was pronounced by Dr. Peabody.

Following the exercises the annual commencement day luncheon was held in Strawberry canyon, near the Faculty Club, with an attendance of several hundred graduates and invited guests. For the first time this luncheon did not also mark the annual meeting of the Alumni Association. The alumni will hold this session early next month in Kearney Park. Regent Charles Stetson Wheeler presided at the luncheon. Governor Johnson, President Wheeler and others were among the speakers.

Vern Smith Wins His Long Fight Is Vindicated After Ugly Charge

VERN SMITH, GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, WHO TODAY RECEIVED HIS DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF SCIENCE ONE YEAR LATE. —McCullagh foto.

U. C. Student, Forced Into Court to Defend Honor, Sacrificed Year to False Accusation

BERKELEY, May 17.—The University of California made final reparation to Vern Smith when the regents conferred upon him this morning the degree of bachelor of science at the commencement exercises in the Greek theater. Smith was a member of the 1915 class, but the charges of theft committed in Harmon gymnasium, brought against him by the students' affairs committee, and his subsequent dismissal, delayed his graduation exactly one year.

Smith presented himself with other candidates for degrees from the college of commerce and was awarded his diploma with them. He has specialized in Oriental and other languages and is expected to enter the consular service.

VICTORY AT LAST.

The granting of the degree was the last of a series of steps by which the university authorities have sought to make good to Smith the damage done by the previous action against him of student body and faculty. Smith, who was prominent in the Cosmopolitan Club, was accused of stealing a knife from Harmon gymnasium. His suspension was recommended by the undergraduate students' affairs committee and the recommendation was put into force by President Wheeler.

Smith refused to abide by this action and secured an order from President Wheeler for a rehearing before the committee, where he presented an alibi to prove his presence elsewhere moment of the alleged theft. Despite this evidence the committee reaffirmed its decision and President Wheeler his order of suspension. Smith declared that the committee question him on his attitude toward President Wheeler, demanded to know if he had ever criticised the head of the university and asked other questions aside from the issue.

An appeal to the faculty students' affairs committee by Smith was met with a sustaining of the student decision. Smith then brought suit in the superior court of the county to secure a mandamus order on the university to reinstate him. While it was pending the faculty of the College of Commerce ordered his dismissal. The court decided against him on the ground that he had not taken his last means at the university of securing reinstatement, an appeal to the Academic Senate.

FORCED TO EXTREME.

Smith accepted the advice of the court and threw the whole case before the senate. After several extended hearings, he was absolutely absolved from all suspicion of guilt. The dicta of the undergraduate and faculty student affairs committees were set aside and Smith was ordered reinstated as an undergraduate in good standing. The series of actions had, however, prevented Smith's securing in May a year ago his diploma of graduation and he next applied for this. It was granted, but the awarding of the degree of bachelor of science was delayed until today when the next graduating exercises would be held.

Posse in Search of Rancher's Murderers

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 17.—Posses of ranch owners and cowboys are scouring Crockett county today in search of the persons, believed to be Mexicans, who murdered Jarvis Harp, a wealthy farmer. Harp went to look after a large herd of goats near Ozona yesterday morning and a few hours later his dead body was found bearing numerous knife wounds, and the head beaten to a pulp. His horse was found several miles from the body in an exhausted condition, probably having been ridden by one of his assailants, who are believed to be headed for the border. Several Mexican sheep herders are missing, but it is believed strange Mexicans committed the crime.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Slain; Buried in Bush

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, May 17.—Little Alice Empey, 9, was murdered, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury today. Her body, half buried in dirt and brush with most of her clothing torn off, was found early yesterday by two men who were clearing brush and driftwood from a field.

Alice Empey disappeared April 16. She left her home near here to go to her grandmother's, half a mile distant. She never reached her destination, and a wide search was fruitless. A creek between the two homes at that time was a raging torrent, covering many acres of land. The murderer, after meeting and assaulting the little girl on the road, evidently had thrown her body into the stream.

Cycle Bests Auto in Street Collision

A motorcycle overturned a touring car in a collision between two machines last night at Telegraph avenue and Jones street, and two occupants of the automobile were hurt. The driver of the motorcycle escaped with a slight bruise.

The accident is considered an extraordinary one. The police investigated it, but could not account for the fact that the touring car, a heavy model of one of the higher priced cars, happened to overturn.

Mrs. Bella de Leon, 46 years old, 1612 San Pablo avenue, was thrown from the automobile and received cuts and bruises. Laforrent Doloff, who was driving the motorcycle, was only slightly hurt.

'SEPTEMBER MORN' AMUSES THRONGS

Packed Houses See Musical Piece at Pantages Theater.

Have you seen September Morn?"

This is the general question about Oakland these days. It does not refer to the famous picture—almost everyone has seen that already. But there's something better than the picture before Oakland pleasure seekers today—and the play "September Morn," even if it got its first fame by being named after the picture, is living up to its reputation on its own merits.

Packed houses are greeting the remarkable musical comedy at the Pantages this week. The production is something entirely new in the line of vaudeville offerings. It is the original New York offering, with all the New York features, and the original New York cast, boiled down into vaudeville time. Harry Fields and Louise De Fogle, the wonderful aerial dancers, the original posing artist's models, declared to be the most shapely women in New York, a great beauty chorus, and clever principals are seen in this sparkling bit of frothy music and clever comedy. Lorenz Gillett, the clever little San Francisco boy, who went East to achieve fame in the Follies, is another big hit of the piece. Gorgeous scenery, remarkable little situations—some of them really exciting, and all of them funny, help to keep up interest. Harry Field's song "Woman Is a Spare Rib From the Butcher Shop of Life" is one of the hits of the week and every one is already quoting or whistling it.

The music is the kind one whistles afterward on the street. The comedy one remembers afterward with many a chuckle. The artist's models—well, they have to be seen to be appreciated, as does the remarkable "Parason dance," where the girls dance with the lights casting their shadows (as they are) through the silk sunshades.

There are other big features on the bill. The Bowman brothers "stop the show" daily with their comicalities; Chabot and Dixon have many a laugh concealed in their remarkable little act.

But "September Morn" is the talk of Oakland with its daring dances and beautiful models. It is something new to vaudeville—and vaudeville-goers, at least.

WORLD PEACE PLAN TOLD TO DELEGATES

Former American Ambassador Talks to Mohonk Lake Session.

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 17. — Former American Ambassador to Germany Andred D. White will outline the possibilities of establishing an international judicial court to settle disputes between countries and prevent future wars, at the Conference on International Arbitration which began here today.

While the conduct of the European war is not to be a subject of discussion, the program includes questions of neutral rights and duties, and other issues created or emphasized by the war.

Fifty prominent chambers of commerce and boards of trade, including the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers have official delegates here.

The relation of large national armaments to arbitral and judicial settlement of international disputes will also have a place on the program.

Former President Taft and other Americans will also try to learn what influence world commerce and finance has on the frequency and duration of modern wars.

Other subjects, including pan-American trade, will be discussed by such men as: Walter S. Penfield, Alpheus H. Snow of Washington, Ministers Calderon of Bolivia and Chamorro of Nicaragua, Oscar Straus, Lyman Abbott, Theodore Marburg, Atlee Pomerene, William P. Borland, John C. Rose of Maryland and Charles A. Dinny Murphy Would Be Chief

Well Qualified, Says Infirmary Officer

"Dinny" Murphy, self-elected "cop" at the county infirmary, thinks he ought to have been appointed Oakland's chief of police in place of Chief Woods. He came to Oakland today to find out the reason why he was not selected, and also to give Commissioner Jackson and the rest of the city administration a bit of his mind.

As an accredited officer of the law and a colleague of the Oakland cops Dinny closely followed every step in the Oakland police department controversy and finally decided "Murphy" would look more imposing with "Chief of Police" for a handle.

"Bedad if it's talking that is the best qualification for them police jobs, I'm their man," was Murphy's deduction after reading the verbose disputes.

His friends at the infirmary, and they are many despite the fact Dinny is a bit of a martinet as a policeman, urged his candidacy for Oakland's chief police executive. So Murphy pinned on his patrolman's star and adjusted his hat at its most impressive angle this morning and otherwise prepared himself to shoulder the onerous duties of bossing Oakland's cops.

Practical Religion Is Unitarians' Subject

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—A symposium on "Essential Religion" marked today's session of the Western Unitarian conference, which is holding its sixty-fourth annual meeting here. Rabbi Samuel Sale of St. Louis and Rev. James W. Lee, a presiding elder of the Methodist church, added the Unitarians in the discussion. Rabbi Sale said, in part:

"The trouble with most of us is, that we regard religion as something separate and distinct from our ordinary, everyday life, as if it were a glory to be shut up in our churches and there to be displayed on holy days and seasons. Our 'fear of the Lord' is often a mere lip-service, a soulless routine, instead of a worship of the heart.

"It is only natural that in this frame of mind, we should look rather for the differences in our faith, for those things which separate us, than for the points of contact and resemblance, which would draw us into closer converse and sympathy. We imagine that we are very near to God, when in fact we are only very far from our neighbor. If the only worship of God, be the service of man in righteousness, love and justice, then let us liberals strive with one another in generous rivalry, to make real these essentials of all true religion."

State Forage Is Scarce This Year

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—This is about the dryest year on record for California, according to State Veterinarian Charles Keane, who stated today that reports from inspectors throughout the state are to the effect that all natural forage is dried up.

This condition will cost Californians hundreds of thousands of dollars. There being no natural forage, stock owners must feed alfalfa. The big demand for alfalfa will raise the price. The price of feed being raised the stock owner must make up his loss by charging more for his livestock.

Keane says the yield of natural forage usually continues until August, but this year the unusual weather conditions have dried it up nearly three months ahead of time.

State Sends Aid to Check Scarlet Fever

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—Local health authorities being unable to check the epidemic of scarlet fever in Paterson, Stanislaus county, the State Board of Health today detailed Dr. S. J. Cummings, director of the State Bureau of Communicable Diseases, to the place. There have been a number of deaths.

A scarlet fever epidemic is also prevalent in Vallejo, nine new cases being reported to the state board today.

Woman's Confession Clears Grim Mystery

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 17. — Mrs. Allie Haradon, twenty-six, today confessed that she killed the baby that was found on the city dump six weeks ago. The confession clears up the mystery that has puzzled the police for three months, when Ben and Mary Dudl, arrested in Minneapolis, were brought here on the suspicion that the baby was theirs. The Dudls produced the body of their baby buried at Minneapolis.

Special Guard to Be Put on Canal Locks

PANAMA, May 17. — The canal authorities are taking special precautions to safeguard the canal locks, owing to rumors that attempts might be made to dynamite them. The vessel carried a cargo of dyewoods. She arrived at Cristobal today.

HUGE COAL ORDERS.

TOKIO, May 17.—In connection with recent orders from Great Britain for 700,000 tons of coal to be delivered in Egypt several Japanese firms have entered into contracts with the British authorities for the supply of the whole quantity within a fixed period on condition that Great Britain sends steamers to transport the fuel. As a result of the growing demand the price of coal in Japan has increased. In various official and private factories where war orders from Russia and other countries are being filled, measures have been taken to purchase large quantities of coal in view of the upward tendency of the market.

MEETING HELD ON TELEPHONE WIRES

Electrical Men of Many Cities Exchange Greetings and Speeches.

Oakland's telephone wires last night carried a meeting over them. Part of the meeting was in San Francisco, part of it in Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Atlanta, and several other cities were also in it. The voices of deegates from all the different cities came into Oakland, went through the cable and across the bay, and 800 people participated in a remarkable "electrical session."

The meeting was a general session of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the branches meeting in various cities and being connected by long distance telephones. The San Francisco branch met at Native Sons' Hall.

CALLED IN NEW YORK.

President John J. Carty called the meeting to order in New York and read a telegram from President Wilson which expressed his appreciation "of the work of the institute in the development of the country's resources."

Brief addresses were made from New York to all six meetings by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, and Thomas Watson, who first heard a human voice over the telephone.

John A. Britton expressed the greetings of the San Francisco branch of the institute to the national convention.

Theodore N. Vail responded from New York. The president-elect, H. W. Buck of New York, then made a brief address to his colleagues far and near.

From across the continent President Carty asked:

"Is there any other business to come before the meeting?"

PUT IN MINUTES.

A. H. Babcock, chairman of the San Francisco meeting, offered a resolution that a record of the meeting be included in the minutes of the convention.

Professor Charles R. Cross in Boston seconded the motion and J. H. Tracy in Philadelphia offered an amendment to send each of the speakers a copy of the resolution. The amendment was seconded by Bancroft Gherardi in Boston, accepted by Babcock in San Francisco and Professor Cross in Boston, and carried by a concerted vote from all six cities.

A. M. Schoen in Atlanta then moved that the meeting adjourn. W. J. Norton in Chicago seconded the motion, and adjournment was taken by a chorus of ayes that resounded from ocean to ocean.

School Parade 227 Miles Long

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—If all the school children of California were lined up four abreast, eight feet apart, the line would be 227 miles long, or would extend from Sacramento to twenty-one miles beyond Fresno.

This was figured out today by Job Wood, statistician of the State Department of Education, who based his calculations on the parade in Sacramento last week when the 10,000 school children, arranged as above, made a line four miles long. There are 600,000 school children in the state, Wood says.

SOLDIERS CREATE RESPECT FOR U. S.

Americans Will Leave Country When Troops Are Withdrawn.

NAMIQUIPA, Chihuahua, Mex., via wireless to Columbus, N. M., May 17. —American residents of this section of Mexico have assured General J. J. Pershing, commander of the punitive expedition that the American troops have restored respect on the part of the natives for United States soldiers to a degree not existing for five years.

For some time Mexicans had sneered at the fighting ability of the Americans, some of them honestly believing that the United States soldiers were afraid to engage any Mexican command. After the Ojas Azules fight, however, signs of the growing respect on the part of the natives became more and more manifest. American non-combatants living in the vicinity were treated with a courtesy which astonished them and the like of which they had not experienced for years.

These same Americans, however, have openly expressed their intention of leaving Mexico if the expeditionary command is withdrawn. They believe that a native uprising will result immediately the protection of the American guns is removed. Numerous threats on the part of Villa and his lieutenants to punish persons dealing with the Americans also have caused some Mexicans and Chinese merchants to announce that they too will follow the American command from Mexico should it be withdrawn.

Elephant Butte Dam Builders Praised

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The completion of the Elephant Butte dam in New Mexico is an achievement of which the nation may well be proud, according to President Wilson.

The President so expressed himself in a telegram of congratulations, made public today, to employes of the Federal Reclamation Service, who had charge of constructing the dam. Secretary Lane, under whose direction the work was carried on, also sent congratulations.

"The completion of the Elephant Butte dam," President Wilson wired, "is an achievement which arouses the patriotism of all true Americans. It shows what technical and business skill and devoted energy and persistence can accomplish in combat with the forces of nature. The country owes its gratitude and appreciation to the manufactures and women who have toiled diligently during the five years of constructive effort to produce a result of which the American nation may be well proud."

The dam, completed last Saturday, forms the world's greatest storage reservoir. It stores 556,000,000,000 gallons of water in a lake forty-five miles long with an average depth of 85 feet.

Middle West Journals Feel Paper Shortage

CHICAGO, May 17.—That the war in Europe may materially increase the price of newspapers, magazines and periodicals was the belief expressed here today at a meeting of the executive committee of Inland Daily Press Association.

The meeting was called to devise ways and means of meeting the shortage in paper stock, and a resolution was adopted urging the strictest economy in the use of paper. It was said that in two cities of 40,000 population, and in smaller cities, several daily newspapers had not issued because of the shortage.

It was reported that many newspapers were on the verge of shutting down completely or issuing smaller editions.

Prefers Jail, He Says to Obeying Mandate

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 17.—Christian Lieberum, a Civil War veteran who has already spent two years in the Alleghany county jail for contempt of court because he refused to obey a court order to remove his old home to make way for a public highway near McKeesport, has returned to jail voluntarily and says he will spend the rest of his life there unless the court changes its mind.

Three attempts have been made in the lower courts to secure his freedom on writs without results. Recently his case was appealed to the State Supreme Court which sustained the lower tribunals. Pending the appeal he was released. When an adverse decision was handed down, Lieberum, because of conscientious scruples, went to the jail and gave himself up.

RECALL ROANOKE WITNESS TO STAND

U. S. Probers Unable to Reconcile Selves to Story of Storm Conditions.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. — In an effort to reconcile his testimony that a northeast wind prevailed at the time of the Roanoke disaster, with the report of heavy seas and stormy conditions, that do not usually accompany a gale from that direction, Joseph Elb, quartermaster, was recalled at the investigation of the United States inspectors into the wreck this morning.

Captains James Gutherie and Joseph P. Dolan, inspectors of hulls and boilers, are particularly anxious to discover the conditions on the Pacific when the boats were launched from the sinking vessel. The testimony so far shows that three quarters of an hour elapsed between the time that the Roanoke sank from sight and the moment when her cargo began to shift and she careened over on one side.

SUBPOENAE OTHER WITNESSES.

The testimony of Elb, who is the only warrant officer surviving, is to the effect that the wind was from the northeast.

"I cannot reconcile that with the story of storm and heavy seas," declared Captain Gutherie. "That is the reason for the recalling of Elb. I believe the inquiry will be concluded today. I have subpoenaed several other witnesses who may develop something of importance."

It was learned that these witnesses had not voluntarily come forward but had been summoned by the inspectors secretly, in order that they might not seek to avoid legal process.

A Logical and Sure Dyspepsia Treatment

During the past two or three years reports have frequently appeared in the Press concerning the remarkable value of bisurated magnesia as an antacid! and its ability to promote normal, healthy digestion by preventing food fermentation and neutralizing dangerous stomach acid has often been demonstrated. Until recently druggists could supply bisurated magnesia in powder form only, from one or two teaspoonfuls of which, taken in a little water after meals, almost instantly stops all fermentation and neutralizes acid, but sufferers from stomach trouble can now obtain a 5-grain tablet which combines all the valuable antacid properties of the ordinary bisurated magnesia in a very convenient form. This new tablet of bisurated magnesia can now be had of druggists everywhere and many physicians are already prescribing them instead of the powder form.—Advertisement.

To People Who Are Under Normal Weight

Good Advice For Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women Who Want to Put on Flesh.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequaled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks' systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats thin people need are thus provided. Osgood Bros. Drug Stores and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has from reports given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, its use is not recommended to nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh. —Advertisement.

CHARGES HURLED IN FIGHT FOR GIRL

SAN JOSE, May 17.—Charges and counter-charges were hurled today in connection with a fight over seven-year-old Gracie Merriman, for whom her mother and Mrs. E. G. Collett, who aspires to adopt the child, are battling.

Gracie figured in a tug-of-war last night when Rev. E. G. Collett, two Stanford professors and Mrs. Sophia von Wussow, the mother, with her new husband, struggled for possession of her. The encounter took place on the front porch of the Collett home in Palo Alto.

It ended in a couple of minutes with victory for the foster parents, the Colletts, before the police could arrive. Mrs. Von Wussow and her husband entered an automobile and drove to their home in San Jose, while their attorney, J. B. Peckham of San Jose, who had been a bystander, accused the professors, S. S. Seward and R. M. Aiden, of aiding Rev. Collett in "kidnaping the child from its mother."

The child has been in the Collett home since its mother, then single, was compelled by poverty two years ago to abandon it. Now the mother wants it back.

Mrs. Collett and her husband failed to get possession of Gracie on a writ of habeas corpus two weeks ago and after a court fight they started adoption proceedings here. Similar proceedings were also launched in the courts of Colusa.

The mother's trip to Palo Alto last night was made to demand custody of the child, the mother holding that the Collett family had no legal right to her. Gracie came out on the front porch and her mother seized her. The struggle ensued when the professors, summoned by telephone, came to the aid of the Colletts.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The tin box in which the change is kept in the Waldorf saloon, 648 Market street, was rifled of $75 this morning, and a note found nearby has led the police to make a search for Harry Seith, the night porter, whose peculiar actions have caused suspicion to fall upon him. The note, addressed to the day manager, was scribbled on a piece of writing paper and reads:

"My wife was dangerously sick. I was called home. She was not expected to live. HARRY."

Give the Children Crisco Foods

Crisco foods taste as good as they look and what is most important, they are digestible.

Crisco cookies, doughnuts, gingerbread, etc., are good for children, because Crisco is a pure and absolutely all vegetable cooking fat. It is the cream of food oils, made possible by the discovery of the scientific "Crisco Process."

CRISCO
For Frying—For Shortening
For Cake Making

makes fried foods more delicious and wholesome. It makes digestible pie crust. Crisco cake is as rich as the most expensive butter cake.

Try Crisco in your favorite recipe. For shortening, use a little less than you would of butter or lard and in cake making, cream it thoroughly. Use plenty for deep frying, for the same Crisco can be used over and over.

Additional Crisco Facts

Crisco takes proper frying temperature without smoking up the kitchen. You can fry fish, then onions, then potatoes in the same Crisco, merely by straining out the food particles after each frying.

Crisco in place of butter in cookies, cakes, scalloped dishes, etc., gives proper richness at much less expense. Salt should be added when used in place of butter.

Champion Has Always Fat Edge on the Terms

Title-Holder Has Whip-Hand; Ortega Enters Business Here

A few days ago Otto Floto of Denver was quoted as saying that Frank Gotch was all through as an athlete; that he was a very sick man, and that his symptoms indicated he was suffering from a cancer of the stomach.

Now comes our old friend Jack Curley and says that Frank's ailment was ptomaine poisoning and that, while he was surely a sick farmer, he will soon be all right and that he and Joe Stecker will meet on the mat some time next fall.

The fact that the Stecker crowd is trying to dictate the terms of the match leads Jack to recount the terms of some other title matches, and, depend upon it, Jack knows exactly what he is talking about.

HACK GOT BIG END OF MONEY.

"When Frank Gotch defeated George Hackenschmidt, thereby becoming world's champion, Hackenschmidt received $15,000. Gotch's pay envelope contained $3000, and he was mighty glad to make the match, because he felt he had a good chance of winning and the actual purse remuneration was of minor consideration.

"When Yusif Mahmout wrestled Gotch he received 20 per cent of the gate receipts. Gotch's share was 35 per cent. Mahmout wanted the match. He thought he could win, but failed.

"Zybszko, when he wrestled Gotch, received 20 per cent. Gotch received 10 per cent. Zybszko figured himself a winner, but he was mistaken.

"Jack Johnson chased after Tommy Burns for the title match. He followed Burns to England, to France, to Ireland, and finally to Australia. After spending thousands of dollars in the chase he signed articles of agreement to box Burns. Johnson won. Johnson, the winner, received $5000. Burns, the loser, received $30,000. That was the way the articles of agreement were signed by each man, win, lose or draw.

"George Hackenschmidt, not satisfied with the result of the first match, again sought a match with Gotch. Hack signed for $10,000, Gotch received $21,000 guarantee.

"Fred Welsh thought he could win the lightweight title and sought a match with Willie Ritchie, the title holder. Welsh furnished purse and battle site and won the title at Olympia, England. Ritchie received $28,000, Welsh not a cent. Welsh won and has gathered a fortune since, because he is the title holder.

WILLARD FIGHTS FOR NOTHING.

"Last, but not least, Jess Willard received not a cent for fighting Johnson. After all the training, moving from country to country, Willard got no pay for winning the title. Johnson was guaranteed and was paid $32,000. But Willard is a rich man today.

"Frank Gotch is ready to defend his title against Joe Stecker. Gotch asks for no guarantee, nor any impossible terms. Gotch says: 'I am the champion and worked hard to get it. The match is worth 60 per cent. I want 40 per cent and Stecker should be satisfied with 20 per cent. I have the title and nothing to gain. Stecker has everything to gain and nothing to lose. I am ready to sign.'

"Looks like the public will decide in Gotch's favor and will add that Stecker should be willing to give Gotch the terms he is entitled to.

"Is Stecker anxious to lay claim to the title without wrestling Gotch for it?"

Henry Ortega, who attaches "Battling" to his name to serve as a moniker when in the ring, is an Oaklander for fair now. In fact, the Battler has even invested in business here. So says Tommy Simpson, promoter of the West Oakland Club and the Battler's manager as well. Ortega has purchased a half-interest in a jitney bus which travels through West Oakland. He has learned the art of handling the steering wheel to such an extent that he drives the car during the day, while his partner tends to the duty at night. Soon the Battler will be known as "Jitney Bus" Ortega. Too bad that Jack Davis isn't a little heavier or we would have such a combination as a "fighting jitney driver" vs. a "fighting conductor."

There's a new wrestling star looming up on the horizon. He is none other than Earl Craddock, the 185-pound youngster from Anita, Iowa, the same state from which Frank Gotch hails. Craddock won the amateur light-heavyweight and heavyweight championships at the tourney recently held in Chicago and has lately announced that he is out to meet any wrestler in the world, Joe Stecker included.

Craddock performed here a year or so ago, when he won the amateur light-heavyweight championship held under the auspices of the P. P. I. E. He is a college-bred young man and turned professional not long ago. Since then he has been winning his matches with comparative ease, and is the only man in the world who ever put Joe Stecker's shoulders to the mat; but, let it be understood, it was before either of them was a professional wrestler.

Stecker himself is willing to acknowledge that Craddock is the best wrestler in the game today next to himself.

Many of the New York fans are crying out loud in protest against certain matchmakers staging bouts in which one man is a champion and the other a set-up. They want a contest in which each man has a good percentage of winning from the other fellow. The condition prevailing in New York seems to exist all over the country—the grasping promoters refuse to pay the price for two good men. They gather one high-class boxer and then go out and see how cheap they can get some one to meet said boxer. Fortunately, such conditions do not prevail in Oakland. That is one of the many situations which the amateur game has helped.

WHITE SURE TO GIVE ARROUSEY LIVELY BATTLE

Rival Los Angelenos Are on Edge for Fast Bout This Evening.

Johnny Arrousey and Joe White, featherweights, will square off at the West Oakland Club tonight in a clash that should develop a mill as torrid as a July day in Africa. The pair represents two opposite types of fighters—Arrousey a master of the art of hit and get away and White a sensational mixer from his toes up and a lad who should give the experienced Arrousey one of the severest tussles the Los Angeles flash has ever had.

Both boys will weigh around 122 pounds for tonight's go. Arrousey has been working hard at the West Oakland Club in an effort to get into good condition, for he realizes that he is facing a tough customer in the newcomer. However, Johnny feels almost sure that he will bring home the bacon and declares that he will box rings around White tonight. "White is a hard hitter and a steady mixer," stated Johnny this morning, "but I am confident that I will prove too clever for him this evening. I intend to poke so many left hands in White's face that he will think that he is in Sol Levinson's boxing-glove factory. I am in fine shape and intend to scrap my hardest from the start, for I want a return crack at Frankie Malone, and, if I beat White, I am almost sure that I will get it."

Some whirlwind special events makes the card one of the liveliest the local fans have had occasion to glance over in many a day. Battling Ortega, middleweight champ, will match his wares against Jack Burns, a San Francisco favorite. Burns is a heavy hitter and can take plenty of punishment. Ortega has been winning so consistently of late that the matchmakers have despaired of getting an opponent for him who can really give him a tough time. Burns may fit the case, however.

Howard Brinkley—a lad who hits like a piledriver with either hand—will tackle Mexican Kid Carter, the veteran Los Angeles mixer. Brinkley is a husky chap, possesses a powerful build, and hits with a crushing force. Carter has shown plenty of class in his bouts around here and looks shifty enough to give any one at his weight a difficult time, so tonight's bout between Brinkley and Carter should be well worth seeing.

Billy Alverls, Pete Nolan's 125-pounder, will tackle a tough proposition in Sammy Morris, the Los Angeles phenom. Morris has been coming along like a whirlwind of late and his showing against Jimmy Ford, whom he held to a draw last week, stamps him as a most likely performer. A victory for Morris over Alverls will place him in the same class with Arrosey, Malone, Johnson, Miller, and the rest.

The rest of the bouts all stack up as lively affairs and the fans are assured of plenty of excitement. Frank Arrousey will meet Abe Henderson, while Willie Robinson and Herb Brodie, San Franciscans, will hook up in a return match. Two other bouts will compose the card. The festivities will commence at 8:30 o'clock. Martin Crouin, Bill L'Heureux and W. J. Eyre will act as judges.

ANGEL FANS ARE EXPECTING TO SEE ZEB TERRY AGAIN

LOS ANGELES, May 17. — The rumor is spreading here that Zeb Terry, last year Angel shortstopper, and "Slim" Love, pitcher, are coming back to their old home, the Los Angeles club. The fact that Bobby Fisher, the regular Angel shortstop, was sold to the Cincinnati Reds the other day and that "Husk" Chance refused Bill Rodgers when the latter was offered to him strengthens the belief.

Terry was purchased by Charley Comiskey of the White Sox at the close of last season and played like a wonder this spring. However, he is a weak hitter and Rowlands was forced to switch "Buck" Weaver over to short and place Fred McMullin at third. Terry is an amazingly clever fielder and for a while he was looked upon as the greatest find since Davey Bancroft came to the Phillies.

Love is drawing his monthly pay check from the New York Yanks at present. He has stuff galore on the pill, but is an awkward fielder, due to his tall, lanky frame, and when the A. L. speed merchants started bunting on him, it was all off.

The return of the pair would cause plenty of joy to Los Angeles fans. It will mean that Chance is out for the pennant and is leaving nothing undone in an effort to grab it. With Love back in the box, Chance will have a great staff in Love, Jack Ryan, Zabel, Standridge and Hogg. Terry at short will give him a wonderful infield, too. So that's why the fans hereabouts are beginning to suspect that the pair will be returning to their old home.

Reading the Green

Louis Guisto contributed a home run and a couple of singles to Portland's defeat of Salt Lake.

The score—Oh, speak it softly, 12 to 3.

It took the Tigers fourteen innings to lick Oakland, but the southerners turned the trick when Boyd, who relieved Beer, blew up and Mattick, McGaffigan and Fromme, the tail-end of the batting order, singled.

Half a dozen different varieties of chill wind almost played havoc with the Seals and Angels in their first meeting of the season by the bay, but they played a respectable 5 to 4 game, won by Los Angeles.

It was a thoroughly conventional baseball game, of course. Frank Chance struck out when they handed him a bouquet of posies seven feet high as he meandered to the rubber.

HARBERTSON BEATS BROWN ON FOWL

OGDEN, Utah, May 17. — Jack Harbertson, a local middleweight wrestler, was given the decision last night over Elmer (Pet) Brown of Taylor, Texas, claiming championship honors, on a foul, after a gruelling match lasting over an hour.

The men weighed in at 3 p. m., Brown tipping the beam at 155½; Harbertson at 157 1-4.

DALEY A BIG HELP TO VERNON

"PETE" DALEY, HARD PLAYING OUTFIELDER OF THE VERNON CLUB, WHO WAS ONE OF THE FACTORS IN THE OAKS' DEFEAT YESTERDAY, AND IS REGARDED AS ONE OF THE ABLEST GARDENERS IN THE COAST LEAGUE.

Playing the game of his life for one "Ham" Patterson of the Tiger crew, we find Pete Daley, the former Los Angeles speed merchant. Pete, though this year is his first one with the Tigers, is not new to this league. Away back in 1909, 1910 and 1911, the red-topped outfielder was a star under "Pop" Dillon and when he was drafted by Connie Mack of the Athletics a gloom was cast over the whole Angel camp.

Pete played a year for Connie Mack, got a share of some world's series kale, and then drifted to the St. Louis Browns. He couldn't slug hard enough for the A. L. circuit and soon caught on in the International League where Eddie Maier located him. Now he is back with the Tigers and is playing the game of his life. Like "Ping" Bodie, Spider Baum, Schaller, Bunny Brief, Jack Ness, Tommy Quinlan and others, Daley is one of those ball players who is a whirlwind in the minor league, but is never fast enough for the big brush. Pietro is a truly wonderful gardener, however, and besides worrying many a catcher, he figures to give a lot of pitchers apoplexy through his batting.

STECHER WILL CLAIM GOTCH'S TITLE

OMAHA, Neb., May 17. — Joe Stecher, the Nebraska wrestler, is threatening to claim Frank Gotch's title as world's champion if the Iowan continues to refuse to meet him on the mat.

Gene Malady, who is promoting the match here on July 4, between Strangler Lewis and Stecher, announced today that the match would be for the world's title, insisting that Stecher's claim is valid.

STRACHAN TO DEFEND TENNIS TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. — Johnny Strachan, San Francisco tennis champion, will be given an opportunity to defend his title when the men's singles city championship is held here, May 27. Announcement of the date of the tournament was made today.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17. — The Northwestern baseball league increased its player limit from thirteen to fourteen men by a vote taken by mail, it was announced at league headquarters today.

YALE TENNIS PLAYER LEAD.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 17.—Yale won two tennis matches in the singles and one set in the doubles against the University of Michigan tennis team yesterday when rain stopped further play.

Boehler and Boland of Detroit were hit for nine runs in the first inning and when they began sweeping the blood out of the arena the Senators were on the juicy end of a 15 to 3 tally.

DURANT SETS ANOTHER NEW RECORD

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Cliff Durant in a night circuit over the route between Los Angeles and San Diego, driving a Chevrolet, established a new motor record of seven hours fifty-five minutes between these two points, finishing here early today.

Durant covered 230 miles. He passed through the exposition gates at San Diego. Durant completed the trip at an average having slightly less than fifty miles an hour.

OAKLAND RIFLEMEN STAR ON RANGE

In the first record shoot of the season, held on the Fort Barry range Sunday, the Oakland Rifle Club demonstrated conclusively that, should he need them, Uncle Sam can look to the civilian clubs for some of his most formidable fighting men.

Considering their unfamiliarity with the range and their comparative inexperience with the government high-power rifles, some of the scores made over at Fort Barry Sunday were phenomenal.

A. Rowland was high man with 133 out of a possible 150 points, being followed by F. Coulter with 128 points, C. Lillamo with 126, F. R. Rowland with 119 and J. A. Tillman with 117.

The firing line was in charge of the club's executive officer, C. W. Cox. William Man and J. B. Nichols supervised the marking in the butts.

The next meet will be held June 17.

EIGHT COACHES AT PRINCETON.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 17.—The athletic board of control at Princeton yesterday appointed eight football coaches to assist Head Coach Rush next fall. The men are Harold Ballin, '15; Phillip King, '93; A. T. Hildebrand, 1906; Samuel White, '12; Thomas Wilson, '15; Bluethenthall, '13; Crukshank, former Washington and Jefferson star, now a student at Princeton seminary, and Ed Shea, a senior in the university.

Philadelphia beat Cincinnati in the first inning when triples by Nicholl and Cravath followed two walks. Final scores: Philadelphia, 4; Cincinnati, 3.

VERNON WINS 14-INNING STRUGGLE FROM OAKS, 7-6

Art Fromme With Single Breaks Up Longest Game of Season.

LOS ANGELES, May 17. — Vernon defeated Oakland, 7 to 6, in their opening ball game of the week's series here yesterday after the longest contest of the season on the local grounds. The game ended as the sun was disappearing after three hours and twenty-five minutes of play and fourteen innings.

Pitcher Fromme won his own game with a single that sent home the winning run. Manager Elliott of Oakland was sent from the field in the ninth for disputing a close decision at first. When ordered from the game he threw a baseball at Umpire Doyle.

The Oaks got away with a three run lead, held it with 5 to 2 at the beginning of the eighth, when the Tigers woke up, chased Beer out and took the lead by running in four men.

In the ninth, with Indian Johnson pitching, Kenworthy singled and an out and Barry's double brought in the tying score.

Boyd, who replaced Beer, was strong until the fourteenth, when he went to pieces, allowing three singles, by Mattick, McGaffigan and Fromme, which gave the game to the Tigers.

Fromme worked the last five frames for Vernon, and gains credit for the victory, although he didn't do near all the hard work. Score:

MARTIN'S PARENTS FITCHBURG GUESTS AT OAKS' BALL

The Fitchburg Social and Improvement Club has reserved two boxes for the Oaks ball at the Auditorium, the night of June 1, and will have as honored guests Mr. and Mrs. Martin, father and mother of Elwood "Speed" Martin. The boxes will be handsomely decorated and filled with roses. Some of the ladies of the club will serve as a reception committee, and the motto of the evening will be "Watch Our 'Speed.'"

The Martin family has lived in Fitchburg for many years, and the community is very proud of the success attained by Elwood. The club promises an attendance of 125 at the ball, and has named its own arrangements committee in the persons of Chairman G. E. Shelden, J. J. Chaudet and Roy Driesback.

CHANCE WINS AS FITZ TAKES CHANCES AND IS PINCHED

Los Angeles celebrated the first appearance of Frank Chance as manager of the Angel team by beating San Francisco yesterday, 5 to 4. Brown, the Seal pitcher, was not in his usual form but at that the Seals might have tied the score in the ninth but for Fitzgerald's ill-advised effort, with two men out, to steal home from third.

With two out, Curly Brown singled and Fitzgerald tripled to center. Biff Schaller came to bat, and with the tieing run on third the crowd stopped at the exits and pulled for extra innings. Just what prompted the Seal speed pill to start rolling home will never be known, but he must have been affected by the wind or something, for there was not a chance in the world for him to register. Fitz was tossed out easily.

A fierce wind that swept across the diamond throughout the game made life miserable for players and spectators. Kahler, former Beaver, pitched swell ball until the eighth when he was derricked in favor of Pete Standridge, former Seal.

HEAVY HITTING MAKES BEAVER VICTORY EASY

Lou Guisto Climbs Into Limelight With Another Home Run; Ryan Hits Homer.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 17.—Portland won the opening game of the series yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. The contest was featured with the free hitting of both clubs, six pitchers being used, but none proved effective. Guisto and Ryan hit for home runs.

Salt Lake was in the lead for just one inning, the first. In that frame the Beavers only scored one run while the Bees tallied twice. But in the next inning the Beavers made up for their slow start when they pushed five runs over the rubber on five healthy hits. After that it was biff and bang in almost every inning, with either one team or the other scoring. Portland failed to hit safely in just one inning and that was the last, when they were so far ahead that it did not matter.

THE SPORTING MIRROR

Pertinent Comment and Gossip

Roy Corhan won his way further in the favor of the St. Louis fans and Manager Miller Huggins yesterday when he drew a walk off "Wheezer" Dell, pitcher for the Dodgers, and then scored the winning tally on Snyder's single and Butler's sacrifice fly. St. Louis thus won the game by a score 5 to 4. Rube Marquard started the game but was hammered for three runs in the very first inning, Dell relieving him. Bob Bescher lammed out a home run.

The Phillies' chances for the N. L. pennant were given a severe jolt in the game between the Phillies and Cincinnati yesterday when Davey Bancroft crushed a finger of his right hand, which will necessitate his being out of the game for two weeks. Philadelphia won, nevertheless, scoring all their runs off Pitcher Schulz of the Reds in the opening inning on two walks, triples by Neihoff and Cravath and a sacrifice fly. The Reds tried hard to catch up but could only score three runs off Mayer, the Phillies winning 4 to 3.

"Ham" Patterson used sixteen players in effort to bring home the bacon yesterday, four of this number being pitchers. Jack Quinn started the game for the Tigers but was relieved by Ellis Johnson, who pitched to just three batters in the eighth, Chief Johnson then taking the mound. Fromme relieved the Indian and finished the game. All in all it was a wild and wooly battle.

McGaffigan, the youngster whom "Ham" Patterson plucked out of the Western League, is more than living up to expectations. Arty connected for four singles yesterday, all coming at opportune times. Besides, he handled eleven chances in the field without an error.

Walter Doane added to his batting average, too, with three safeties, while Rube Gardner cracked out a triple, double and single. Lane, Kenworthy, Elliott, Davis, Gleischman, Risberg and Mattick each got two hits.

Dutch Klawitter is due to take the mound for the Oaks today, with Ellis Johnson probably working for Patterson. Frank Arrelanes may be selected by Patterson, however, for he held "Rowdy's" sluggers to three measly bingles a while back.

Roxy Middleton advanced to the plate eight times during the afternoon and got on only once, and on that occasion through a walk. Roxy pulled down eight flies in the outfield, however.

The length of the Oak-Tiger fracas was three hours and 25 minutes. It was about 5:15 when the fans hoofed it out of the ball park.

Spark Plugs, Sage Hens, Cowboys, Rainbows, Smokestacks, Old Muddies, Vigilantes, Gophers, Gibson Girls, Mavericks, Gatling Guns, Punchers, Copperheads and Smeltermen are some of the names suggested.

But anyone who will take a look at the lineup should have no trouble suggesting a name that fits the club far better.

There is Bill Hurley, first baseman and manager, for instance. Bill was quite a ball player when the boys went marching away to Cuba.

Pug Bennett is entitled to a pension for bringing the news of the battle of the Alamo. He was playing ball down in that country when the Rio Grande was a creek.

PROUGH LOSES HIS JEWELRY AT BALL GROUNDS

LOS ANGELES, May 17. — Detective Prough of Oakland, co-operating with local police, is active in Los Angeles today. Prough is not a regular detective, but a pitcher on the Oakland team. Yesterday at Washington park, while the fourteen inning game between Oakland and Vernon was in progress, Prough's watch, $15 and a prized medal were stolen.

PRAYER OF THE OAK FAN.

O Lord, send us some pitchers. Give unto us a man or men who can hurl 'em over without hearing the umpire yell, "Take your base," and who can put over a third strike in the pinches. Give unto us a pitcher who can hold a lead of three runs just once in awhile; give unto us a pitcher who will not run out of saliva and steam; will not become balmy in the belfry, and cross his catcher. Give unto us a twirler who can stand the gaff without curling. In short, O Lord, give unto us another "Speed" Martin and accept our thanks and nineteen ball players in return.

A GOVERNMENT FOLLY.

Objections without number have been raised to the revised administration shipping bill reported to the House last week. The most emphatic is that concerning the provision authorizing the proposed shipping board to fix rates of ocean freight carrying. Fixing of prices by law always is objectionable, and its questionable methods and morals on the part of the Federal Government to signalize its entry into the questionable business of commerce by assuming to fix trans-oceanic rates for American merchant vessels, when it is absolutely without power to regulate the rates of vessels operated under a foreign flag.

Economists also almost unanimously criticize the intention of the government to conduct its experiment in the shipping business for only five years. Of course the government must buy new ships—there are no old ones to be had—at exorbitant prices and expect to liquidate the Federal merchant ship corporation when the demand for more shipping has passed and vessels are to be had at much lower prices. This is not the most uninviting feature of the business, however. When the time for liquidation has arrived, which is to be five years after the close of the European war, all stock in the Federal corporation not held by the government shall be taken over by the government at a "fair value" and paid for out of government funds.

It is a delightful adventure, this of the government going into a private business certain to result in heavy losses, but in which the private partners of the government are guaranteed against loss. We find here a striking instance of the methods used by the promotion shark to catch "suckers" minus the selfish cunning of the shark.

Out from among the numerous other follies of the revised bill, which are disclosed by a reading of the full text, stands one apparent virtue. The date of the conclusion of the European war shall be fixed by proclamation of the President of the United States. The purpose of this is to fix legally the date from which the five years of life of the money-merchandise venture of the government may be reckoned. But since it will take at least two years for the government to get Mr. McAdoo's shipping concern going, the President will have plenty of time to proclaim the end of the war.

Without question the revised bill is more objectionable than the one which was killed in the sixty-third Congress by the filibuster lead by Senator Clarke, Democrat. To the weakness of the old bill has been added the foolish provision of limiting its operation to five years afer the close of the war. This was inserted to appease the objections of private business interests, and it may succeed. But will members of Congress be so recklessly extravagant as to drop a tidy fifty million dollars into a certain failure when the country is already over-burdened with special taxes and facing additional ones?

JAPANESE PRESUMPTION.

Congress has taken steps toward amending the proposed immigration legislation in such manner as to meet the objections raised to the original bill by the Japanese Government. The modified "Asiatic Exclusion" section will put the bar up against peoples residing in certain geographical latitudes of the Far East. Japan is discreetly left outside the affected zones.

It will be recalled that the protest of Ambassador Chinda was not on account of the form of the immigration bill as reported in the House, but against the United States presuming to enact legislation of any kind regarding the admission of Orientals into the country, so long as Japan was in danger of being considered an Oriental nation. In effect Japan insists upon settling the United States immigration question in her own way, so far as it may affect Japanese.

The whole controversy is in the main one of principle. Japan considers that the "Gentlemen's Agreement" negotiated by Secretary of State Root and Ambassador Takahira "limited" Japanese immigration and that it would be an affront to Japan if the United States should now seek to enact regulations concerning immigration. Although the bill in its original form does not mention Japanese it employs the word "Asiatic," so Japan has sought to block, seemingly with fair measure of success, regulation of all Asiatic immigration because Japan is an Asiatic country.

It is little short of preposterous that Japan should be permitted to interject her new-born susceptibilities into purely domestic American affairs. As a matter of principle, Congress should decline to listen to such presumption. The Senate proposal to tediously map out all of Asia into imaginary zones of racial nativity is ridiculous.

It is a surrender of our inherent right to regulate according to our own lights the admission of foreign citizens into our territories, and we should not make such a surrender. Besides it is begging the issue to attempt to draw distinctions between the objections to Chinese, Hindus and Japanese to admission to the country. The need for restricting Asiatic immigration is based upon economic grounds and there is no difference in Oriental economic standards to justify any differentiation as to the geographical location of the homes of prospective immigrants. The immigration question looms too large and uncertain in the future for Congress to begin now to waive any portion of its power to settle it according to the best interests of the United States.

IMMIGRANTS IN CALIFORNIA

Immigration is rapidly becoming a more important factor in the affairs of California. The second annual report of the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, which has just been published, emphasizes the necessity and the value of a constructive and intelligent immigration policy. California ranks fourth among all the States in the number of immigrants arriving during 1915.

Agitations of various sorts during the last year and a half have demonstrated the absolute necessity of devising and carrying out successful "Americanization" processes on immigrants.

It is important that all newcomers be assimilated by the older citizenship and enabled to understand and made to conform to America's ideas of patriotism and national loyalty. During most of last year the population of the labor camps of the State was 75,000, and there was represented in this army of laborers over forty different nationalities. Labor forces are always shifting and moving on to some other locality. Statistics compiled by the immigration commission show that to maintain a railway labor camp of 1000 men for a year means the employment of 12,000 individuals, as the personnel of the camps change completely on an average of once a month.

Assimilation of immigrations has been given practically no attention in the past, and even now most sections of the country have only entered upon discussion of abstract theories of it. We must and will give it practical attention in the future. The first step toward making our task lighter is to reject those classes of immigrants which by their unchangeable nature are not susceptible of assimilation. This is the duty of the national government and if it is not performed effectively the diffefent States will be greatly handicapped in their part of the work.

The deficit in the National treasury is over fifty million dollars for the present fiscal year. It was one hundred million last fiscal year. It will be two hundred million next fiscal year unless Congress revises its revenue-raising system and provides the country with protection against industrial and financial disaster.

THE MEXICAN VIEWPOINT.

We are confronted by the most serious, the most grave moment of our national life. We are facing the tremendous danger of war, which we have never desired and never desired provoked, and which surely is not desired by the United States.

The nation ought to know the truth and ought to consider that all the sacrifices, all the anguish, which our struggles to purify our political organization and reconquer the liberties of the people have cost should not be rendered sterile by an absurd and unjust war.

But before obstinacy, and in the light of recent events and the unjust attitude of a great power, Mexico should remember the figures of Cuauhtemoc and Juarez, and know that life without honor is worth nothing.

From the beginning the struggle to implant a constitutional form of government has been met with constant difficulties from Washington, which we have met with impartiality, good faith, and a legitimate defense of the general interests of the country. In the United States, refugee Mexicans, in union with capitalists, Catholics and American adventurers, have plotted to undo the work of the revolution.

The stupid aggression of Villa and his bandits is not an isolated factor, but is connected with the work of these divers elements along the frontier, who daily try to overthrow the Constitutionalist government and disturb the tranquillity of the United States.

Far from trying to reach an agreement that would be sensible and equitable, so that the roots of these conspiracies might be cut, once for all, the United States sends a so-called punitive expedition into Mexican territory and prolongs the conflict, instead of settling it through diplomatic channels. Historic precedents do not uphold these proceedings.

We have yet the right to believe that President Wilson, who knew how to face the great crisis of the European war, who has proclaimed and sustained his pacific theories, who has seen through the schemes of filibusters, and who has opened his arms to the Latin-American republics in an appeal for continental solidarity under the Monroe Doctrine, will not retrace his steps, will not tear up the foundations of his prestige by unchaining a war which nothing can justify, and sacrifice a people already weakened and bled by their internal struggles.

Against such a war are the collective interests of both countries, but if, unfortunately, we are dragged into such a war, President Wilson may rest assured that never again will the United States have the confidence of a single Latin-American nation. And as for Mexico, while one Mexican stands, the ground which he covers will be his home, his asylum, his honor.

INCOME TAX FROM ALIENS.

In its opposition to the treasury ruling that the income tax shall hereafter be collected on interest and dividends payable to non-resident aliens upon their American investments the Investment Bankers' Association lays stress upon the opinion of Attorney General—now Justice of the Supreme Court—McReynolds that such funds were exempt.

Receipts derived from such taxation on non-resident aliens would not be sufficient to counterbalance the injury to the standing of American securities abroad and the consequent incitement to foreign investors to dispose of them.—New York Herald.

UNCLE SAM'S PLIGHT

Some Bands a Business Administration Would Unloose.

AMERICA'S FOREIGN COMMERCE

By FRANK A. VANDERLIP.

If there ever was a time for conferences, and for the cultivation of a spirit of unity and co-operation among American business men, and all classes of Americans, that time is now. We are not, as yet in the war, and we hope that, without sacrifice of honor and self-respect, we may be able to remain out of it, but in no event can we escape the effects of it, and the war is so stupendous an affair in the world that those effects must be very great and far-reaching.

The enormous demands upon our markets, and the abnormal changes in prices, are significant of the violent disturbance in economic processes that is taking place, and the fact that the changes just now are in our favor is not entirely reassuring. It would be worth something again to get back under a rule of order and certainty even though for the moment we are profiting by disorder and confusion.

The first shock of the war was paralyzing to business in this country; the second effect was that of great industrial stimulus, and we are under that influence now. It is an extraordinary state of affairs when wages in the steel industry are advanced twice, 10 per cent each time, within three months, with advances in the textile mills and other industries almost as great. They signify that all industry is on a shifting base, that we are riding on a tidal wave, and that we cannot tell where we will be when normal conditions are restored.

The nations with whom our trade is most important are banded together in two groups, pledged to support each other at least to the end of the war, and beyond that nobody can tell what their economic alliances or economic policies will be. We know, however, that the passion for national strength and self-sufficiency has been everywhere strengthened, and that the instinct of self-protection will tend to keep the alliances alive. We may expect also that the control of economic conditions and policies will be more highly centralized than before; in short, that trade and industry in these two groups of nations will be more highly organized and more harmoniously directed than before.

The stress of economic competition will not be lessened by the war. On the contrary, there will be in each country a greater incentive than ever existed before to recover lost ground and assure the national position. There will be a sharper spur upon effort, and a more strenuous demand for efficiency, in every industry, than was known before. The supremacy of Germany in the dye industry, which had its origin in England, has with tremendous emphasis brought home to England the necessity for the application of science to industry and for more scientific instruction in the schools.

Michigan primaries recorded 83,055 votes for Henry Ford, 77,872 for William Alden Smith, 1674 for Roosevelt, 303 for Hughes. The resolutions committee of the State Republican convention has recommended the Michigan delegates to Chicago to support Hughes or "some other good Republican." The last in the primary was the first in the convention, apparently. Mr. Ford is entitled to the first ballot. Then the delegates will proceed as if neither he nor the primary existed.

What did those 152,307 votes cost the State of Michigan? The Minnesota average was said to be about $2 a vote. The high price, so far as quotations have come in, was in Beaverhead county, Montana. According to the Butte Post "the figure for that county will be an average hardly less than $6 a vote." What sum is too high to pay for this palladium of popular liberty?—New York Times.

THE SPRING COLD.

What is so rare as a cold in the spring!
Then, if ever, come perfect colds.
The myriad cold germs whistle and sing,
While you to your handkerchief manfully cling,
And vainly try some comfort to bring
To your mournfully stricken soul.

Your dear friends will faithfully try everything
On you as a cure for the cold.
You find that relief time only will bring,
For the gold germs still whistle and gleefully sing,
Still working your nose like a wet weather spring,

PLOTTERS

They Are Not Entitled to the Same Consideration as "Political Refugees"

To the Editor of The Tribune.

Referring to your editorial of the 6th inst concerning the question of the Hindu immigration, I will esteem it a favor if you will kindly publish the following lines in reply thereto:

You say "Hindu sojourners here caused us some unpleasant speculation. Plots of insurrection have been hatched here and directed and financed from this port." I wish to distinctly deny that any such plots have been hatched by Hindus in this country. It is true that Hindus here desire to see India free from British rule, and it is also true that a number of Hindus have gone from here to India who have been accused of inciting insurrection and some even have been hanged and otherwise punished. But it is not true that they were the originators of rebellion in India. The revolution in India has been going on since 1907. Several thousand Hindus had been sent to prison and many hanged before the Hindus referred to above have gone to India.

We are publishing our paper here, The Hindustan Gadar, solely for the purpose of advocating the principles of political freedom upon which the independence of the United States was founded, and in the same way that the Irish World, the Gaelic American and other prominent Irish papers advocate the independence of Ireland, so do we advocate the independence of India.

It is not becoming to a great country like this which does not believe in human slavery and which demanded for itself political independence from England, to adopt a policy of deporting political refugees and of excluding from its midst those who come here seeking to escape from poverty and political degredation or in search of higher conditions in life, as is the purpose of the few Hindus who have come here.

Sincerely yours,
Editor Hindustan Gadar.

(The statement of the editor of the Hindustan Gadar in the last paragraph of the above letter is characteristic of the tactics of foreign propagandists in appealing to popular American prejudices. The United States has never followed a policy, nor is it likely it ever will adopt a policy, of deporting political refugees merely because they are refugees from a foreign country. This country has always extended a cordial welcome to those of other lands who were "seeking to escape from poverty and political degredation, or in search of higher conditions of life." Congress, however, has enacted laws against political refugees using this country as a plotting ground against other governments, or participating in any way in revolutionary movements abroad. The TRIBUNE does not believe these laws are drastic enough or that they are enforced with sufficient diligence—Editor of The TRIBUNE.)

SOMETHING IN A NAME.

Shakespeare says: "What's in a name?" Well, there certainly seems to be something in the name Hughes. Sam Hughes is the war minister of Canada, W. Hughes is the premier of Australia, and Charles Hughes is justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Each is among the foremost in his nation. The name Hughes, originally the Norman Hugo, is Celtic—either Irish of Welsh. The name means men of extraordinary energy, of common sense and of a remarkable gift of speech. They are not large men, but possess great powers of endurance. They are dark, hairy men, full of life and vigor, progressive in business and politics. Lloyd George ought to be a Hughes, for he has the Hughes qualities and presumably a strain of the Hughes blood. There is something in the name or in the men who bear it.—Hartford Times.

BATTERED HAT ADDS TO MYSTERY

Woman Slain in Most Brutal Manner; No Clew

PORTLAND, Ore., May 17. — Less than 100 yards from the house in which Helen Jennings was found murdered in her bed last night the hat of Fred Ristman, a chauffeur, was discovered today. Portland city detectives who are cooperating with Washington county authorities believe that Ristman was also murdered after driving the murderer to Mrs. Jennings' farm near Tualatin, to prevent his disclosing the slayer's identity. The hat was battered in.

Mrs. Jennings, who was the divorced wife of J. S. Seed and of O. O. Jennings, was the daughter of the late Captain G. A. Gore, a sister of Mrs. J. H. Wilson of Salem and Albany, Ore., and of Mrs. E. H. Robinson of Tualatin. The Gore family is one of the foremost among the pioneers in the Tualatin valley.

The murder of Mrs. Jennings was committed in the old Gore house. Robbery appeared to have been a motive as the house was ransacked and drawers and cupboard scattered about.

The fate of Ristman, who was hired about 8 o'clock Monday evening by an unknown man, is a mystery, but sheriffs from two counties are working on the theory that he, too, has been murdered and his body secreted. His automobile indicated a murderous encounter.

WAS BRUTAL CRIME.

The murder of Mrs. Jennings was brutal. She was hammered to death as she lay sleeping. She was alone in the house at the time. Blow after blow with a huge sledgehammer appeared to have been rained on her face and head. A searching party of four Portland officers hunting for Ristman came upon the scene of the crime this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Jennings was the former wife of O. O. Jennings, a Southern Pacific trainman running now between Roseburg and Ashland, and also of J. S. Seed, a prominent building contractor of Portland. She divorced Jennings about ten years ago and later married Seed, from whom she got a divorce a short time afterwards. She then resumed the name of Jennings.

The police and authorities of the nearby counties are looking for Bennett Thompson an ex-convict, who is known to have sought to pay attention to Mrs. Jennings. He has disappeared.

The officers late last night abandoned the robbery theory.

The man who is sought is known to have tried to force his attentions on Mrs. Jennings. She frequently expressed fear of him.

"I wouldn't have him angry at me for anything in the world," she told a neighbor recently.

Mrs. Jennings was 41 years old. She was the divorced wife of Orville O. Jennings, a Southern Pacific railroad man. After her divorce from Jennings, she married J. S. Seed, a Portland contractor, and later separated from him.

She was the daughter of the late Captain A. Gore.

NOT FOR ROBBERY.

Robbery was not the motive, officers are convinced. The murder apparently was carefully planned. At 8 p. m. Monday a man answering the description of the man sought hired Ristman to take him to Sherwood. He carried a bag of tools and said he was a plumber.

Ristman failed to return. His wife and friends were alarmed and started a search yesterday. At Sherwood they found no trace of him.

Returning, they saw his automobile near the home of Mrs. Jennings. Finding nobody about the place, they looked into the machine and saw that it was spattered with blood. They rushed to Tualatin and summoned officers.

The door of the house was broken open. Mrs. Jennings' body was lying in bed. A pillow had been thrown over her face. The heavy sledge hammer was beside the bed. A single blow, and a terrific one, had crushed her head flat.

ENTERED BY WINDOW.

The murderer evidently gained entrance to the house through a window. Officers believe Ristman was murdered before arriving at Mrs. Jennings' home and that the murderer disposed of his body along the road. The blood on the automobile was in the back of the car. It is thought Ristman's body was carried in the tonneau after he was slain.

HAASE TACTICS CONFUSE FRIENDS

Conflicting Theories Are Developed in Shooting Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Despair following disgrace or exposure after years of honest living and fair dealing was given by Dr. S. C. Keck today as the foundation for his belief that William Haase had committed suicide and that his body would never be recovered.

At the same time a suspicion which entered the mind of Detective Harry Cook to the effect that Mrs. Haase may be cognizant of her husband's whereabout and that her apparent fortitude and bravery in her trouble is the result of knowledge that he is safe and will later send for her, will be made the subject of an investigation.

In that connection Dr. Keck also admits that the suspicion of such a state of affairs had also entered his mind.

"One time I think one thing and another time another," explained the physician today. "I cannot but believe, however, that Haase threw himself into the ocean from the cliffs. It is a characteristic of the German race to be unable to bear disgrace. To my knowledge Haase has been a good and honorable man for eighteen years. He felt keenly the disgrace that had come to him and his family and he was conscience stricken. There was no cause for him to run away, as his case would have been dismissed because Paul Swanberg would never have prosecuted him."

Dr. Keck said that he had watched Mrs. Haase in the belief that she might know where her husband is, but that he could get nothing from her to justify even a remote suspicion.

To bear out this belief, however, is the fact that it was Mrs. Haase who found the bichloride tablets and that they were not on the table, but in the pockets of his coat. With them was an incoherent note which might have been hastily scribbled. Also there is the fact that Haase left home fully dressed and certainly in his right mind, to visit his lawyer's offices. Dr. Keck will seek to question Mrs. Haase again regarding this theory.

Swanberg is out of danger at Adler Sanitarium and will be taken home next week.

U. S. Must Produce More, Says Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Wilson today placed his O. K. on the federal trade commission's encouragement of trade associations and similar organizations in a letter addressed to Vice-Chairman Hurley. The President said that the United States must be more efficient in producing if it is to be an important factor in the world's markets. He appealed to the commission to continue its co-operation with the country's busines men and keep down the mortality rate among American industries.

He said that the standardization of industries would reduce the cost of production and improve its quality, assure the output of better materials and more efficient workmanship.

Hospital Is Sued for $1000 Damages

Alleged neglect on the part of nurses and attendants while she was confined in the Fabiola hospital, with the result that her left foot was severely burned by a hot water bottle, has brought Mrs. Grace Mackay into the Superior Court in her suit for $1000 damages against the hospital association.

Mrs. Mackay's suit is being tried before Judge Everett J. Brown. She complained that while she was lying helpless in bed hot water bags were placed on her too hot, and that she is still suffering from complications caused by the burns.

The San Francisco Civic Auditorium is already coming to resemble a bit of Arabia, for the army of carpenters and scene-hangers that have taken possession of the big building are well on their way toward transforming it into the city of Bagdad.

Besides planning to sell dolls at the bazaar, several young women are conducting a popularity contest. The tally of votes last night showed Miss Dolly Pape leading, with 2500 votes; Miss Ethel Koeberer second, with 2000 votes; Miss Viola Buttleman, with 1750, and Miss Ethel Steffens, with 1750, tied for fourth place. Mrs. John M. Steffens and Mrs. Henry F. Rudde are the presidents of this booth.

There will be seventy booths in all at the bazaar. Dr. Magnus, the director, reports the show ready, and P. J. Prinz and the San Francisco Turn Verein members who will make up the ballet are prepared for opening day. The bazaar will open Friday and continue until Wednesday, May 24. Matinees will be given Saturday and Sunday.

Business Men to Inspect Waterfront

Oakland business men, railroad engineers and others will be the guests tomorrow of President G. K. Weeks of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, on an inspection trip over the new solid fill. The Key Route Engineers have been working for some months on the new fill, which will be one of the important factors in the future development of the Oakland water front. The fill is to be used at once, the company officials state.

Says Parole Bill Not for Individual

That the law passed by the legislature in 1913 providing that a prisoner who is sentenced to two or more cumulative terms may apply for parole after having completed two years, was not introduced to apply to any special case is the statement of Senator E. J. Tyrrell, who introduced the bills and amendments.

It has been reported that the bills were introduced for the especial benefit of Marshall Black, former State senator from Santa Clara county, who was paroled under the law to take effect the first of the month.

Senator Tyrrell in denying the reports pointed out that the bills were introduced before Marshall Black was sentenced, which was in November, 1913, several months after the legislature adjourned.

The senator also denied that the bills had been introduced for the benefit of Abe Ruef, then in San Quentin. He said that the amendment was added to prevent any such construction of the law.

Has New Way to Steal Motorcycles

Leo Barnett 671 Eighth street, went to San Francisco today to answer an advertisement for a man, wanted to work, with a motorcycle. He took his machine along. A stranger met him, took him to the postoffice and asked him to wait. He waited some minutes, and then discovered that his machine was stolen. The advertisement, the police say, is a new "dodge" for stealing motorcycles.

TAXI FIRM OUSTS ITS MANAGER

Disposition of Funds to Other Venture Given as Cause

G. M. Anderson's Company Lets Out Robert Matches

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—After the successful management of the Gray Taxi Company, of which Gilbert M. Anderson, known as "Broncho Billy," motion picture magnate, is the sole owner, Robert P. Matches has been relieved, and is now in New York, following a diversion of funds from the corporation into other ventures in which both he and Anderson were interested. Although bringing the Gray Taxi Company to a high state of efficiency which resulted in its earning a net profit of $29,000 last year, Matches is said to be a poor hand in directing the distribution of funds and in consequence a change in the management was ordered.

An expert placed on the books to discover exactly how much money has been taken from the taxi company and placed in the hydro-motor company and in an Arizona mine venture has already discovered the transfer of approximately $8000.

PRAISE FOR HIM.

"Matches is absolutely a man of honor and integrity and isn't guilty of the misappropriation of any funds," declared Allen Moyer, who handles Anderson's real estate business in this city. "Ever since the Gray Taxi Company was organized Matches has been the manager. He has been responsible for its success. It was well managed, but the handling of the finances was poorly conducted. Money earned by the taxi company has been invested in other corporations in which Anderson and Matches were jointly interested. No criminality attaches to Matches. It was deemed best, however, to find another manager, and on May 1 he was relieved, and, with his wife, went to New York. I know where he is and could easily locate him if desired. His salary was $500 a month. The automobile he sold was bought by the company for his personal use, but he held the bill of sale and I believe had the legal right to sell it.

"The financial condition of the Gray Taxi Company is shown by the fact that its liabilities are less than $10,000 and its assets approximately $65,000."

PRESIDENT TALKS.

Colonel Herbert Choynski, who is Anderson's legal personal representative in San Francisco, is president of the taxi company. He is attending a courtmartial at Yerba Buena island today, but from his office it was learned that the money which had found its way into the Hydro-Motor Company had been used to exploit various patents, and also other funds had been taken for the mine venture.

"One thing is certain, Matches did not take any of the money for his own personal use," said one of Colonel Choynski's staff. "He had been successful in the Gray Taxi Company and he was anxious to make a success of the other ventures. That is all there is to it. Matches is an honorable man and no suspicion of wrongdoing attaches to him."

The experts who have been working on the company books have been thoroughly tabulating the sums transferred to the other corporations.

One Pair of Glasses for Far and Near

Time, trouble and disposition are all saved by the recent invention of grinding the equivalent of two pairs of glasses in one. These new lenses are called "Caltex" Onepiece Bifocals, and the reading and distance corrections are actually ground from one piece of perfect optical glass. No necessity for having one pair of glasses for reading and one for distance if you wear "Caltex" Onepiece Bifocals—a great improvement over all other double vision lenses. Remember the name and insist upon having "Caltex," as there are imitations of this wonderful lens. Ground at the three establishments of the California Optical Co., 1221 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post St. and 2508 Mission St., San Francisco.—Adv.

Wounded Woman Bosses Doctors

Walks Out, Returns For Treatment

"If I am going to die, I am going to die—that's all there is to it. You're not going to operate on me."

Mrs. Nettie Harris, 644 West street, so protested to surgeons at the emergency hospital early this morning when she was brought in by the police from her home, where she had been slashed with a knife said to have been wielded by William W. Smith, one of several visitors. Smith was placed under arrest.

In spite of the efforts of Dr. A. C. Smith the patient refused to be properly treated. She walked away from the hospital with her husband. This morning at 7 o'clock she returned and expressed a willingness to be "fixed up." Many stitches were taken in the wound by Dr. Smith and Dr. H. E. Franck.

According to the husband there had been a party in his home. He said that he did not believe that Smith, whom he did not know very well, intended to cut his wife. Neither did he think that he intended to cut anybody. The police have a theory that Smith may have been whetting the blade and it slipped, or that he was brandishing it as a farewell as Mrs. Harris stood on the porch.

ASK WHOLE CITY PAY FOR WIDENING

Encinal Protest Is Made Against District Plan

Citizens Favor Street Work; Voice Other Objections

ALAMEDA, May 17.—The city council partially heard the Encinal avenue widening protests last night. Further consideration was continued until the first council meeting in June. Much to the surprise of the commissioners and other supporters of the widening project, the protestors did not oppose the street opening, but wished the council to dismiss the present proceedings and widen the street through a tax levy distributed over the entire city. At the time the proposition was first broached in earnest, some five or six years ago, the city-wide tax was actively favored by many citizens, but the council then in power decided on an extensive improvement district instead. The district as finally constituted embraces all territory east of Park street and also includes a narrow strip west of Park, the western line being 100 feet west of the west line of Park street. The total area embraced is in excess of 25 per cent of the total area of the city.

CALLS FOR $33,500.

The work as outlined by the commission in the report made public last night calls for an expenditure of $33,500. Seven houses were purchased outright and twenty-three strips and parcels of land purchased, or rather contracted for, as no deals have yet been consummated and no money paid down to property owners. This report effectually offsets statements that the work was costing $50,000. The damage awards were made up by the commissioners on data secured by their own investigations and from a field clerk an appraising board of real estate men and figures submitted by an architect and builder on cost of replacing buildings to be purchased, together with the present value of the buildings.

Colonel George D. Shadburne appeared as attorney for some of the protestants. He said he favored the improvement, but wanted the city at large to pay for it.

Attorney A. C. Kane appeared for the Cohen estate, which is assessed a total approximating $2000. He said that his clients were emphatically in favor of the widening but objected to the district as formed. He said the widening would mean an improved train service as the electric trains now slow down to a snail's pace while traversing the narrow lane between Broadway and Versailles avenue. Keane argued that the assessment showed inequalities.

PROTESTS ASSESSMENT.

Attorney D. H. Knox protested that his assessment on Encinal avenue was unfair. He represented some seven property owners who occupy a unique position. These property owners gave land free for the widening and installed walks and other improvements. Under the law the commission saw no opportunity of recognizing the concessions already made by these property owners and they were assessed a high rate, the same as the adjoining property owners, who are being allowed substantial damages. The commission has considered several plans of affording some measure of relief to these seven property owners.

E. S. Goding was another property owner with a unique objection. Goding voluntarily widened a portion of the narrow roadway several years ago and improved his portion. He gave a deed to the city, which was accepted. The deed provides that Goding's Encinal avenue property should not be assessed when the street was widened. The commission held that it could take no cognizance of this agreement and further held that Goding had lost jurisdiction even if the deed was returned to him by the city, as the city had secured an easement over the property through the Goding strip being dedicated to public use.

Other speakers were W. T. Hitt, Jacob Bondi, S. D. Waterman, F. N. Delaney and James Shearman.

This Actually Devitalizes Coarse Hairy Growths

Stubborn growths of coarse hair which have been caused by the unwise use of pastes, rub-on preparations and worthless imitations of De Miracle, which merely remove hair from the surface of the skin, can only be devitalized with De Miracle, the original liquid hair remover, because it attacks hair under the skin as well as on the skin. Well groomed women always use De Miracle for removing hair from limbs and under the arms. De Miracle never disappoints. Drag the Bay for Crockett's Body
Friends Continue Their Sad Search

Young Bank Cashier's Widow Unadvised of Loss; Many Mourn

BERKELEY, May 17. — In a continued effort to recover the body of Harry S. Crockett, assistant cashier of the Berkeley branch of the Oakland Bank of Savings, from the waters of Suisun bay, where he was drowned, Albert Keller of Berkeley, who was with him in the accident Monday evening, has returned to Martinez. Word from there this forenoon was to the effect that no trace of the body has yet been found.

Sheriff's deputies and others are watching the shoals near Martinez in the hopes that the body will be washed ashore. The overturning of the sloop yacht Kittiwake, in which the two men were riding, occurred about three miles off the Martinez shore, and it was expected from the flow of the current that the remains must soon be found.

WIFE NOT ADVISED.

Friends of Crockett have foreborne so far from informing his widow of her sad bereavement. Mrs. Crockett, who was Miss Ethel Andrews until her marriage to the young banker two years ago, is visiting her parents in Los Angeles. On account of the delicate condition of her health, it has been found so far inadvisable to acquaint her with the news of the accident.

Crockett's death has been deeply felt by many residents of Berkeley, where he had resided for years and where he was favorably known in a wide circle of friends. He attended the University of California in the 1911 class, in which Keller, who is the son of M. J. Keller of Mandana avenue, Oakland, also was enrolled. He was a son of Frank Crockett of San Francisco, 35 years of age, and resided in this city at 1410 Josephine street.

Keller and Crockett had planned their trip for some months and had secured the boat in which they set out Saturday evening from a friend of the latter. They had expected to be away for about two weeks.

Exact details of how the accident occurred are still unavailable. Keller having returned to Martinez without telling the account in full. The men were sailing opposite Martinez when a sudden squall caught the boat and it almost immediately overturned. Both men were thrown into the water.

FISHERMEN SEARCH.

Two Italian fishermen in a smack not far away saw their plight and at once rowed to their aid. They hurled a life preserver to the pair who were struggling in the water. Crockett, who had always been considered an expert swimmer, at once struck out for shore and Keller seized the preserver. He was drawn to the boat and helped aboard. Then the fishermen started to assist Crockett; only to find that he had disappeared from sight. They rowed about the spot for upwards of half an hour in the hopes that he would reappear, but in vain. Whether he had been seized by cramps or had become exhausted in his battle with the heavy current that was running, Keller was unable to state.

The yacht, capsized, drifted ashore later in the night off Point Edith, below Martinez, where it was discovered by an employe of the Associated Oil Company. It was towed to Martinez.

LICENSE LAW TO TROUBLE SPRINGS

Miss Dorothy's Age Disclosure Gives Attorneys Basis for Suit.

BERKELEY, May 17.—The marriage license law of the State of California may become responsible for a loss of $10,000 to John H. Spring, Thousand Oaks millionaire, who is to be made defendant in a damage suit brought by attorneys for the family of Mrs. George Hermann Moore, a Honolulu woman run over and killed by an automobile which Miss Dorothy Spring was alleged to be driving. The suit was formerly abandoned because the attorneys supposed Miss Spring of age.

Recently, when she applied for a license to wed Lyman Covell, a wedding that objections of Spring prevented, it was necessary for Mrs. Spring to accompany her daughter to the license clerk's window to give her permission as the young lady is not yet 18 years old. This gave the attorneys a new foothold, for the Hawaiian law holds a father civilly liable for the tortuous acts of his minor children.

Morrison, Dunne & Brobeck of San Francisco represent the putative plaintiffs. Yesterday George J. Hatfield of this firm secured a certified copy of the marriage license that was never used, in which the young lady's age appeared.

While Mrs. Spring and Miss Spring were in Honolulu Miss Spring was involved in the accident upon which the suit is to be based. On her way in an automobile with Dr. J. C. Pedon, to whom she later announced her engagement, to an affair at the Country Club, the machine struck Mrs. Moore, whose death occurred not long afterward. Miss Spring was indicted by the grand jury at Honolulu on a charge of failure to render assistance to a person injured by an automobile.

Later this charge was reduced to a misdemeanor charge of driving an automobile at a reckless speed. Miss Spring pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $350. When legal representatives of Mrs. Moore attempted to secure damages from Spring they declare they were unable to prove that Miss Spring was a minor child. Such a showing would have to be made under the Hawaiian law. Then came the securing of the license to wed Covell and the admission therein that the fair heiress was several months short of being of age. Both Miss Spring and Mrs. Spring swore to the fact that she was but 17 at her last birthday. Immediately the attorneys went to work anew on the case. They expect to begin suit in the near future.

BODY AT MORGUE NOT IDENTIFIED

Alameda Mystery Remains Unsolved After Investigation.

ALAMEDA, May 17. — The body of a woman at the Alameda branch morgue is not that of Mrs. Roy Whitt of Visalia, for Mrs. Whitt has returned to her husband and home in the San Joaquin town after a mysterious absence of two weeks. Mrs. Whitt left Visalia April 30, leaving a note saying that she was going away, never to return and for her family not to look for her.

Visalia friends say Mrs. Whitt was probably temporarily demented, following a severe illness. Mrs. Whitt was believed to be the woman who walked into the ocean at the Cliff House a week ago Monday, and it was believed yesterday that her body had floated into the bay, through the Golden Gate and across the bay to the Alameda pier, where it was found Monday night.

The Alameda branch morgue officials still believed the Cliff House tragedy is linked with the woman's body at the morgue here. No other clues have been uncovered so far.

SALESMAN FINED.

ALAMEDA, May 17. — L. E. Pixley an Oakland coffee salesman, was fined $50 this morning by Police Judge La R. Welsmann after Pixley had pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. Prospective customers whom Pixley approached for trade complained to the police that Pixley grew abusive and insulting when refused patronage.

Aged Man Is Gored by Bull; May Die

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—J. H. Kessing, octogenarian businessman of this city and famed as the "Father of La Honda," lies at the point of death at that summer resort as a result of having been gored by a wild bull yesterday. He is suffering from wounds in the chest and legs. Because of his advanced age little hope is being held out for his recovery by Dr. J. L. Ross.

Kessing discovered the beauties of La Honda, San Mateo county, when a youth and established the first summer camp there. Though he had given up the camp as a business long ago, he spends several months of each year there.

The bull is the property of Mrs. Ida J. Spears, who conducts a summer resort in the vicinity of Kessing's place. Kessing is the fourth person to be attacked by this bull, and the La Honda citizens are wrathy.

Knights of Columbus Seek to Rebuild El Carmelo

BERKELEY, May 17. — Amateur and professional vaudeville talent was combined last night at the entertainment and dance of the Knights of Columbus given at the Twentieth Century Club house for the benefit of El Carmelo Mission. Members of the local council and their friends appeared in several musical numbers and the feature of the evening was a one-act skit entitled "Putting Freshie Through the Jumps."

Miss Dita Driscoll was another prominent in the evening's entertainment. Chinese Prowler Not Breaking Law

ALAMEDA, May 17. — A Chinaman prowling around Versailles avenue promises and flashing an electric torch late at night, is proving something of a mystery. The Celestial was seen by Jack French who reported the matter to the police. French and some other boys pursued the Chinaman when the latter ran and they saw him throw away a flashlight. Officers George Daly and Alfred Benton found two discarded flashlights and later located a Chinaman in Chinatown whom the boys identified as the mysterious prowler.

The Chinaman is known as Gar. He was formerly employed by F. P. McLennan, 1419 Versailles avenue. McLennan told the police that Gar had been discharged but that he was honest and not a crook so the Chinaman was released. The Chinaman denied the flashlights were his or that he had been in the Versailles avenue neighborhood of late.

BEACH SPIELERS WORRY ALAMEDA

City Council Hears Protests and Attends to Routine.

ALAMEDA, May 17. — Outside of the attention paid to the Encinal avenue widening matter, the meeting of the city council last night was devoid of special incident and was purely routine.

A protest from the Alameda Improvement club against the spielers for the bathing resorts performing in the Center of the street, was read and filed.

A request from the same club for a day and night police service on Webster street, was referred to the finance committee, the police and fire committee and the police and fire commission. If the finance committee can find the money a new policeman will be appointed immediately and Webster street will be afforded some sort of regular police protection. The club request referred to the unruly element growing conspicuous.

Councilman Walker said he objected to the statement about the unruly element as the bathing beach crowds were composed principally of orderly people. He, however, believed that Webster street should have a patrolman solely for that street, both day and night.

The recreation commission was allowed $800 for a water supply.

HAS NO AUTHORITY.

City Attorney A. F. St. Sure reported that the city had no authority to compel the water company to supply additional fire mains. The railroad commission claimed it also lacked power, and an appeal to the supreme court resulted in a refusal of the writ asked for by the city.

No opposition developed to the charter election next Tuesday. It was rumored recently an effort would be made to have the election postponed until the Reed three-city charter was ready for consideration.

The city attorney was instructed to proceed with condemnation suit against the G. H. Noble lot, which the Board of Education wants for high school purposes. The lot has a frontage of fifty feet on Central avenue.

Mrs. Josephine C. Lawton was named by City Engineer R. E. Jamieson as a deputy city engineer.

The city engineer announced that the new Central avenue specifications had been adopted by the city council without the city engineer examining or approving the specifications and the city engineer did not wish to be held responsible for the specifications or for any subsequent happening dependant upon these specifications. The communication was filed without comment.

C. H. Baker of Berkeley was denied a free peddling license. The council meeting hour was changed from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. The budget estimates were filed. The proposed closing of Nautilus street was referred to the committee of the whole. It is proposed to close the street at the request of the Alaska Packers. A city sewer is involved.

The council adjourned till next Tuesday night when the new Central avenue paving bids will be opened.

SMITH SEATED.

Councilman Leo Smith took his seat at the council meeting last night. He succeeds A. C. Meuer, resigned. A couple of handsome floral pieces adorned the desk of the new councilman when the council meeting opened. Council President E. B. Bullock named Smith on the license, park and playground and health committees.

Smith's first official vote was on the adoption of the ordinance changing the hour of council meeting from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. He had smooth sailing, the customary, tempestuous council seas being as unruffled as the proverbial mill pond, for a change.

At the close of the council session, Councilman William Hammond Jr. moved to hear a few remarks from the new councilman. Councilman Smith's remarks were confined to the statement that he would serve the citizens of the city to the best of his ability. A considerable delegation of the new councilman's friends was present to watch the new official start his councilmanic career.

SPECIAL NOW REGULAR.

Special Officer Richard Britt was made a regular patrolman by the police and fire commission last night. Britt succeeds the late Albert F. Huff who was buried yesterday afternoon and who died suddenly Sunday, after being taken ill while on his beat. Britt takes the former beat of the dead officer.

Britt was one of Alameda's diamond favorites a few years ago. He won considerable notice as a fielder and as a heavy sticker. He has been serving as a special for a considerable period. He is popular and widely known, and friends predict he will make an excellent officer. He draws for this first year of service the same pay as regular as is given a special, $90 a month. The second year the pay advances to $95 a month and the third year the pay reaches a maximum of $100 a month.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY MYSTERY VICTIM

ALAMEDA, May 17. — C. W. Lamp of 2461 East Twenty-seventh street, Oakland, called at the Alameda morgue this morning to view the body of the man found in the mud flats of San Leandro bay Sunday. Lamp believed it might be the body of his brother, Albert Lamp of Contra Costa county, but after looking at the body and clothing, Lamp said the body was not that of his missing brother.

The missing man is one of the heirs of the Lamp estate in Contra Costa county, which was settled several years ago. Albert Lamp's share, $6000 in cash on deposit in a bank, was left in trust by his mother, with a third brother, Henry Lamp of Lafayette, Contra Costa county, as trustee. Albert Lamp is paid the interest on the $6000 bequest. C. W. Lamp said this morning that his missing brother had been gone from his haunts in Contra Costa county for two weeks. The missing man is over six feet tall, weighs 190 pounds, had dark brown hair and a new dark brown or black beard, and is about 40 years of age. A fourth brother, Philip Lamp, lives at 511 Fifty-sixth street, Temescal.

The missing brother, according to C. W. Lamp, recently stole for the third or fourth time, the will of his mother, though the estate has long since been settled. Lamp said the brother frequently stole the will and attempted to interest attorneys in a legal fight to gain possession of the $6000 bequest.

Policemen Do Honor to Albert F. Huff

ALAMEDA, May 17. — The funeral of former Policeman Albert F. Huff, held yesterday afternoon, was the first police funeral by which the Alameda force paraded in full uniform. The police paraded when the late City Attorney W. M. Simpson was buried, but had never done so for a member of the department. The police platoon lined the passageway for the pallbearers and casket from the funeral chapel to the hearse and marched ahead of the hearse as far as the city hall, standing in two lines at attention in front of the city hall, as the funeral cortege passed.

The pallbearers were Sergeants Walter O. Jacoby, Edward Hadley and Patrolmen Charles Deuser, Edward Willing, Fred Hagan and William Coffman. The police department supplied an elaborate floral piece, a broken wheel, in the purchase of which all members of the department joined.

Numerous city councilmen and other city officials, including members of the police and fire commission, attended the funeral.

STARTS FOR FRANCE.

Farewells were regretfully said today to Miss Daisy Poll; when she boarded the train for New York, planning to sail on May 27 for France, there to resume the relief work that she had to drop more than a year ago on account of failing health. Though many of her friends around the bay wished to entertain for her before her departure, this interesting young woman found herself too busy to accept. Her leave taking was very quiet, consequently as was her arrival last year after her arduous experiences abroad.

Miss Polk intends sailing on a neutral ship to England, where she studied pianoforte for several years before crossing over to France.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

An engagement that has more than a passing and local interest attached to it is that of Miss Berenice D'Evelyn, an Alameda belle who distinguished herself abroad by her inspired feet and her beauty, to Major Carleton Woodford Allen of the Second Canadian Pioneer Battalion. This romance is the result of a meeting at the Exposition, where Major Allen represented the Canadian waterworks system.

Miss D'Evelyn, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D'Evelyn of Alameda, is only 18 years of age, but within that time she attended for a while the University of California, and studied both in the East and abroad. After displaying marked ability as a dancer at college, she took first honors at the Langer Club in Paris. This was at an invitation ball given by the American Dance Club during the summer of 1914. Then, on returning to this country she was a much admired figure in the ballroom of Hotel Astor. Her fiance, who is a university graduate and a civil engineer, lived at the University Club while in San Francisco, but is now with his regiment on the Flanders front. His family now live in London.

The wedding will take place in London next month, as Major Allen will obtain leave of absence for the ceremony.

FOR THE DAY NURSERY.

In spite of the many charitable affairs that have engaged the energies of the east bay society women this season, and in spite of the nearness of vacation, lively interest is being taken in the raising of a building fund to enlarge the day nursery conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Family in Eighth street.

Next Friday evening the first of the two events planned for this purpose will be held at Hotel Oakland. This is the elaborate ball and card tournament for which numbers of society women on both sides of the bay are patronesses. The second event is a big May festival at the Pacific building, from May 24 to May 27.

For Friday night's affair the entire lower floor of the hotel has been donated, and there will be diversions, ranging from carlo to exhibition dances. Many reservations have been made for the evening, and it is expected that a substantial start for the fund will result. Tickets may be obtained either at Hotel Oakland, at Sherman Clay's or at Smith's Book Store.

TO ASSIST AT BAZAAR.

Many attractive east bay belles will assist in the Oakland booth at the German relief bazaar opening in San Francisco's auditorium next Friday, and a number of well-known matrons are also working zealously for the big war benefit. Mrs. Theodore Gier is one of the active workers. Others in charge of booths are Mrs. Ida Burzinger, Mrs. C. Alfa, Mrs. L. Hinck, Miss Marie Harding, Mrs. F. Glando, Mrs. Wendtland, Mrs. C. G. GARIS' BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"What are you going to have for dinner today?" asked Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, of Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper, one morning, as he arose from the breakfast table.

"My goodness me sakes alive, and some lollypop ice cream cones!" cried Nurse Jane. "You are talking about dinner, and here it is only just after breakfast!"

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, "I like to know, ahead of time, what I am going to eat and then I can be thinking about it."

"I see!" laughed Nurse Jane. "One thing you can be thinking about is elderberry pie. If you will get me some berries off the elder bush I'll make a pie."

"Good!" cried the bunny uncle. "I'll do it. If there is one thing more than another that I love it is elderberry pie. I'll go off to the woods at once and gather some. Oh, me! Oh, my Elderberry pie."

And doing a little hop, skip and a jump, with his red, white and blue striped barber pole rheumatism crutch that Nurse Jane had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk, Uncle Wiggily went elderberrying.

An elderbush is one that has big clusters of white flowers on it, and after a while the flowers turn into black colored berries. Uncle Wiggily soon found an elder bush, which very kindly said the bunny gentleman might pick as many berries as he wanted for a pie.

"And you can break off some of my branches, or stalks, if you like, too," went on the bush.

"Thank you," answered the bunny uncle politely, "but I think I have no use for any of your branches. Are they good for anything special, besides bearing green leaves, flowers and berries?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," answering the elder bush. "My stalks are filled with a soft pith, or white stuff, just like inside a cornstalk and when you push this pith out with a stick, hatpin or a knitting needle, you have left a hollow tube like a macaroni stick, or a putty blower."

As the bunny uncle did not, just then, need a hollow stick, he did not take any. But he picked his pailful of elderberries, which Nurse Jane made into a lovely pie. "If you will excuse me I will not write any more about the elderberry pie, for it makes me so hungry to think of it that I feel just like leaving my typewriter to skip rope or play marbles, while I go out, myself, after elderberries as I did when I was a boy.

"That is certainly very fine pie," said Uncle Wiggily at dinner, as he ate his third piece. "If you don't mind I should like to take some over to Grandfather Goosey Gander."

"Do so, by all means," said Nurse Jane, so she put a piece of the elderberry pie in a dish, and Uncle Wiggily took it over to his goose gentleman friend.

Uncle Wiggily had a nice time at Grandpa Goosey Gander's house, and that night on his way home, the bunny uncle passed the hollow tree where Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys, lived. Out in front of the tree was Mrs. Bushytail, the squirrel lady, and she looked very sad and anxious.

"Why, what is the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily, kindly. "May I not have the pleasure of helping you?"

"I wish you could," said the squirrel boy's mother. "But you know Johnnie and Billie both have the measles. They are almost well now, but they are fretful and they want many things to play with. Just now they want popguns, but it is so late all the stores are closed, and I don't know how in the world to get the popguns for them."

"Let me think a moment!" said Uncle Wiggily.

The bunny uncle thought for a little while, and then he said:

"How can you, when the stores are closed?" asked Mrs. Bushytail.

"Easily," answered Uncle Wiggily. "A popgun is only a hollow stick, with a cork in one end. In the other end you push another stick, and it squeezes the air inside like a spring, until the air pops out the cork. Now you have some corks in the tree-house, I know, and I can easily whittle out a round stick."

"Yes, but what about the hollow tube?" asked Mrs. Bushytail.

"I will get it off the elder bush!" cried the bunny uncle and quickly he hopped to where that day he had gathered berries for his pie. It was getting dark, but he easily found the bush.

Quickly he took two nice round stalks, which the elder bush gave him, and he easily pushed the soft, white pith out from inside. Then, hurrying to the squirrel house, he put corks in the ends of the hollow elder bush tubes, and when Billie and Johnnie shaved thin, round sticks in the other ends—"Pop! Pop!" went the corks, shooting out across the room.

"Oh!" cried the squirrel boys in delight, "these are as good popguns as we could buy in the store. Thank you, Uncle Wiggily."

"And you must also thank the elder bush," said the bunny gentleman, and Billie and Johnnie did when they were over the measles. So if the spool of thread doesn't roll down stairs and trip up the pin cushion when it is going to sleep I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's ear-rings.

Policewoman at Charities Meeting

Alice S. Wells Tells of City Work

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17.—The closing day of the National Conference of Charities and Correction was marked by a program embracing diversified subjects, from a survey of the police woman movement to alcohol insanity in Kansas, a prohibition state.

"The Police Woman Movement" was discussed by Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, a police woman of Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Wells said in part: "It is now conceded by nearly all reasonable people that there is type of police work which cannot and should not be done by men and that there is left undone in any city which has no police women a vast amount of preventive police work in the interest of women and children.

SIX YEARS' RECORD.

"In the now nearly six years since Los Angeles appointed the first regular police women, twenty states have come into line—Maryland, Colorado, Texas, Pennsylvania, Washington, New York, Arizona, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Alabama, Indiana, North Dakota, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Louisiana, New Jersey, Missouri, Minnesota, Montana.

"When officers, especially detectives and plain clothes men must, in their round of duties, often go to the home of women and compel them to accompany them at once to the station. This may often occur at an hour when women are totally unprepared for men visitors; yet the officer's duty is such that he must keep them under personal observation, because the women might otherwise escape, attempt self-destruction, destroy evidence or signal to confederates."

"Social Work of Police Women" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Charles Carroll Brown of Indianapolis.

Speaking of a study of the results of special court hearings for women's cases in the Indianapolis city court and of probation work under the direction of the late Mrs. Eva Payne Hopkins, Mrs. Brown said:

MANY CORRECTED.

"Out of 478 cases investigated only forty-nine were fined or committed to the jail or correctional department of the woman's prison and, in the remaining cases, the investigation disclosed that the facts would not justify imprisonment and the court either suspended the sentence or withheld judgment. As a result of the investigation of 523 cases involving domestic relations, less than 25 per cent of the offenders were committe dto jail or workhouse.

"Under this system thousands of dollars were saved to the city and to the offending poor, but the greatest saving was in self-respect, courage and hope of the offenders and their uplift to better living."

"Borderlinity" is not a new disease. It is simply a classification of a large number of mental defectives who are not capable of passing well in ordinary society or even high enough in the social to be called backward, and who yet would not be relegated among the feeble-minded. This troublesome and little known class was the theme of an address by Dr. S. C. Kohs, head of a psychological laboratory at the Chicago city workhouse. He said in part:

BORDER LINE.

"By 'border line' is meant a distance or an area between whose limits there is an occurrence of both feeble-minded and normal types; below the lower limit all cases are feeble-minded, and above the upper limit all cases are normal. There is no line dividing the normal from the mentally defective.

"Our institutional experience leads us to the conclusion that a more earnest and more thorough consideration of the border line doubtful case by the public school authorities is absolutely necessary on one hand, and on the other, either the creation of a special department in institutions for the feeble-minded or the organization of an entirely new type of institution, such as is now in existence in Germany, in which these doubtful cases may be studied to determine the causes back of the condition."

Women in the News

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. Whether the will of Mrs. Mary A. Huntington, which is signed only with her initials, and not with her full name, is a legal and valid document, was a question submitted to Superior Judge Graham yesterday, and taken under advisement by the court. The will is olographic, entirely in Mrs. Huntington's handwriting, and Judge Graham expressed the tentative belief that it is sound.

Mrs. Huntington, who was a former wife of Henry E. Huntington of Los Angeles railroad fame, died in this city a month ago, leaving an estate of approximately $200,000. Under the terms of the will the bulk of the estate goes to four children, but generous bequests are made to more than a score of friends, distant relatives and former servants.

WIFE IS STYLED AS BOLD FLIRT IN SUIT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Andrey Jablons, wife of Dr. Benjamin Jablons, who recently returned to this city from war service in France, is as gay a Parisienne as any of the wives of the Faubourg St. Germain depicted in the Human Comedy of Balzac, judging from a divorce complaint filed yesterday by her husband.

The Jablons marriage was a war romance, the wedding having taken place at Paris March 9, 1915. Dr. Jablons, who is a reservist of the French army, had known his wife, who is the daughter of a prominent member of the French colony of New York, for several years. He visited the family in New York while en route to join the medical corps of the French army. Before he sailed the engagement was announced, and shortly afterward the prospective bride went to Paris and they were married.

After a year's service in the trenches Dr. Jablons was permitted to return to his home at 2266 Leavenworth street, where he installed his young bride.

Dr. Jablons says he became restive after his wife had laid down her first rule for his conduct, which was that he should never dare to come home during the daytime without first warning her by telephone on pain of being divorced.

When he objected to this his wife told him he must bear in mind that he was a "little runt," and much her inferior and that it was her inalienable right to accept the attentions of the many men who were infatuated with her.

He also alleges she said she intended to have affairs with many of her courtiers who sufficiently pleased her.

She insisted upon her right as a woman of fashion to smoke when and where she pleased. Her flirtations with these men, the husband says, cheapened both himself and wife in the eyes of all their friends.

BRIDE HAS FOUND LAWSON, DECLARED.

MONTEREY, May 17.—That she had practically located C. H. Lawson, who mysteriously disappeared last Friday after being rescued from drowning in Monterey bay, was the statement made yesterday by his bride of four weeks.

Mrs. Lawson returned last night from Watsonville, where she had spent two days looking for her husband. She declared that she had learned that Lawson left Monterey Friday morning.

Mrs. Lawson refuses to divulge what information she has.

ATTACK ON WIFE FOLLOWED BY SUIT.

PARIS, May 17.—While his wife and his stepdaughter lie seriously ill from wounds received at his hands last Thursday, George Washington Lopp, prominent New Yorker and officer of the American ambulance in France, has instituted proceedings for divorce.

Following his attack with a gun on his wife, who is known as "Lady Nicotine" to all the soldiers of France, for whom she has collected millions of cigarettes in America, Lopp, according to friends, tried to effect a reconciliation. When his wife flatly refused to consider any overtures, and was backed up in her stand by Sophia Machain, her daughter by her first husband, Lopp immediately began proceedings against her.

On what grounds Lopp will bring suit for divorce is not known here, though Paris was quick to see hints of a scandal in the story of a midnight fracas told yesterday by James Slevin of San Francisco, manager of a film company of New York and a papal knight who will become the husband of Miss Machain this week.

HORSES RUN AWAY; TWO WOMEN HURT.

STOCKTON, May 17—Frightened by an auto, a team of horses bolted on Park street yesterday. Mrs. D. Durce, 77 years old, and Mrs. Adalie Vangilord, who was driving the team, were thrown out and suffered lacerations.

TOURING EAST.

Mrs. N. G. Lindgren and her son, Wendell Lindgren, who are enjoying a several months' tour in the east, are being entertained by relatives in Chicago. Before returning they plan to stop at the principal cities on their itinerary.

Father Aids Her, She Reciprocates

So Both Are Divorced; Each Other's Witnesses

Father and daughter assisted each other in obtaining interlocutory decrees of divorce from their respective mates in hearings held before Superior Judge Waste yesterday.

Lincoln H. Davison, whose "advertisement" wife, Laura Moore Davison, failed in her efforts to obtain a decree from him two months ago before Judge Donahue, was granted a decree on the grounds of cruelty through the testimony of his daughter, Alla Hazelton.

Then, after that case was disposed of Davison appeared as chief witness in the suit of Mrs. Hazelton against Theron Hazelton. The daughter won her suit. Father and daughter left the courtroom together.

Davison met his second wife through answering an advertisement she placed in a local newspaper in her her efforts to obtain a husband. He was supposed to be wealthy. After two months of married life, in which she spent the time in what she designated a "hovel" on the West Oakland marsh, Mrs. Davison left her spouse and sued for divorce. The trial brought to light the fact that she had been previously married three times. The divorce was denied.

Then Davison, who is a retired plumber, brought suit through his attorney, W. B. Rinehart, charging cruelty. In the first suit Mrs. Davison's daughter by a former husband testified in her behalf.

WIVES AND MOTHERS

Have you ever stopped to realize how much the health of your family depends upon you? For instance, diet is a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again when any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that our local druggists, The Owl Drug Co., have a non-secret constitutional remedy known as Vinol which they guarantee for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it.

P. S.—In your own town wherever you live there is a Vinol drug store. Look for the sign.—Advertisement.

Famous Riders to Dare Death in Round-up

SAN JOSE, May 16.—A special invitation has been extended to Governor Johnson to attend the round-up to be held here July 1, 2, 3 and 4, and there is every reason to believe that the state's executive will be able to spend at least one day at the big ranch and range show.

President Louis Oneal today received a telegram from Senator C. B. Bill at Sacramento stating that the capitol city, Stockton, Marysville, Chico, Oroville and other cities in that section would send big crowds to the round-up.

Senator Bill and Alden Anderson, former San Joseans, are arranging for the excursion. The trip will be made in a special train.

Ben Van Horn, the wild-horse scout, is now out on a long trip which will take him through Stanislaus, San Benito and Santa Cruz counties and he had reported that he has located several bands of outlaw horses which will tax the skill and adroitness of the world's best riders who will be here.

San Leandro Pupils to Exhibit Products

SAN LEANDRO, May 17. — Three hundred children will give an exhibition of garden products, live stock, manual training, domestic science, drawing and other activities at the school fair to be held in the auditorium of the San Leandro grammar school May 26 and 27. Band concerts, folk dancing and singing will take place in the playground on both days.

Mrs. Norman G. Kelley of Berkeley and Mrs. James B. Smith of Burlingame, who are interested in the progress made by San Leandro's boys and girls in gardening, poultry and rabbit raising, will judge the exhibits.

Vegetables, fruits and flowers grown by the children on their own plots of ground and on the land donated as a children's garden by I. W. Hellman, San Francisco banker, will make an interesting display as will also the live stock raised by the pupils.

Chinese File Suit; Demand Big Damages

SAN JOSE, May 17.—Mrs. Allana McCabe, wife of R. E. McCabe, a young business man of Fresno, and J. R. Hale, her cousin, were made defendants in the Superior Court here today in a suit for $25,000 damages by the estate of the late Wong Wung, a Chinese, who is alleged to have been killed by Mrs. McCabe's automobile driven by Hale.

The defendants are grandchildren of the late William A. January, tax collector of Santa Clara county up to the time of his death and former State Treasurer.

The suit was filed by B. E. Kell, public administrator of Santa Clara county.

RICHMOND POLICE WANT EIGHT HOURS

Ask for Shorter Hours of Labor Under New Budget Now Before City.

RICHMOND, May 17. — Organization has been perfected by the members of the Richmond police department to make a showing to the city council for an eight hour day for the fifteen patrolmen employed on the local force. At present the police work twelve hours per day with two days per month off and start at a minimum salary of $90. The police claim that two additional men costing the city $2160 will allow for the change.

The movement has the endorsement of the Richmond Central Labor Council and Supervisor Zeb Knott has agreed to address the city council upon the subject on next Monday evening when it is planned to formally present the subject to the city boards so that the additional money can be placed in the budget now being made up.

Money Is Lacking; Lecture Is Stilled

SAN LEANDRO, May 17.—Public officials here and particularly Mayor A. E. Pelton, are speculating what sort of advertising San Leandro will be given in the East by Mrs. L. T. Langworthy, president of the Alta Mira club and delegate to the biennial convention of Federation of Women's clubs, who left today to attend the conclave in New York.

Piqued by the refusal of the town board to grant her the sum of $150 for a series of fifteen lectures to be given in the East Mrs. Langworthy offered the board her resignation as a member of the city's advertising committee this week.

According to Mayor Pelton the advertising committee at a recent meeting tentatively agreed the town board would be recommended to grant the sum requested. Since then, however, the trustees had been urged to give $750 toward an inducement fund to bring the C. L. Best Gas Traction Company to this city. Besides this disbursement the San Leandro band will receive $800 for its summer concerts. This left so small a surplus sum in the treasury that the board decided to refuse Mrs. Langworthy's request.

Mrs. Langworthy was to have sung the praises of this community in her lectures. With the withdrawal of the promised financial support these will not be delivered.

Defendants Winners in $24,000 Action

RICHMOND, May 17.—Judgment for defendants was rendered in the superior court last night in the $24,000 damage suit brought by J. Harry Plate, local realty operator, against his former partners, Isaac Lester and T. G. and W. H. Conn.

The suit started when the lease for a Macdonald avenue lot which was held by the four operators expired and it was discovered that Plate had leased the property over his partners. He then raised their rent upon a frame building which the four also owned and attempted to prevent the three defendants from moving the building. They moved on Saturday and Sunday and took possession of the structure.

Members of the Redman and the Clerks' Union attended the affair in a body and earned the thanks of the ladies for their generous patronage. A program followed the sale and the evening concluded with a supper served in cafeteria style.

Lodi Cherry Crop Damaged by Wind

LODI, May 17.—The unusual winds of the past week have done considerable damage to the cherry crop in this locality, by bruising the ripe fruit.

FASHIONS.

There are fashions in medicine as well as in millinery. The old time cathartic pills with their harsh drastic effects have gone out and it is high time that they had. In their place we have the mild laxatives and gentle cathartics of which Chamberlain's Tablets is one of the most popular. When the proper dose is taken the effect of these tablets is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize that it has been produced by a medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets also strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

CRUISER AGROUND; DAMAGE SMALL

Wireless Call Is Quickly Answered by Battleship and Cutters.

BOSTON, May 17.—The United States cruiser San Francisco now serving as a mine laying ship was aground on a shoal in Nantucket Sound for several hours early today in a gale during which it was reported she lost a whale boat containing eight members of her crew. The San Francisco floated later without assistance and was not greatly damaged.

Advices regarding the whaleboat and its crew are unconfirmed. Messages saying they were lost were received at two stations while officers of the Charlestown navy yard, which was in touch with the cruiser most of the time she was aground, said they had no word that any men were missing.

The San Francisco, bound from this port for Newport, R. I., was in command of Commander Reginald R. Belknap when she ran aground. A wireless call for assistance was quickly answered. The battleship New Hampshire and the coast guard cutters Acushnet and Gresham proceeded at once to answer the call. The cutters were on their way to the stranded cruiser when the message anouncing she had been floated reached shore.

S. F. Has Right to Cross Park; Long

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Mayor James Rolph Jr. last night received a belated opinion from City Attorney Percy V. Long that the supervisors have the authority to construct a street car line across Golden Gate Park whether the Board of Park Commissioners consent or not. The supervisors' resolution to construct the line is before the mayor for signature or veto. He had asked the city attorney for an opinion and when he learned yesterday afternoon that the opinion had been made public before having been rendered to him as requested, he sent a letter tinged with sarcasm to the city attorney asking for information. He received it last night over the telephone. The mayor has until midnight Saturday to decide upon his action.

Maude Ballington Booth Home Is Sold

SAN JOSE, May 17. — The last chapter in the history of the Maude Ballington Booth Home at Palo Alto was begun yesterday in the Superior Court when Alfred Seale filed suit to foreclose at $12,500 mortgage on the property. The buildings have been deserted since the State Board of Charities and Corrections ordered the institution closed.

Superior Judge Welsh, on application of the holder of the mortgage this morning appointed A. J. Engis of Palo Alto to act as receiver while the litigation is pending.

The receiver promptly took possession of the property and placed a caretaker in charge so that the $15,700 insurance will not be forfeited.

THERE are four reasons at least why Captain Charles H. Foley, veteran Oakland skipper, has no kick coming against the world in general or his own destiny in particular. Here they are—He will take out his old command, the former steam whaler now the barkentine Thrasher, next Tuesday for Sydney, Australia. His wife will accompany him on the voyage—that the Thrasher is so strong and seaworthy a vessel that she feels more at home on board than she would in any land home. Ship workers engaged in altering the Thrasher found caulking placed in the vessel thirty-one years ago still intact and in good condition, which is so unusual that they took part of the caulking home for souvenirs.

TO RETURN WITH COAL.

Following her alteration from a steam bark to a barkentine at the Pacific shipyards the Thrasher, one of Oakland's fleet of old whalers, is now ready for her trip to Australia. She will load ballast and dunnage at the shipyards today and tomorrow will be towed to Point Richmond, where she will load 20,000 cases of oil consigned from the Standard Oil Company to Sydney, Australia. She will probably leave this port next Tuesday. Captain Foley expects to make the voyage in sixty days.

If the Thrasher does it in less neither the captain nor her owner, H. A. Knowles, will be surprised, for the old whaler is one of the staunchest and fastest sailers of her build in existence. She was built at Bath Maine, thirty-one years ago. The wood used on the vessel was intended for a ship of 1500 tons and most of this was put into the Thrasher, ensuring extra strength. Although she was built as a steam whaler, her owners ordered her constructed on certain lines so she would be readily changed to a sailing vessel. Her graceful lines are evidence of the care taken in following this plan out. Her seams were so close and beautifully fitted that the caulking inserted when the vessel was built and which has not been since renewed, was undisturbed.

OLD WHALER UNDER SAIL
MAKES SPEED RECORD.

Captain Foley was master of the Thrasher during her last two voyages to the Artic as a whaler in 1907 and 1908. Returning from the Behring seas the whaler made 14 knots an hour under sail for several days, although her steam power was good only for seven knots. When the whalebone industry fell through the Thrasher, along with others of the whaling fleet, lay on the Oakland flats for several years until the scarcity of bottoms on account of the war resurrected the old ships. Knowles has sold the rest of his ships but refused to part with the Thrasher although recently offered $30,000. Two years ago she would not have brought $10,000. The Thrasher is 146 feet long, 32 feet wide and 17 feet draft.

An interesting feature of the voyage to Australia is the fact that Mrs. Foley is taking the opportunity to visit her relatives in Auckland, New Zealand, for the first time in twenty-five years. She will leave the ship at Sydney and will go on to New Zealand, later meeting Captain Filey for the return trip. The Thrasher will bring back a cargo of coal from Newcastle, New South Wales, for Honolulu.

HIGH WIND IMPEDES
ESTUARY SHIPPING.

A blustering wind made sailing difficult on the estuary yesterday for the smaller craft. The launch Imperial was unable to haul barge No. 3 of the Halverson Transportation Company against the wind and make any headway against the wind when towing barge No 3 of the Halverson Transportation Company near the Long wharf, and was assisted by the launch American of the Oakland Launch and Tugboat Company.

Rough seas and a high wind were responsible for delay in the departure of the tug Bahada, which will tow the kelp harvesting barge Baccus of the Hercules Powder Company to San Diego. The barge, which was built at Hanlon's shipyards, is now lying at the Franklin street wharf. The Bahada coaled at the Howard Company's wharf yesterday and will leave as soon as the weather is more settled. The Bahada was delayed six days on account of the storm coming up the coast.

STEAMER DEL NORTE
DUE IN OAKLAND TODAY.

The schooner Sophia B brought over 60,000 feet of lumber composed of wreckage from the Exposition consigned to the Pioneer Wrecking Company. More than 200,000 feet of lumber from wrecked Exposition buildings has been brought to Oakland recently and this is being stored on an empty lot at the foot of Clay street. Part of it will be used in building an apartment house.

Time and Height of High and Low Water

Note—In the above tabulations of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

MARITAL WOE IN MARTIAL TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The mystery behind the forthcoming court-martial of Lieutenant Colonel Ogden Rafferty, retired medical officer and Bohemian club man, has come to light in the divorce suits filed in Ohio and Texas between Captain James Lee Robinson of the army and his wife.

Captain Robinson obtained a decree from his wife at Palestine, Tex. She filed suit at Cincinnati, O. Their differences were taken into the courts over the custody of their 3-year-old son, Bobby Lee Robinson. The father desired to have the child. The mother kept him. The parents separated some time ago.

Underlying the marital woes and the martial hearing is the alleged intimacy between Mrs. Robinson and Lieutenant Colonel Rafferty. It is claimed by the husband that the colonel and Mrs. Robinson lived in the same apartments in Detroit, Mich., as uncle and niece during the summer of 1913 while Captain Robinson was on duty in the Philippines. Also depositions received by the court, are to the effect that they occupied apartments together in Los Angeles as uncle and niece from November 1, 1913, to March 31, 1914.

Love on the part of the father for his boy is said to have induced him to prefer the civil and military charges. Had the mother consented to giving up the child the charges might not have been pressed. The court-martial is awaiting the arrival of witnesses. Friends of Colonel Rafferty are confident of his vindication.

Laborers Work Better Under Name of Clerks

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Never again will there be "laborers" in the customs service. The men who have been "laborers" will still be there but now they are to be "assistants," "clerks" or "helpers."

Justus Wardell, surveyor of the port, has discovered, he says, that the title "laborer" is deadly to efficiency talk figured prominently. More complete designation of duties and offices was thought advisable. Wardell is the first official to act on this. In a report today he advocates greater chances for advances for the young man in the service.

PROFIT-TAKING IS FEATURE OF MARKET

Prices of Representative Stocks Show Both Advances and Declines

NEW YORK, May 17.—Indications of further profit taking were seen at the opening of today's market, prices showing numerous irregular advances and declines.

Motor shares, particularly Studebaker, were lower and Industrial Alcohol reacted sharply after scoring an initial advance.

Substantial gains in Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company suggested improvement in the Mexican situation and the strength of Mercantile Marines denoted further accumulations.

U. S. Steel and leading rails were barely steady at the outset, but hardened later with the balance of the list.

Dealings became more restricted after the early recovery. Studebaker extended its setback to over three points, with further pressure against Baldwin, Alcohol and Metal issues.

Reports of fresh marine disasters in the foreign war zone involving possible international complications were made the basis of heavy selling in the early afternoon.

Some standard shares and numerous specialties broke sharply, but rallies followed.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT.

Henry Clews—Intrinsic conditions sound and outlook continues favorable.

Hayden, Stone & Co.—We believe it a good rule to follow, to examine more closely than ever the record of companies previous to the war and to eschew the securities of those companies offered under these abnormal conditions.

New York Financial News Bureau—An outstanding feature of the market during the recessions is the ability displayed to absorb realizing offers. Repeated indications of buying of good quality are observed by well-placed brokers. We think purchases of good standard rails during the recessions will give satisfactory results.

WHEAT SAGGING DOWN THIS TIME

CHICAGO, May 17. — Suggestions that the damage from Hessian fly had about reached the maximum for this season had a bearish effect today on wheat.

Opening price which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜c lower with July at $1.17⅛ to $1.17½ and September at $1.17¼ to $1.17⅛, were followed by a slight rally, and then a moderate sag, all around.

In the later trading no important reaction took place in wheat. The close was steady, ⅛c to ⅞@1c net lower, with July at $1.16⅝@1.16⅝ and September at $1.16⅝.

Oats—No. 3 white, 43½@45c.

Timothy—$5.50@8; clover, $7.50@15.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. — Wheat steady, no trading. Barley firm. December, $1.36; May, $1.30 bid, $1.32½ asked.

EXPERT OPINION.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co.—Wheat market may continue to rule within narrow limits for the time being. We look for corn market to work higher. We are inclined to believe that oats will work higher.

Ware & Leland—We favor purchases of wheat on slight reactions. Corn shows a tendency to do better and we advise purchases on weak spots. Believe sales of oats on hard spots are warranted.

Lamson Bros.—Believe wheat is in a position to advance easily. The prospect of heavy receipts of oats from the northwest and other territory which regularly ship to Chicago operates against a strong bull market.

Finley, Barrel & Co.—Purchase of deferred months in wheat are favored. Prospects for an enormous oat yield in our opinion warrants lower prices.

Chevrolet

Motor Company Stock

The Company's present schedule calls for an output of 96,452 cars in 1916, and to date this schedule has been easily maintained. With this production, the company should earn over $8,000,000 in 1916, or about $40 a share on the stock. Already orders are being received from agents for 1917 deliveries, and invariably they call for larger allotments than 1916. It is estimated that 150,000 cars will be needed to supply next year's demand, and on this output the company should earn close to $70 a share in 1917.

United Kingdom Advances Clock

The London Stock Exchange has withdrawn its objection to the English movement to advance the clock one hour in order to "save daylight." It is understood that the Liverpool Cotton Exchange also has withdrawn its objection and that the new condition will go into operation on May 21 throughout the United Kingdom. The latter-named exchange recently cabled the New York Cotton Exchange, asking if the local body could open one-half hour earlier, but it is understood that the managers do not see their way to comply with the English request. Nevertheless, the entire subject is attracting active attention in financial and mercantile circles in New York. During the summer months the change would give opportunity for recreation among clerks. On the other hand, there appear no serious objections, as after the first day business would be conducted as usual. When the change was recently made in Germany there was no disturbance of any kind, exception the first day in the train schedules that overlapped the old to the new system.

Millions in Bonds Secured by Mortgage

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 17. — A mortgage executed by the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railway company (Monon Route) in favor of the Guaranty Trust company of New York and William L. Taylor of Indianapolis, trustees, securing the issue of $40,000,000 par value bonds, was recorded here today. The mortgage covers all of the property of the company.

RAILWAY MOTORS IN DEMAND.

An enormous demand for railway motors has attended the great boom in electric car orders during the last several months. The increase in demand over the same period last year is readily shown by the fact that approximately 1500 electric cars equipped with motors have been ordered in the United States and Canada from the beginning of 1916 up to the present time, as compared with only about 200 motor cars, or only one-fifth as many, for the same period in 1915. In describing an underlying cause for the unusual activity the following explanations find credence among the manufacturers: (1) Greater need for transportation in manufacturing centers owing to the war industries which have been developed; (2) recovery from the general financial depression of the previous year; (3) the purchase of extra amounts of rolling stock to compensate for the period of retrenchment; (4) anticipation to some extent of future needs on account of fear of delayed deliveries.

The bond market was strong with gains of an eighth and a quarter in all the securities traded in.

OIL AND MINING STOCKS

Goldfield issues were most active at the morning session of the San Francisco Stock Exchange with Jumbo Extension, which sold at 94 yesterday, gaining to 1.07½. Goldfield Consolidated was off two points to $1.00, with numerous sales of the smaller issues of the district.

The Tonopahs did not display much strength except in Rescue, which gained three points to 51. West End sold off two to $1.10 and Tonopah Extension was offered at $7.00 and Belmont at $5.00.

Prices were unchanged in the Comstocks to any extent except for weakness in Union, which brought the price down three points to 57.

In the Arizona list a new stock appeared for the first time when Boston and Jerome was offered at fifty cents and sold at 51, 53 and 54. This is the first copper proposition listed on the exchange for many years. The company owns property in the Verde district of Yavapai county.

Big Jim gained seven and a half points to $1.27½ and United Eastern unlisted was traded in at $4.30 and later at $4.40.

DU PONT POWDER.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Company will be held June 5 at Hoboken for the purpose of acting on the resolution of the board of directors to decrease the capital stock of the company from $60,000,000 to $4,000,000 by reducing the par value of 350,000 shares of common stock from $100 to $10 a share and by reducing 250,000 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100 each to 5000 shares of the par value of $100 each by retiring 245,000 owned by the company. This is the old du Pont company, which was succeeded by the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. last fall.

CALIFORNIA RICE ADVANCES.

NEW YORK, May 16.—W. J. Welisch & Co. say of California rice: California rice advanced 15 points in the last thirty days. This advance was brought on by one large mill in Louisiana purchasing 150,000 bags of California rough, which precipitated a wild scramble for the balance of paddy first hand. The price on paddy shot up from $1.60 to $2.05. Practically all the paddy is now out of farmers' hands. The entire crop probably will be sold within the next sixty days. Only two California mills are operating. Demand from Porto Rico is fairly good, but is restricted on account of no positive sailings from New Orleans.

PROOF OF ORIGIN NECESSARY.

Judging from some reports that have reached the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in regard to trade conditions in New Zealand, it would be highly advisable for American exporters to that country to supply certificates of origin with their shipments. The regulations incident to the enforcement of the "Trading with the-enemy act" and the general attitude of the New Zealand public toward goods of enemy origin are apt to give rise to complications, and American exporters should therefore make a special effort to prove the American origin of their goods. In the case of Australia, where a similar situation exists, manufacturers' invoices are accepted as proof of origin, and it may be assumed that such documents would be acceptable to the New Zealand authorities.

Cotton Prices Are Discounting Peace

When the munition shares or "war brides" begin to lose the public's interest because of the advent of peace, cotton will come into its own and in the opinion of the trade experts there is likely to be a very strong and active cotton market. Many expect cotton will reach the neighborhood of twenty cents a pound when the power's representatives finally sit at the peace table.

Already cotton is discounting peace, for the trade firmly believes that peace is in prospect; and some expect that it may come before the new crop is on the market.

The present movement in the cotton market, which has advanced prices more than a cent a pound and has taken quotation up to 13.56 on a basis of March, is not merely short covering, coupled with some important spot buying. It is beginning to bear the earmarks of accumulation of contracts by important market leaders who have excellent sources of information and who might well have advices from some of the chancelleries of Europe. Liverpool buying goes on steadily and has been in evidence for nearly two months.

That the south means to get its share of prosperity from the war is suggested by the stubborn holding of cotton indicated there. Even at the rise, cotton is not coming out in large quantities. There are no indications of a large increase in the acreage, in spite of predictions in bearish circles. The value of the south's holdings of cotton is well known in the south and prices would probably have to advance materially before cotton was offered freely.

Foreign spinners are avidly buying spots in the south at advancing prices, with Manchester a heavy purchaser of spots at many important centers. So far, however, there have been no actual signs of important German buying and firms with German connections deny the reports that they have been buyers of cotton for their people either before or in the recent advance.

Asbestos in U. S. Will Be Utilized

On account of restrictions placed upon the shipments of asbestos from Canada, which is the world's chief source of supply, attention has been given by the United States geological survey to the possibility of utilizing the asbestos deposits in this country to an increased extent.

In 1915 there was a great increase in the production of high grade asbestos in Arizona. The lower grade asbestos produced in this country comes mainly from Georgia. Both Arizona and Georgia are capable of increasing their output. Some years ago (1911) Vermont had a productive mine, largely in the chrysotile variety of asbestos, in the same belt of rocks that contains the rich deposits of asbestos in Canada. For the last few years the mine has not been in operation, but as a result of the Canadian embargo it may again become a valuable source of supply.

Virginia in 1905 and 1906 produced a small quantity of low grade asbestos that is still used in the manufacture of a local asbestos product. The fiber is of the amphibole variety and slip-fiber type. It was quarried near Body Camp and hauled twelve miles to a mill at Bedford City.

CALIFORNIA PRODUCER.

There has been much interest in the asbestos reported from the Casper mountain and other regions in Wyoming. Some mills have been erected, but although there has been as yet no commercial production the quality of the fiber, in part chrysotile, is locally encouraging. Idaho has in the Kamiah region large deposits of material like that of Georgia. California has produced asbestos, generally of low grade, at a number of points.

On the whole the encouraging outlook in Arizona, which includes also the Grand Canyon region, with the possible resumption of production in Vermont and an increased production in Georgia, may be expected to make up at least part of the loss by embargo in Canada.

The United States marketed in 1915 1731 short tons of asbestos of domestic production, valued at $76,952. Compared with the production of 1914 this represents a gain of 454 tons, or 39 percent, in quantity and 306 percent in value.

RECLAMATION LAND SOLD.

Natomas Company of California has sold on terms 1100 acres of land, purchaser agreeing to assume cost of reclamation by subscription to bonds of reclamation district, making the price about $340 an acre. The transaction is important as fixing a basis of land values.

PAYING DIVIDENDS.

Sugar Plantation Company yesterday declared its first dividend at Honolulu. The disbursement is at the rate of 20 cents a share monthly and will be paid July 1. Announcement is made that these dividend payments will be continued.

Yukon River Boats Sail, Carrying Goods

DAWSON, Y. T., May 17.—The first Yukon river steamboats of the season sailed from Lower Lebarge yesterday. They are the Delta, for Fairbanks; the Washburn, for Iditarod, and the Nasutlin, for Dawson. All will take passengers, mail and cattle at Carmack's. The steamers are bringing general merchandise, including perishables, which was hauled over the ice on Lake Lebarge. The first travelers from the upper Yukon arrived here yesterday, having come down the river in small boats.

Wife Homesick; Divorce Result

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Six days after their marriage, February 23 last, Mrs. William Trownsell Jr., daughter of Byron Mauzy, told her husband that she would never be anything but a sister to him, according to a statement made yesterday by Trownsell, who is preparing to file a divorce suit on the grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Trownsell is 20 years old. Her husband is 24. She wept on the honeymoon, Trownsell said, and insisted on going home to her mother after the second day. Trownsell found himself locked out of his wife's room. He went to the Elks' Club to live after the sixth day and wrote letters seeking reconciliation. She refused to come to him. Trownsell said yesterday:

"We went to Del Monte on the honeymoon. We were supposed to stay for a week or ten days, but she cried for her mother and I took her home on the second day.

"We were going to have a house built and in the meantime I went to the Mauzy home to live with my wife. On the third night she said she did not feel well, and I sat up in an adjoining room all night waiting for her to send for me. There was no breakfast waiting for men in the morning. She did not appear and sent me no word.

"That afternoon I bought flowers and took them out to the house, but I was not admitted. I had no key. That night I went out again, but her door was locked. On February 29 she told me that she never would be anything but a sister to me. I said that I might as well go, that it was all over. She said it was as far as she was concerned.

"I wrote her twice, asking her to come to me and telling her that I would furnish her with a home that she would not be ashamed of. But she refused to come. This gives ground for my charge of desertion, which I intend to file at the allotted time."

BAPTISTS CONVENE TO DISCUSS WORK

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 17.—The Northern Baptist convention, which will mold policies to be followed during the coming year by the church, opened an eight-day meeting here today with thousands of delegates and lay visitors in attendance. The address of welcome by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist of Minnesota was responded to by officers of the organization, after which Dean Shailer Mathews of the School of Divinity of the University of Chicago, delivered his annual address as president of the convention.

Three general sessions will be held daily and in addition the various corresponding societies of the church will hold sectional meetings for the discussion of such questions as domestic and foreign missionary work, evangelistic work, Bible class study, church co-operation and religious education.

The convention proper will defote considerable time to reports on the progress of the five-year program adopted by the convention in Los Angeles last year. This program called for 1,000,000 accessions by baptism to the church, a $2,000,000 endowment for retired pastors and missionaries, $6(000,000 for educational work, $5,000,000 for missions, 25 student pastors, 5000 American missionaries and 1000 students in Baptist seminaries.

Another question which will receive close attention is a movement to put greater emphasis on evangelism by the churches. Some leading delegates have said that evangelism of the sensational type was sometimes necessary to awaken congregations from their stupors of indifference.

Means of obtaining closer relations between the church as represented through the conference and the Baptist seminaries and colleges, and also between the Baptist church and missionary bodies and the denomination's publication organization, will be taken up by the convention proper, together with questions pertaining to the growing use of church buildings for schools in large cities.

From Burma, Ecuador, Russia, England and from many parts of the world, delegates and missionaries have come to attend the meeting of missionaries which will be held Friday. On this day, also, reports of missionaries will be submitted and proposals for changes in the methods of work acted upon.

The report on the result of the conference with the Southern Baptist convention which will be submitted on Friday, is awaited with interest.

The problem of the church in relation to Latin-American will be given careful thought by the convention, and two men who were recently in South America as delegates to a conference of Latin-American republics, Dr. Clifton D. Gray and Dr. Curtis Lee, will outline their views when the matter is taken up next Monday.

Mrs. White Is Back; Left "Just Because"

VISALIA, May 17. — Mrs. Anna Whitt, wife of Roy Whitt, a local business man, returned home as mysteriously as she disappeared April 30. Mrs. Whitt, her friends here believe, until today was the woman who committed suicide in San Francisco by walking into the ocean from the beach near the Cliff House. According to Whitt, his wife has refused explanations other than to say she went away because "she wanted to." Members of Mrs. Whitt's family say her mind became temporarily unbalanced following a protracted illness.

Electrically Operated
Player Pianos
From $575 Up

¶ Where dance music is required, no instrument so completely satisfies as the electrically operated Player Piano. No personal attention is necessary—with the modern "Hand-Played Rolls" it is simply a matter of attaching to a light socket, putting in the roll and turning on the switch. The music is then played with the proper tempo and with the correct interpretation.

¶ One can sit at this same Player Piano and operate the interpretation levers to suit the fancy; also operate the instruments by foot power as well. The instrument can be played by hand as a Piano, if desired.

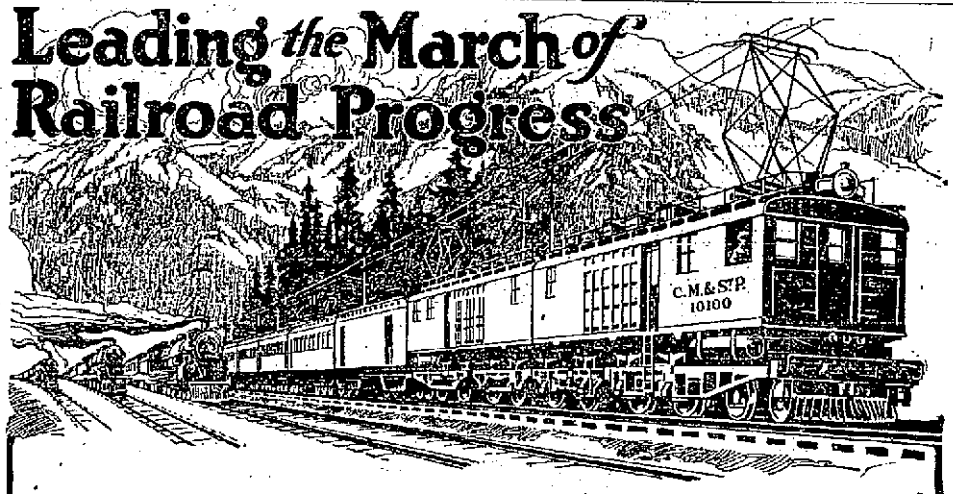
Leading the March of Railroad Progress



The Milwaukee Road Again to the Fore

Makes Mountain Travel Clean and Mountain Vistas Clear

Achievements in the railroad world have been manifold and splendid. In this great work the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul since its inception has been a leader. It is particularly fitting, therefore, that this railway should accomplish the first extensive main line electrification in the world. For 440 miles from Avery, Idaho, to Harlowton, Mont., across the Bitter Root, Rocky and Belt Mountains, this railway has electrified its main line.

This colossal undertaking has claimed the attention of the nation. The giant electric locomotives, fed with the limitless energy of mountain streams, the marvel of regenerative braking on down grades, the increased efficiency and economy of operation and the notable increase in travel delights, appeal alike to engineers, scientists and the traveling public.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

On your next trip East travel via the Pacific North Coast, thence take either the all-steel "Olympian" or "Columbian" over the great electrical highway. Equipment, roadbed, scenery and service all combine to make this the premier transcontinental route, between Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and Chicago.
